Johnston Reports Program Against Inflation in Peril

Snowbound Freighters Prepare to Leave Town

Eighty-six freight trucks and about 100 other vehicles (shown here in part), carrying goods worth an estimated $1,000,000, prepare to form a convoy on Highway 30 at Nevada, Iowa, after being snowbound for a night. The convoy was led by a large snowplow (not shown) and a state police car. Drifting snow has had east-west highways closed in Iowa since March 11. Nevada merchants reported business booming as the result of the unexpected guests. Photo by Don Ultang of the Des Moines Register and Tribune. (AP Wirephoto)

Regents Endorse Teacher Pay Plan Minimum of $500

Limit on Forces Cut From Bill

House Committee Head Says Vote 18 to 15 in Support

Washington, March 15 (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee today knocked out of its military manpower bill the 4-million-man limit on the size of the armed forces.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said the vote was 18 to 15 in support of a move he made to strike the ceiling from the committee's bill to widen the draft and set up universal military training.

The action was taken in closed session.

Any limit on the size of the armed forces has been opposed by President Truman and military leaders, but the 4-million man ceiling was passed by the Senate.

Vinson said the House committee rejected, 9-24, an earlier amendment by Rep. Short of Missouri, ranking Republican member, to impose a 3,200,000 man ceiling.

The committee also rejected an amendment by Rep. Norblad (R-Ore.) to limit the size to 3,500,000.

Will Report Situation

Paris, March 15 (AP)—Western delegates are expected to tell Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today why they cannot accept—at least without modification—newly worded proposals he made yesterday for Big Four foreign ministers talks. Gromyko reworded two of the Soviet Union's original suggestions for an agenda and accepted the western wording for a third item concerning German unity and preparations for a German peace treaty.

Perl Pleads Innocent

New York, March 15 (AP)—A Columbia University physics instructor pleaded innocent today to an indictment charging he lied to a federal grand jury which indicated three persons now on trial on charges of atomic espionage. The instructor, William Perl, 32, a jet propulsion scienteist consulted briefly with his lawyer before he told Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard "I wish to plead not guilty."

Partridge Nominated

Tokyo, March 15 (AP)—Far East Air Forces Headquarters today said Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge, U. S. Fifth Air Force commander, has been nominated for temporary rank of lieutenant general by President Truman.

Dock Street Reopens; Was Closed for Leak

Dock street was reopened to traffic today after being closed since Tuesday because of a dangerous condition caused by the leaking of gasoline from a 10,000-gallon tank in the rear of the Forst Packing Company building.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today that when the leak was reported Tuesday morning the tank held 7,500 gallons of gasoline.

A test with equipment of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., indicated that gasoline was leaking into an open drain and running into the Rondout creek. Tests proved that it was a "highly explosive mixture," the chief said.

The oil company was notified and the gasoline was pumped from the tank which was removed to be replaced by a new one. The street was closed until this was done, the chief said, because of extremely hazardous condition.

Only Those at Present Getting Bottom Wage Would Get Full Amount

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The Dewey administration's $20,500,000 program for boosting teachers' minimum pay schedules by $500 received last minute endorsement today from the Board of Regents and headed for legislative approval.

The Senate's Republican chiefs, expecting scattered Democratic protests, moved for a quick vote to clear the way for final Assembly action, possibly late today.

The Regents' endorsement came from Chancellor John P. Myers. He lauded Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore's special committee for drafting the program, and said the legislation would help recruit new teachers for understaffed schools.

The two bills would revise the 1947 Feinberg salary law to provide the basic $500 increase, and give the teachers a $100 cost-of-living bonus for the current school year.

Only teachers who are now receiving the minimum salary as set by the Feinberg law would be given the full $500 increase. The bill does not require that the full amount be given to those whose pay already is higher than the minimum.

Bills Go to Dewey

As the weary legislators culled through hundreds of bills in the drive toward final adjournment, probably tomorrow, Governor Dewey received measures that would:

1. Permit the State Power Authority to include the Niagara river in the state's public power development program. The Assembly completed action on the bill yesterday. Two Buffalo Democrats, Philip V. Baczkowski and Frank J. Caffery, voted with the solid Republican majority to pass it, 87-59. Under present law, the power authority may deal only with the St. Lawrence river.

2. Create a temporary, five-member state commission to study methods of settling present differences between the state and the federal government over welfare programs, Dewey and Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, have been feuding over details of administering jointly financed programs.

Diesel Tax Bill Sent

3. Boost the present four cent-a-gallon state tax on Diesel motor fuel to six cents. This is expected to net the state an additional $500,000 a year in revenue.

4. Clear the way for construction of the proposed $50,000,000 Tappan Zee Bridge to carry the state Thruway over the Hudson river between South Nyack and Tarrytown.

Under present law, the state has an agreement with bondholders of existing and authorized Hudson river bridges that no competitive crossings will be built between the New York city line and a point 15 miles north of the Rip Van Winkle span at Catskill.

The bill, which gained final approval in the Assembly yesterday, would move the southern boundary of this restricted area from New York city to the Bear Mountain Bridge near Peekskill.

Another bridge measure cleared in the Assembly and sent to Dewey would direct the state public works superintendent to prepare plans and make preliminary surveys for a Hudson river span at Newburgh. The Legislature provided $50,000 for the preliminary work.

Part Clears Senate

Part of the Dewey administrations' program for teachers' salaries cleared the Senate yesterday. It would provide $8,000,000 April 1 to give teachers the $100

Agent Says Dope Smuggling Gained From Italy in '47

Influx Increased After Luciano Was Sent Back to Native Country

New York, March 15 (AP)—Narcotics smuggling into the U. S. increased one year after Vice King Charles "Lucky" Luciano was deported to Italy, Senate crime probers were told today.

Samuel Levine, an agent for the U. S. Bureau of Narcotics, testified that the flow of illegal drugs from Italy began rising sharply in 1947.

"Was this one year after one Luciano was deported to that country?" the witness was asked.

"Yes," he said.

Levine, the first witness on the fourth day of the committee's New York hearings, did not give Luciano's full name. But the one-time U. S. underworld power for years has been connected with the narcotics traffic.

Named as Czar

The committee recently named him as the long-distance czar, or intermediary, between a Chicago crime syndicate and a New York-New Orleans crime axis ruled by Gambler Frank Costello.

Tracing narcotics operations in the U. S., Levine said 1936 bureau records showed that a "mob" headed by Thomas Luchese controlled distribution in this key port city.

The mob, he said, had sources of supply in Mexico and California. Mass arrests here and in Arizona partially cracked this operation in late 1941, he said. Luchese escaped punishment, he added.

Television cameras, whose lights played over the hearing room, did not show Levine on the screen at the request of the Narcotics Bureau.

Costello, threatened with possible perjury charges as a result of conflicting testimony over telephone wiretaps, is slated to be called later today.

Bals Testifies

Following Levine, the former head of the New York city police anti-rackets squad, Frank C. Bals, testified he never ordered investigations of well-known racketeers.

Bals, named a seventh deputy police commissioner during the administration of former Mayor William O'Dwyer, said he knew un-

Russia Told U.S. Rearms To Stop War

Nation Also Prepares to Meet Conflict if It Is Forced Upon Us, Truman Says

Challenges Reds

Communists Are Asked Again to Agree on Atomic Controls

Key West, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Russia had notice today from President Truman that the United States is rearming primarily to prevent war but also "to meet such a conflict if it is forced upon us."

He again challenged the Communists to agree upon a foolproof control of atomic and other weapons to enable the world to find peace.

Until this is done, he said, "it is essential to our national security that we build up our defenses as quickly and vigorously as possible."

Mr. Truman gave this definition of the United States' rearmament program in a letter made public at the Little White House here last night:

"It is, above all, an effort to prevent a world conflict, while at the same time it is an effort to prepare our defenses to meet such a conflict if it is forced upon us. What we are striving for is peace and international order."

Addressed To Flanders

The letter was addressed to Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) and a bi-partisan group of Senators and Representatives who wrote him Feb. 26 suggesting he propose the lifting of the iron curtain, complete disarmament under the United Nations and immediate establishment of a U.N. police force.

Mr. Truman may have something further to say on the tense international situation at a news conference at 3:30 p. m. (E.S.T.).

He invited reporters over to the Presidential quarters for a conference on the lawn — his first meeting with the press since he flew here from Washington March 2.

Restates Proposal

In his letter to the Flanders group, Mr. Truman restated the disarmament proposal he made to the United Nations General Assembly in a speech Oct. 14.

"A program of disarmament must include all kinds of weapons, must have unanimous agreement of all nations having substantial armaments and armed forces and must be so thoroughly and continuously policed as to be foolproof."

He cited repeated Russian refusal to accept any agreement involving international inspection. He said this refusal made any such program impossible.

"At the same time that the Soviet Union has been following a course of obstruction in the

Washington Sees Much Hard Work

Washington, March 15 (AP)—So far as official Washington can judge, there is still a lot of hard fighting ahead in Korea.

The Chinese Communists have not yet taken sufficient punishing to show any interest in making an acceptable political settlement.

Furthermore, despite front-line reports of Communist retreats and the reconquest of Seoul, some bitter battles may have to be fought by the United Nations forces before they come up to the 38th parallel across the peninsula.

If and when they do reach the parallel the U.N. command has ample authority to push on across in accordance with military requirements.

Move Is Underway To Put Woodstock In New Bank Area

Legislative Action Would Change District and Remove Kingston From Situation

An act to amend Section 3 of the State Banking Law to exclude the town of Woodstock from the Third Banking District and include it in the Fourth Banking District has been introduced in the Senate. The act was introduced by the Committee on Rules, read twice and committed to the Committee on Finance.

If the act becomes law, and it must be approved Friday prior to the adjournment of the Legislature, it would affect local banking houses to the extent that it would be impossible for a local bank to open a branch bank in the town of Woodstock.

Some time ago there was a report that a local bank was interested in the establishment of a branch bank in Woodstock. At that time the State of New York National Bank was mentioned as the bank interested.

No Comment Locally

President John H. Saxe of the State of New York Bank was contacted this morning and he said he had heard of the proposal to remove the town of Woodstock from this banking district but he had "no comment" to make.

The Kingston Trust Company, which operates a branch on Broadway, was also contacted. An official of the bank said he had not heard of the proposed legislation and had no comment to make.

The act was introduced on Tuesday and under the rule cannot be acted upon for three days. This would place the proposed amendment on the closing day of the session for action.

Must Stay in District

Under the law no bank may operate a branch bank outside its own district and should the act become law Kingston or any other bank in the Third Banking District

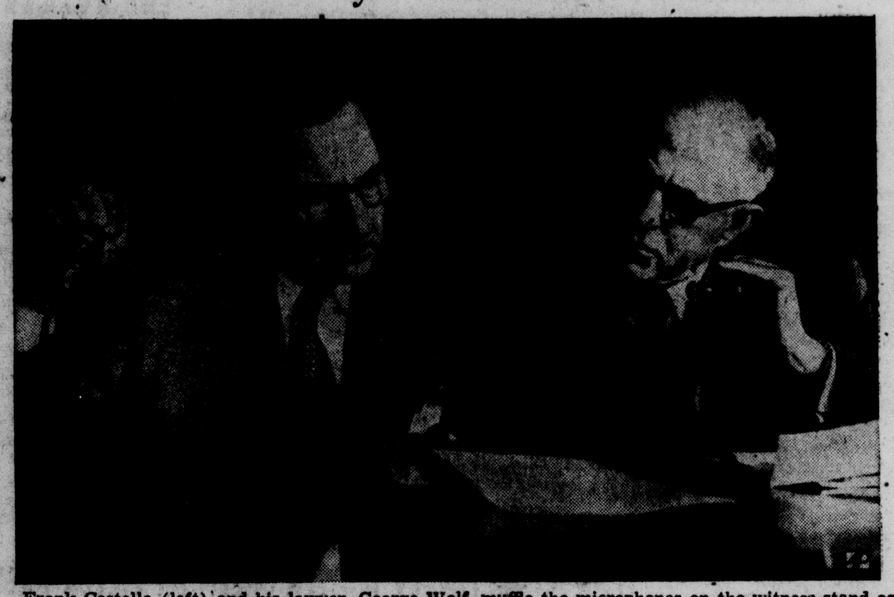
Costello and Lawyer Hold Private Conference



Frank Costello (left) and his lawyer, George Wolf, muffle the microphones on the witness stand as they confer during the second day's questioning of Costello at Federal Court, New York city, March 14, by the Kefauver committee investigating crime. Wolf formally objected to the use of a transcription of tapped 1943 telephone conversations between Costello and others on the ground that their use was illegal under federal law. The objection was overruled by Sen. Herbert R. O'Conor, of Maryland, presiding at the hearing.

Insurance Costs Drop in February, Figures Indicate

Number Receiving Benefits Is 40 Per Cent Below Year Ago; 1,290 Given Help

Unemployment insurance benefits paid Ulster county residents in February averaged 40 per cent under the number of benefits paid in February a year ago, according to figures released today by the Department of Labor's division of placement and unemployment insurance.

A weekly average of 1,290 persons received unemployment insurance in Ulster county in February, 1951, compared to an average of 2,088 the same month in 1950. Of the total, 877 weekly payments were made this year in Kingston, compared to 1,528 in this city a year ago.

The Kingston office and its branches placed 142 persons in jobs in February, 1951, compared to 101 placements in February, 1950. New applications were received from 169 persons last month, compared to 241 new job applicants received during the same period last year. The active file of job seekers decreased from 1,786 on February 28, 1950, to 862 on February 28, 1951.

Manufacturing Gains

The reduction in active file is due primarily to increased demand by employers in manufacturing industries, according to Anthony C. Hart, local employment security manager. This same increase in demand for unskilled and semi-skilled workers in manufacturing is expected to add to the scarcity of the farm labor supply of both local and migrant help this summer. Employment officials advise farmers to plan for needed help in advance and to consult Donald R. Munn, farm placement representative, as soon as possible to insure obtaining help.

The bulk of the unemployment insurance recipients were in construction and allied fields which were not in operation due to weather conditions during February. Construction projects are resuming with the coming of spring and a further drop in claimants is expected this month.

At the present time, the local employment office at 243 Fair street has a considerable number of openings for qualified clerical workers and applicants with those skills are urged to register, according to Hart.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The position of the Treasury March 13: Net budget receipts, $208,890,225.47; budget expenditures, $191,096,447.69; cash balance, $4,423,782,397.93; customs receipts for month, $25,417,554.79; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $28,510,834,745.42; budget expenditures fiscal year, $27,402,515,108.25; budget surplus, $1,108,315,637.17; gold assets, $21,950,587,665.06.

City Falls Without Shot, Despite Pyongyang Radio

Tokyo, March 15 (AP)—United Nations troops returned in force to Seoul today and searched the rubbled streets of the old South Korean capital for hide-out Communist soldiers.

The capital's remnant population of old folks and children cheered the return of the allied fighting men. Communists had held the city since Jan. 4, their second occupation of the war.

All along the Korean front, allied troops surged northward on the heels of retreating Reds. At some points allied troops were less than 18 miles from the old Parallel 38 border to North Korea.

The big push was rolling toward Chunchon, Chinese stronghold eight miles south of the border in central Korea.

100 Allies Killed

The Pyongyang radio, in a broadcast heard in Tokyo, said 100 allied troops were killed and two tanks were destroyed in the Seoul "battle." It also claimed that six American aircraft were shot down over the city.

A.P. Correspondent Jim Becker reported that Red anti-aircraft fire knocked down three U. S. planes and killed at least one jet pilot Thursday in western Korea.

The F-80 flier was killed when his speedy craft was knocked out of the air.

Gypsy Gathering Upsets Hospital

One of Patients Believed Here in 1950; Their King Injured

A New York report today on the gathering of 400 gypsies in a Bronx hospital to visit two injured persons, gives the name of one, as John Mitchell, 45, of 1669 Park avenue, New York, who is believed to have lived for a short time in Kingston in 1950.

The Associated Press said that the hospital was cleared of several hundred gypsy visitors last night on instructions of their queen.

Three New York gypsies, one of them a tribal dignitary, were injured last Saturday in an auto accident. The one at the hospital was Mitchell and the other, Anthony Megel, 51, of 28 Avenue B. Their condition was described as good.

Their King Hurt

Former Hudsonian Pleads Innocent to Embezzlement

New York, March 15 (AP) — A church organist and former note teller pleaded innocent yesterday in Federal Court to an eight count indictment charging embezzlement of $4,187 by false entries in 1948 in the books of the state bank of Chatham, N. Y.

The plea was entered before Judge Henry W. Goddard by Roger Claude Van Deusen, 24, who was held in $2,500 bail for trial March 28, and was ordered fingerprinted.

Van Deusen, who was represented by Daniel Prior, was indicted on four counts listing specific amounts totaling $4,187, but Mrs. Florence Shientag, assistant U. S. attorney, said he realized about $8,000, through allegedly false entries in the bank books. He was a note teller at the Chatham bank from 1945 until last April when he was discharged, she said.

Mrs. Shientag stated that within about two years the defendant had owned nine automobiles. She said records showed that he spent $6,340 on autos, including original cost and turn-ins. As a note teller, his earnings ranged from $936 a year to the $1,920.00 annual rate he was getting January 1, 1950.

According to the indictment, which contained four other counts relating to the alleged false entries covering thefts Van Deusen wrote entries purporting to show that the Chatham bank's loans and discounts Sept. 9, 1948, were $1,051,643, instead of the correct amount of $1,500,743.43.

Born in Hudson, N. Y., April 20, 1926, the defendant attended Chatham High School and Business College in Albany, Mrs. Shientag said, and now resides with his mother in Chatham. Mrs. Shientag added that he had earned $9 a week as a church organist.

Needs Much Support, He Indicates

Economic Stabilizer Put Finger on Members of Cabinet for Giving Too Little Aid

Problems Cited

Deplores Attitude Shown by Big Groups About Defense Plans

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Eric Johston has told government leaders that the anti-inflation program is in distress and could flounder unless they give it stronger support.

Well-placed officials reported today the economic stabilizer pointed his finger at one cabinet officer after another in a top-level meeting yesterday, and accused each in turn of giving less than all-out backing to the stabilization program.

Johnston was quoted as saying that unless there is stiffened support from the White House and the cabinet, in Congress and in the mobilization command, the government might as well abandon its effort to stablize prices and wages.

The ESA chief made his impromptu appeal at a meeting of the DefenseMobilization Board. It is headed by Charles E. Wilson, mobilization director, and is made up of six cabinet officers and the heads of five important agencies.

Problems Listed

Deploring what he called unwillingness of any big segment of the economy—farmers, labor, or industry—to accept the sacrifices which the defense program demands, Johnston listed some specific problems besetting ESA.

Among other things, he reportedly mentioned the declared opposition of cotton-state senators to the new price ceiling on raw cotton. He mentioned also the signing by unions and employers of wage contracts which exceed the pay ceiling, with the implied or spoken threat of strike if the wage boost is not approved by the government.

A few hours after the meeting, Johnston turned down just such a pay increase—the 11 cent hourly boost granted to 220,000 AFL and CIO Packinghouse Workers by major packers on Feb. 8. It would exceed the ceiling by eight cents, Johnston said.

CIO President Speaks

The president of the CIO union, Ralph Helstein, promptly told reporters:

"There will be a strike later if this is not approved," he said the union feels free to strike March 26, but that a date will be set later.

Johnston told a news conference he will not tamper with the wage ceiling formula and will insist that such cases be handled by a three-sided board having labor, industry and public representation. Until labor and management agree on re-creating such a board, he said, he will issue no orders bulging the pay ceiling.

In his off-the-cuff lecture to the mobilization board earlier in the day, Johnston was reported to have been equally emphatic.

As the story was told by official sources, Johnston waggled his finger in turn at Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, Secretary of Labor Tobin, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Thomas B. McCabe.

Actions Fall Short

Addressing each directly, Johnston said their actions fell short of the country's need when their own fields of interest were affected—Brannan in connection with farm prices, Tobin on wages, Sawyer on business earnings and McCabe on credit financing.

The government's leaders have the responsibility, Johnston went on, to set an example for the country. The stakes, he said, are great—the success of the entire defense program.

After Johnston's talk, Secretary of Defense Marshall was said to have told the group he agreed fully. Soaring prices are increasing the cost of defense, lowering national morale, and jeopardizing the mobilization," he was quoted as saying.

The session of the board, which was set up to advise Mobilization Director Wilson, was given over almost entirely to the stabilization program, it was learned.

Restates Proposal

In his letter to the Flanders group, Mr. Truman restated the disarmament proposal he made to the United Nations General Assembly in a speech Oct. 14.

"A program of disarmament must include all kinds of weapons, must have unanimous agreement of all nations having substantial armaments and armed forces and must be so thoroughly and continuously policed as to be foolproof."

He cited repeated Russian refusal to accept any agreement involving international inspection. He said this refusal made any such program impossible.

Washington Sees Much Hard Work

Washington, March 15 (AP)—So far as official Washington can judge, there is still a lot of hard fighting ahead in Korea.

The Chinese Communists have not yet taken sufficient punishing to show any interest in making an acceptable political settlement.

Furthermore, despite front-line reports of Communist retreats and the reconquest of Seoul, some bitter battles may have to be fought by the United Nations forces before they come up to the 38th parallel across the peninsula.

If and when they do reach the parallel the U.N. command has ample authority to push on across in accordance with military requirements.

Move Is Underway To Put Woodstock In New Bank Area

Legislative Action Would Change District and Remove Kingston From Situation

An act to amend Section 3 of the State Banking Law to exclude the town of Woodstock from the Third Banking District and include it in the Fourth Banking District has been introduced in the Senate. The act was introduced by the Committee on Rules, read twice and committed to the Committee on Finance.

If the act becomes law, and it must be approved Friday prior to the adjournment of the Legislature, it would affect local banking houses to the extent that it would be impossible for a local bank to open a branch bank in the town of Woodstock.

Some time ago there was a report that a local bank was interested in the establishment of a branch bank in Woodstock. At that time the State of New York National Bank was mentioned as the bank interested.

No Comment Locally

President John H. Saxe of the State of New York Bank was contacted this morning and he said he had heard of the proposal to remove the town of Woodstock from this banking district but he had "no comment" to make.

The Kingston Trust Company, which operates a branch on Broadway, was also contacted. An official of the bank said he had not heard of the proposed legislation and had no comment to make.

The act was introduced on Tuesday and under the rule cannot be acted upon for three days. This would place the proposed amendment on the closing day of the session for action.

Insurance Costs Drop in February, Figures Indicate

Number Receiving Benefits Is 40 Per Cent Below Year Ago; 1,290 Given Help

Unemployment insurance benefits paid Ulster county residents in February averaged 40 per cent under the number of benefits paid in February a year ago, according to figures released today by the Department of Labor's division of placement and unemployment insurance.

A weekly average of 1,290 persons received unemployment insurance in Ulster county in February, 1951, compared to an average of 2,088 the same month in 1950. Of the total, 877 weekly payments were made this year in Kingston, compared to 1,528 in this city a year ago.

The Kingston office and its branches placed 142 persons in jobs in February, 1951, compared to 101 placements in February, 1950. New applications were received from 169 persons last month, compared to 241 new job applicants received during the same period last year. The active file of job seekers decreased from 1,786 on February 28, 1950, to 862 on February 28, 1951.

Manufacturing Gains

The reduction in active file is due primarily to increased demand by employers in manufacturing industries, according to Anthony C. Hart, local employment security manager. This same increase in demand for unskilled and semi-skilled workers in manufacturing is expected to add to the scarcity of the farm labor supply of both local and migrant help this summer. Employment officials advise farmers to plan for needed help in advance and to consult Donald R. Munn, farm placement representative, as soon as possible to insure obtaining help.

The bulk of the unemployment insurance recipients were in construction and allied fields which were not in operation due to weather conditions during February. Construction projects are resuming with the coming of spring and a further drop in claimants is expected this month.

At the present time, the local employment office at 243 Fair street has a considerable number of openings for qualified clerical workers and applicants with those skills are urged to register, according to Hart.

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The position of the Treasury March 13: Net budget receipts, $208,890,225.47; budget expenditures, $191,096,447.69; cash balance, $4,423,782,397.93; customs receipts for month, $25,417,554.79; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $28,510,834,745.42; budget expenditures fiscal year, $27,402,515,108.25; budget surplus, $1,108,315,637.17; gold assets, $21,950,587,665.06.

City Falls Without Shot, Despite Pyongyang Radio

Tokyo, March 15 (AP)—United Nations troops returned in force to Seoul today and searched the rubbled streets of the old South Korean capital for hide-out Communist soldiers.

The capital's remnant population of old folks and children cheered the return of the allied fighting men. Communists had held the city since Jan. 4, their second occupation of the war.

All along the Korean front, allied troops surged northward on the heels of retreating Reds. At some points allied troops were less than 18 miles from the old Parallel 38 border to North Korea.

The big push was rolling toward Chunchon, Chinese stronghold eight miles south of the border in central Korea.

100 Allies Killed

The Pyongyang radio, in a broadcast heard in Tokyo, said 100 allied troops were killed and two tanks were destroyed in the Seoul "battle." It also claimed that six American aircraft were shot down over the city.

A.P. Correspondent Jim Becker reported that Red anti-aircraft fire knocked down three U. S. planes and killed at least one jet pilot Thursday in western Korea.

The F-80 flier was killed when his speedy craft was knocked out of the air.

One of Patients Believed Here in 1950; Their King Injured

A New York report today on the gathering of 400 gypsies in a Bronx hospital to visit two injured persons, gives the name of one, as John Mitchell, 45, of 1669 Park avenue, New York, who is believed to have lived for a short time in Kingston in 1950.

The Associated Press said that the hospital was cleared of several hundred gypsy visitors last night on instructions of their queen.

Three New York gypsies, one of them a tribal dignitary, were injured last Saturday in an auto accident. The one at the hospital was Mitchell and the other, Anthony Megel, 51, of 28 Avenue B. Their condition was described as good.

Economic Stabilizer Put Finger on Members of Cabinet for Giving Too Little Aid

Deplores Attitude Shown by Big Groups About Defense Plans

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Eric Johston has told government leaders that the anti-inflation program is in distress and could flounder unless they give it stronger support.

Well-placed officials reported today the economic stabilizer pointed his finger at one cabinet officer after another in a top-level meeting yesterday, and accused each in turn of giving less than all-out backing to the stabilization program.

Johnston was quoted as saying that unless there is stiffened support from the White House and the cabinet, in Congress and in the mobilization command, the government might as well abandon its effort to stablize prices and wages.

The ESA chief made his impromptu appeal at a meeting of the Defense Mobilization Board. It is headed by Charles E. Wilson, mobilization director, and is made up of six cabinet officers and the heads of five important agencies.

Problems Listed

Deploring what he called unwillingness of any big segment of the economy—farmers, labor, or industry—to accept the sacrifices which the defense program demands, Johnston listed some specific problems besetting ESA.

Among other things, he reportedly mentioned the declared opposition of cotton-state senators to the new price ceiling on raw cotton. He mentioned also the signing by unions and employers of wage contracts which exceed the pay ceiling, with the implied or spoken threat of strike if the wage boost is not approved by the government.

A few hours after the meeting, Johnston turned down just such a pay increase—the 11 cent hourly boost granted to 220,000 AFL and CIO Packinghouse Workers by major packers on Feb. 8. It would exceed the ceiling by eight cents, Johnston said.

CIO President Speaks

The president of the CIO union, Ralph Helstein, promptly told reporters:

"There will be a strike later if this is not approved," he said the union feels free to strike March 26, but that a date will be set later.

Johnston told a news conference he will not tamper with the wage ceiling formula and will insist that such cases be handled by a three-sided board having labor, industry and public representation. Until labor and management agree on re-creating such a board, he said, he will issue no orders bulging the pay ceiling.

In his off-the-cuff lecture to the mobilization board earlier in the day, Johnston was reported to have been equally emphatic.

As the story was told by official sources, Johnston waggled his finger in turn at Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, Secretary of Labor Tobin, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Thomas B. McCabe.

Actions Fall Short

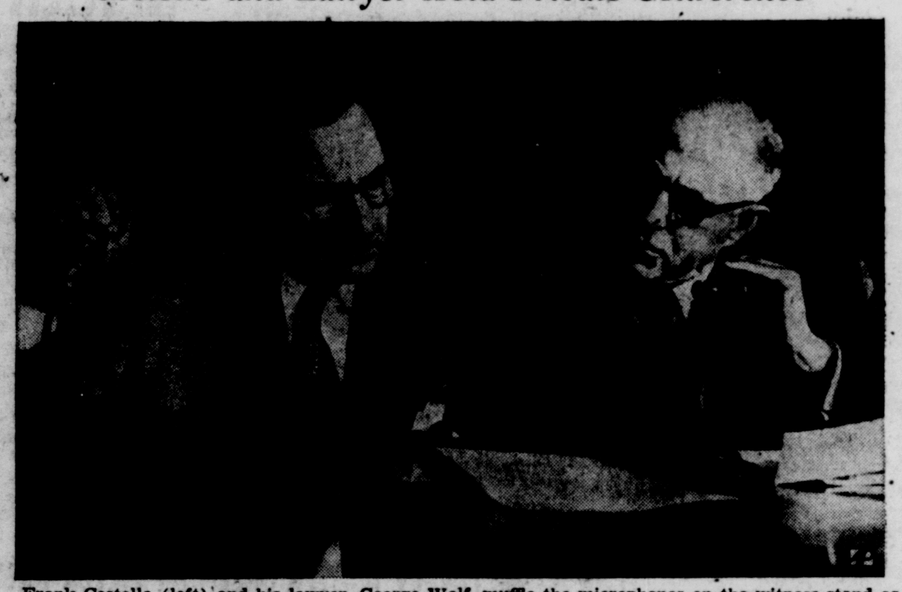
Addressing each directly, Johnston said their actions fell short of the country's need when their own fields of interest were affected—Brannan in connection with farm prices, Tobin on wages, Sawyer on business earnings and McCabe on credit financing.

The government's leaders have the responsibility, Johnston went on, to set an example for the country. The stakes, he said, are great—the success of the entire defense program.

After Johnston's talk, Secretary of Defense Marshall was said to have told the group he agreed fully. Soaring prices are increasing the cost of defense, lowering national morale, and jeopardizing the mobilization," he was quoted as saying.

The session of the board, which was set up to advise Mobilization Director Wilson, was given over almost entirely to the stabilization program, it was learned.

Costello and Lawyer Hold Private Conference



Frank Costello (left) and his lawyer, George Wolf, muffle the microphones on the witness stand as they confer during the second day's questioning of Costello at Federal Court, New York city, March 14, by the Kefauver committee investigating crime. Wolf formally objected to the use of a transcription of tapped 1943 telephone conversations between Costello and others on the ground that their use was illegal under federal law. The objection was overruled by Sen. Herbert R. O'Conor, of Maryland, presiding at the hearing.

Former Hudsonian Pleads Innocent to Embezzlement

New York, March 15 (AP) — A church organist and former note teller pleaded innocent yesterday in Federal Court to an eight count indictment charging embezzlement of $4,187 by false entries in 1948 in the books of the state bank of Chatham, N. Y.

The plea was entered before Judge Henry W. Goddard by Roger Claude Van Deusen, 24, who was held in $2,500 bail for trial March 28, and was ordered fingerprinted.

Van Deusen, who was represented by Daniel Prior, was indicted on four counts listing specific amounts totaling $4,187, but Mrs. Florence Shientag, assistant U. S. attorney, said he realized about $8,000, through allegedly false entries in the bank books. He was a note teller at the Chatham bank from 1945 until last April when he was discharged, she said.

Mrs. Shientag stated that within about two years the defendant had owned nine automobiles. She said records showed that he spent $6,340 on autos, including original cost and turn-ins. As a note teller, his earnings ranged from $936 a year to the $1,920.00 annual rate he was getting January 1, 1950.

According to the indictment, which contained four other counts relating to the alleged false entries covering thefts Van Deusen wrote entries purporting to show that the Chatham bank's loans and discounts Sept. 9, 1948, were $1,051,643, instead of the correct amount of $1,500,743.43.

Born in Hudson, N. Y., April 20, 1926, the defendant attended Chatham High School and Business College in Albany, Mrs. Shientag said, and now resides with his mother in Chatham. Mrs. Shientag added that he had earned $9 a week as a church organist.

Russia Told U.S. Rearms To Stop War

Nation Also Prepares to Meet Conflict if It Is Forced Upon Us, Truman Says

Challenges Reds

Communists Are Asked Again to Agree on Atomic Controls

Key West, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Russia had notice today from President Truman that the United States is rearming primarily to prevent war but also "to meet such a conflict if it is forced upon us."

He again challenged the Communists to agree upon a foolproof control of atomic and other weapons to enable the world to find peace.

Until this is done, he said, "it is essential to our national security that we build up our defenses as quickly and vigorously as possible."

Mr. Truman gave this definition of the United States' rearmament program in a letter made public at the Little White House here last night:

"It is, above all, an effort to prevent a world conflict, while at the same time it is an effort to prepare our defenses to meet such a conflict if it is forced upon us. What we are striving for is peace and international order."

Addressed To Flanders

The letter was addressed to Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) and a bi-partisan group of Senators and Representatives who wrote him Feb. 26 suggesting he propose the lifting of the iron curtain, complete disarmament under the United Nations and immediate establishment of a U.N. police force.

Mr. Truman may have something further to say on the tense international situation at a news conference at 3:30 p. m. (E.S.T.).

He invited reporters over to the Presidential quarters for a conference on the lawn — his first meeting with the press since he flew here from Washington March 2.

Limit on Forces Cut From Bill

House Committee Head Says Vote 18 to 15 in Support

Washington, March 15 (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee today knocked out of its military manpower bill the 4-million-man limit on the size of the armed forces.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said the vote was 18 to 15 in support of a move he made to strike the ceiling from the committee's bill to widen the draft and set up universal military training.

The action was taken in closed session.

Any limit on the size of the armed forces has been opposed by President Truman and military leaders, but the 4-million man ceiling was passed by the Senate.

Vinson said the House committee rejected, 9-24, an earlier amendment by Rep. Short of Missouri, ranking Republican member, to impose a 3,200,000 man ceiling.

The committee also rejected an amendment by Rep. Norblad (R-Ore.) to limit the size to 3,500,000.

Paris, March 15 (AP)—Western delegates are expected to tell Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today why they cannot accept—at least without modification—newly worded proposals he made yesterday for Big Four foreign ministers talks. Gromyko reworded two of the Soviet Union's original suggestions for an agenda and accepted the western wording for a third item concerning German unity and preparations for a German peace treaty.

Dock Street Reopens; Was Closed for Leak

Dock street was reopened to traffic today after being closed since Tuesday because of a dangerous condition caused by the leaking of gasoline from a 10,000-gallon tank in the rear of the Forst Packing Company building.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today that when the leak was reported Tuesday morning the tank held 7,500 gallons of gasoline.

A test with equipment of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., indicated that gasoline was leaking into an open drain and running into the Rondout creek. Tests proved that it was a "highly explosive mixture," the chief said.

The oil company was notified and the gasoline was pumped from the tank which was removed to be replaced by a new one. The street was closed until this was done, the chief said, because of extremely hazardous condition.

Only Those at Present Getting Bottom Wage Would Get Full Amount

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The Dewey administration's $20,500,000 program for boosting teachers' minimum pay schedules by $500 received last minute endorsement today from the Board of Regents and headed for legislative approval.

The Senate's Republican chiefs, expecting scattered Democratic protests, moved for a quick vote to clear the way for final Assembly action, possibly late today.

The Regents' endorsement came from Chancellor John P. Myers. He lauded Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore's special committee for drafting the program, and said the legislation would help recruit new teachers for understaffed schools.

The two bills would revise the 1947 Feinberg salary law to provide the basic $500 increase, and give the teachers a $100 cost-of-living bonus for the current school year.

Only teachers who are now receiving the minimum salary as set by the Feinberg law would be given the full $500 increase. The bill does not require that the full amount be given to those whose pay already is higher than the minimum.

Bills Go to Dewey

As the weary legislators culled through hundreds of bills in the drive toward final adjournment, probably tomorrow, Governor Dewey received measures that would:

1. Permit the State Power Authority to include the Niagara river in the state's public power development program. The Assembly completed action on the bill yesterday. Two Buffalo Democrats, Philip V. Baczkowski and Frank J. Caffery, voted with the solid Republican majority to pass it, 87-59. Under present law, the power authority may deal only with the St. Lawrence river.

2. Create a temporary, five-member state commission to study methods of settling present differences between the state and the federal government over welfare programs, Dewey and Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, have been feuding over details of administering jointly financed programs.

Diesel Tax Bill Sent

3. Boost the present four cent-a-gallon state tax on Diesel motor fuel to six cents. This is expected to net the state an additional $500,000 a year in revenue.

4. Clear the way for construction of the proposed $50,000,000 Tappan Zee Bridge to carry the state Thruway over the Hudson river between South Nyack and Tarrytown.

Under present law, the state has an agreement with bondholders of existing and authorized Hudson river bridges that no competitive crossings will be built between the New York city line and a point 15 miles north of the Rip Van Winkle span at Catskill.

The bill, which gained final approval in the Assembly yesterday, would move the southern boundary of this restricted area from New York city to the Bear Mountain Bridge near Peekskill.

Another bridge measure cleared in the Assembly and sent to Dewey would direct the state public works superintendent to prepare plans and make preliminary surveys for a Hudson river span at Newburgh. The Legislature provided $50,000 for the preliminary work.

Part Clears Senate

Part of the Dewey administrations' program for teachers' salaries cleared the Senate yesterday. It would provide $8,000,000 April 1 to give teachers the $100

Agent Says Dope Smuggling Gained From Italy in '47

Influx Increased After Luciano Was Sent Back to Native Country

New York, March 15 (AP)—Narcotics smuggling into the U. S. increased one year after Vice King Charles "Lucky" Luciano was deported to Italy, Senate crime probers were told today.

Samuel Levine, an agent for the U. S. Bureau of Narcotics, testified that the flow of illegal drugs from Italy began rising sharply in 1947.

"Was this one year after one Luciano was deported to that country?" the witness was asked.

"Yes," he said.

Levine, the first witness on the fourth day of the committee's New York hearings, did not give Luciano's full name. But the one-time U. S. underworld power for years has been connected with the narcotics traffic.

Named as Czar

The committee recently named him as the long-distance czar, or intermediary, between a Chicago crime syndicate and a New York-New Orleans crime axis ruled by Gambler Frank Costello.

Tracing narcotics operations in the U. S., Levine said 1936 bureau records showed that a "mob" headed by Thomas Luchese controlled distribution in this key port city.

The mob, he said, had sources of supply in Mexico and California. Mass arrests here and in Arizona partially cracked this operation in late 1941, he said. Luchese escaped punishment, he added.

Television cameras, whose lights played over the hearing room, did not show Levine on the screen at the request of the Narcotics Bureau.

Costello, threatened with possible perjury charges as a result of conflicting testimony over telephone wiretaps, is slated to be called later today.

Bals Testifies

Following Levine, the former head of the New York city police anti-rackets squad, Frank C. Bals, testified he never ordered investigations of well-known racketeers.

Bals, named a seventh deputy police commissioner during the administration of former Mayor William O'Dwyer, said he knew un-

Costello and Lawyer Hold Private Conference

Frank Costello (left) and his lawyer, George Wolf, muffle the microphones on the witness stand as they confer during the second day's questioning of Costello at Federal Court, New York city, March 14, by the Kefauver committee investigating crime. Wolf formally objected to the use of a transcription of tapped 1943 telephone conversations between Costello and others on the ground that their use was illegal under federal law. The objection was overruled by Sen. Herbert R. O'Conor, of Maryland, presiding at the hearing.

Former Hudsonian Pleads Innocent to Embezzlement

New York, March 15 (AP) — A church organist and former note teller pleaded innocent yesterday in Federal Court to an eight count indictment charging embezzlement of $4,187 by false entries in 1948 in the books of the state bank of Chatham, N. Y.

The plea was entered before Judge Henry W. Goddard by Roger Claude Van Deusen, 24, who was held in $2,500 bail for trial March 28, and was ordered fingerprinted.

Van Deusen, who was represented by Daniel Prior, was indicted on four counts listing specific amounts totaling $4,187, but Mrs. Florence Shientag, assistant U. S. attorney, said he realized about $8,000, through allegedly false entries in the bank books. He was a note teller at the Chatham bank from 1945 until last April when he was discharged, she said.

Mrs. Shientag stated that within about two years the defendant had owned nine automobiles. She said records showed that he spent $6,340 on autos, including original cost and turn-ins. As a note teller, his earnings ranged from $936 a year to the $1,920.00 annual rate he was getting January 1, 1950.

According to the indictment, which contained four other counts relating to the alleged false entries covering thefts Van Deusen wrote entries purporting to show that the Chatham bank's loans and discounts Sept. 9, 1948, were $1,051,643, instead of the correct amount of $1,500,743.43.

Born in Hudson, N. Y., April 20, 1926, the defendant attended Chatham High School and Business College in Albany, Mrs. Shientag said, and now resides with his mother in Chatham. Mrs. Shientag added that he had earned $9 a week as a church organist.

One of Patients Believed Here in 1950; Their King Injured

A New York report today on the gathering of 400 gypsies in a Bronx hospital to visit two injured persons, gives the name of one, as John Mitchell, 45, of 1669 Park avenue, New York, who is believed to have lived for a short time in Kingston in 1950.

The Associated Press said that the hospital was cleared of several hundred gypsy visitors last night on instructions of their queen.

Three New York gypsies, one of them a tribal dignitary, were injured last Saturday in an auto accident. The one at the hospital was Mitchell and the other, Anthony Megel, 51, of 28 Avenue B. Their condition was described as good.

Their King Hurt

Narcotics Bills Sent to Dewey

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Three bills designed to combat drug addiction among teen-agers were sent to Governor Dewey today by the Legislature.

The measures, introduced by Republican Senator Seymour Halpern of Queens, won final legislative endorsement in the Assembly yesterday.

Another would require that an addict committed for treatment under a voluntary application be held in the hospital for at least six months, unless certified as cured.

The third would make it a violation of the narcotics law to induce others to use drugs.

Challenged to Duel

Cali, Colombia, March 15 (AP)—Xavier Cugat, Romeo of the rhumba circuit, has been challenged to a duel by an irate Colombian journalist. The newsman, Hernan Mateus Becerra of the Bogota newspaper El Tiempo, declared his honor has been impugned because Cugat denied a story he wrote declaring the band leader and his current heart theme, singer Abbe Lane, were off the beat. The dispatch also gave details about the divorce suit which Cugat's present wife has brought against him.

Now, a Fourth Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt—

Elizabeth Donner — Ruth Googins — Faye Emerson

The couple is seen, at right, at Key West, Fla., just after she became a "free woman," and they announced their plans to wed. Elliott's three previous marriages ended in divorce. They were to: Philadelphia socialite Elizabeth Donner, 1932-33, one son; Ruth Googins, Ft. STATE INCOME TAX

Now that you have made out your federal income tax, the deadline for which return is tonight, you can proceed with your state income tax, which is due on or before April 16.

The Legislature and the governor have done a good job again this year by continuing the ten per cent reduction. State personal income tax and unincorporated business taxpayers will save more than thirty-six million dollars because of these tax reductions. The state income taxpayers will save more than thirty million dollars and the unincorporated business taxpayers will save an estimated six million dollars.

The state income tax is again payable at ninety per cent of the normal rates, which range from two per cent on the first $1,000 of taxable income to seven per cent on all over $9,000 of taxable income.

The net capital gain tax, reported with the income tax, also is payable at ninety per cent of the normal rates, which range from one per cent on the first $1,000 to three and one-half per cent on all over. $9,000.

The unincorporated business tax again is payable at three per cent. The normal rate is four per cent.

State income tax returns for 1950 must be filed by single persons who had net income and net capital gain of $1,000 or more last year and by married couples who together had net income and net capital gain of $2,500 or more.

We get a lot of aid from our state tax money because our state government is ably conducted.

DULLES DESERVES THANKS

John Foster Dulles has just given his country and the world a superb demonstration of capable diplomacy at work.

With very little fanfare, he went out to the Far East to talk about a Japanese peace treaty, not only affecting Japan and the U. S. but Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

When he came back, he brought the draft of a peace document, acceptable in its basic terms to the United States, Japan and our principal Pacific Allies. In other words, he has achieved the biggest single forward step toward a treaty since World War II ended.

This job was accomplished by Dulles and whatever staff he may have used. There were no widely heralded peace conferences in gilded government halls. There was no protracted wrangling over terms.

If the draft now on the table can be put into final form without losing any of the excellent harmony which exists among the prospective signatory nations, then before too many months have passed we should be formally at peace with Japan.

It is notable that this country and the others involved propose to move toward a final settlement in the same way they have proceeded thus far: using normal diplomatic channels. Once again, therefore, the too often fruitless big conference will be avoided.

Russia, of course, has no part in these negotiations. The Kremlin has blocked every attempt to attain a Japanese settlement. If it were now invited to participate, it would simply sabotage the discussions by raising impossible demands.

East-West relations in Asia have deteriorated too much for the Soviet Union even to be considered. The only issue in the Orient is how to resist marauding communism, not how to negotiate with it.

That fact is reflected in the terms we and the Japanese are agreed to in the treaty draft brought back by Dulles. Of their own will, the Japs wish to accord us bases for our armed forces in the Japanese islands. This means that Japan is definitely aligned on the side of the West, indeed, considers itself virtually within the American orbit of defense.

It is heartening to find this positive, hopeful element in an area so confused and generally discouraging as the Far East. Japan's industrial might is a key factor there; wisely employed it can do much to lift up the whole of Southeast Asia. But in Communist hands it would be a strong lever pushing the region toward Red oblivion.

A formal treaty with Japan crystallizing this hopeful relationship is earnestly to be desired. For his crucial part in bringing such a treaty nearer reality, Dulles deserves the warm thanks of every American and every free man throughout the globe.

Hunting may be invigorating sport. But finding is important, too.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE DOWN-BEAT

Departing for a moment from the broad canvas which has become my daily chore, my mind turns to Miss Barbara Hutton, who also goes by the name of Princess Troubetzkoy.

I do not know the lady but I have for many years seen her picture in the newspapers, usually in relation to a marriage or a divorce or attendant circumstances. In fact, I have so often seen her face in the newspapers that I could conjure its lines from my memory. It must be grand and glorious to be a subject of news all one's life, although I am sure that no one in his senses, or hers, would invite so much attention.

I do not recall all the names that this lady has borne through several marriages nor why they should be interesting. I have been told that news about Miss Hutton's lawyers bargaining, in the newspapers, with the prince as to whether he is to have $3,000,000 or $500,000 for the lady to be relieved of him, is very important information and that many readers prefer it to my pontifications on world affairs.

Well, there you are. There is no accounting for tastes. After all, this lady's greatest contribution to current history has been her ability to marry a variety of men at different times, but in a sort of juxtaposition, and to get rid of them with facility.

It was so much easier in the time of the Borgias; they just poisoned those whom they no longer loved. Catherine the Great killed her outmoded or outworn lovers. But ours is a legalistic and journalistic age. Each collapse of a marriage needs to be legalized and publicized with plenty of photography. It is a mark of progress and civilization!

I have never quite been able to understand how all these stories come out unless they are given out. I have been in this business of reporting for 34 years, more or less, and I have yet to find that these intimate relations between a man and a woman make their way into the press unless the parties most concerned provide them. Of course, when they reach the police blotter or the law court, they are news. But when they are in the talking stage, someone must give the press a tip. It is usually a hired press agent. And I still wonder why anyone wants to have family disputes so advertised that they become front-page news.

Enormous amounts of newsprint were consumed telling of the fiery romance of the Troubetzkoys, with all sorts of photographs. I could not help thinking, as I noted these stories, that the principals were a little overage for the sort of playing around that was being described. It looked to me as though this red-hot business was for the 20's, when it all seems cute, rather than for middle-aged folks, when it seems bizarre.

Perhaps I am old-fashioned, and someone did say of me that I am to the right of Louis XVI, whose head was chopped off. But there used to be a dignity about middle-age that seemed gracious and it had nothing to do with red-hot press agent stories.

And now that very exciting romance has broken up and these pigeons are fighting over money. He wants $3,000,000 to quit and she will only give him $500,000. Also, it used to be the other way about. It was the man who paid off the gal, but in these days of equal rights and fair deals and such, it is the dame who pays off her lord and master. That makes a man a gigolo.

Really, why don't these people retire and get out of our lives? We had the Bergman woman and that fantastic Ali Khan person, but the perennial is this Barbara Hutton. All the time, for some reason or another, we see her face in the news in relation to a scandal.

There must be some place to which these narcissus-inclined persons may retire where they can look at their own pictures and read of their own romances, marriages and divorces to their heart's content.

And as I read this line, I wonder how it comes that I read so much about them and look at their pictures. There's a catch in all this, like everybody laughing when a fat man slips on a banana peel. The other fellow's troubles seem so funny, but that can become tiresome, too.

That Body of Yours

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

One of the advertisements that comes in the mail to all physicians is an illustration of a man just past middle-age, shoveling snow, and under the illustration is the word "DON'T." The man has high blood pressure. The illustration is advertising the merits of a certain drug which dilates or opens up the bloodvessels by releasing the tension on the elastic walls of the bloodvessels. By opening up or relaxing the walls, less pressure by the heart is needed to pump the blood through these relaxed vessels than when they are tensed.

Naturally I cannot mention the drug, not because it is not helpful but because there are other drugs available that will act similarly. However, some of the other advice in the advertising literature may be applied to all cases of high blood pressure and should prove valuable to high blood pressure patients, without interfering with the advice given by their physicians. In fact this same advice is given by all physicians in the treatment of this condition.

Cultivate sensible living habits, avoiding 'unnecessary' physical and emotional stress. We must all face some physical and emotional stress but we can avoid that which is unnecessary.

Don't worry about your blood pressure and ask your doctor to take it every time you consult him because the blood pressure varies hourly even in normal individuals and even more in those with high blood pressure.

Real relaxation—mental as well as physical—may decrease the systolic pressure (with cuff tightly inflated) as much as 40 mm. and the diastolic pressure (with cuff loosened) by 20 mm.

While many physicians advise strict dieting or reduction of food, all that is usually needed in high blood pressure is to cut down on table salt in and on foods. To many the trying to follow faithfully a reducing diet would so upset them that it would really increase their blood pressure if they failed to follow a very strict diet.

Another sensible suggestion is in the matter of exercise. Unless there are heart or blood pressure complications such as enlargement of the heart or very high diastolic pressure, light exercise is really advisable. In doubtful cases, exercise such as regular walks or light home or office duties, is advisable, if short rests during the day can be taken.

With the physician prescribing a drug or drugs to control blood pressure and the patient following sensible living habits, high blood pressure need not be dangerous.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—It's news when a Dixiecrat gets invited to the White House, particularly a dyed-in-the-cotton Dixiecrat like Rep. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, who figured prominently in the revolt against President Truman in the 1948 election.

However, Truman rolled out the welcome mat for the silver-maned South Carolinian the other day as though he were a long-separated fraternity brother. The story behind the unusual meeting is that the President wanted Rivers' support for the 18-year-old draft bill.

However, after a brief reference to the legislation, the two antagonists spent the rest of their meeting assuring each other that there were no "hard feelings" between them.

"If you are a big enough man to invite me down here, I'm big enough to accept the invitation, Mr. President," grinned Rivers. "In fact, it's a pleasure to accept."

"Some people have been saying that I don't like you and would never invite you down here, Mendel," responded Truman. "Well, it isn't so. I've never closed the door to you. I want you to know that it will be open any time you want to see me."

The President cleverly dropped only the merest hint that he was concerned about the fate of the draft bill in the armed services committee, of which Rivers is a member. However, there were no commitments on either side and the two men parted after a friendly handshake.

Dig at Truman

A sly dig at President Truman's letter writing was taken by Nebraska's rambunctious Ken Wherry during a heated argument with Senator Tom Connally.

At the Atlantic Pact aid hearings, Senator Wherry demanded exact figures on allied troop commitments to defend western Europe.

"Do you think we ought to call Mr. Stalin up every morning and tell him what we're doing?" Connally asked scornfully.

"If you're going to communicate with Stalin," Wherry whipped back, "I suggest you send a letter. That's the Truman way."

G.I. Gripes

Here is another batch of letters from servicemen, complaining about injustices in the armed forces. Periodically this column tries to answer the most serious G.I. gripes. Names are withheld upon request.

A Private, Camp Carson, Colo.—"We have received mass punishment, because some 'unknown person' fired several shots behind the barracks. For this, our company is restricted for an indefinite time. Men with their wives in the guest houses not more than ten minutes away, cannot even call them. We think this is unfair, as we expect to be shipped overseas soon."

Answer — A Camp Carson spokesman told this column over the phone that the incident "is purely a military matter and no concern to civilians." This is a dangerous attitude. As long as civilians rule this country, they have a right to know how their servicemen are treated and to correct any abuses. Meanwhile, under army regulations, a camp commander has the power to restrict a full unit for the offense of one member. In this case, the troublemakers were caught, the restriction was lifted temporarily, then clamped down again for another offense.

Mrs. C. H. Orum, Salem, Ore.—"My husband has been in Korea over six months. Do you have any idea when he will be allowed to come home?"

Answer—The marines are now sending combat veterans home on rotation. The air force has been sending some combat crews home and will adopt a formal rotation policy in May. Some navy men also have returned to Japan and the west coast with their ships, but no formal program has been adopted. The army claims it is still too short of replacements to start a rotation program. Meanwhile, scarcely a week goes by that General MacArthur doesn't cable for more men.

A Corporal, Somewhere in Korea—"My wife says she writes me every day, but I have been getting only about one letter a week. Where's the bottleneck?"

Answer—Under battle conditions, the mail can't always get through to the front lines. However, you'll probably find a big backlog of letters waiting for you when the army postal service catches up with your outfit.

New Orleans Mayor Perturbed Because Federal Government Snarls Industrial Situation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 15—If you were the mayor of a city and had the Chamber of Commerce and everybody else working together to bring new industries to your area and then the United States government came in and undercut you with what is plainly "cut-throat competition," you would be plenty mad.

Well, Mayor De Lesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans is mad and has carried the case to the Louisiana delegation in Congress and the delegations from other southern states. He declares that Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, government ownership champion, has broken the spirit as well as the letter of business practices in America by a decision to give the Aluminum Company of America electric power from the Bonneville power project in the Columbia river valley in the northwest at half price.

Although the Bonneville administrator announced in his annual report last year that there was no surplus power available and would not be until 1957, Mr. Chapman now has overruled his own executive and offered power to the aluminum company at about two mills per kilowatt, which is just about half what the New Orleans area could offer. The New Orleans mayor says, however, that this would not be possible except by a subsidy paid by all the taxpayers of the country.

In addition, the New Orleans mayor points out that, because bauxite and other ingredients are available only in the Caribbean area, the aluminum product will have to be sent 6,000 miles back and forth across the continent for processing. With the uncertainty of future freight rates, he says the end result will be that the final product will not be manufactured as inexpensively as it soon will be by a competitor of the aluminum company — the Kaiser Company, which is building a $79,000,000 plant in New Orleans and plans to use natural gas for power purposes.

If New Orleans loses out, it means that a $45,000,000 plant which the Aluminum Company of America would have built there will not be constructed. It's pretty tough for any mayor to lose a $45,000,000 plant for his city but it's worse when it happens because someone in the government introduces a subsidy for another region and actually cuts the price through that advantage.

Nobody in private business could give a below-cost rate to one customer to take business from a competitor. The federal antitrust laws forbid it.

What causes indignation among the southerners is the fact that, with billions of dollars in taxes to be raised from everybody in America, the defense emergency is being used to advance the cause of the advocates of a nationalization formula which ultimately could bring the same program of hostility to private industry as the Labor government in Great Britain has introduced there.

It is a contradiction to find the Truman administration, which professes to be friendly to "free enterprise" and to small business, too, lending itself to a conspiracy to prevent the south from getting a plant that would eventually bring a lower cost end-product than can be obtained by favoring a government project in the northwest on a single phase — electric power. The Kaiser interests insist that they will be producing aluminum cheaper in the New Orleans area than the aluminum company can produce in any new plant now being projected for the northwest. The aluminum company, on the other hand, is believed to be required to "play ball" with the Interior Department, which controls the allocation of power under the defense setup. Also southern members of Congress argue that too many aluminum plants should not be concentrated in one area because it might make that locality vulnerable to atomic attack. They point out that the northwest, which already has big aluminum plants, is nearer to Russia than the south is.

What is puzzling disinterested observers is how the Bonneville power administrator can be expected to supply surplus power when he really hasn't any at present. Reports are current that private users in the northwest will suffer and that drastic curtailment of power and rationing in the northwest will be inevitable. That may be the penalty which private users in the northwest will have to pay in order that the Interior Department may continue its feud against private electric power companies and their investors as more and more tax money is used from the treasury of the United States to carry on the fight.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

"Call Me Madam," by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, is a cheap, wilted treatment of an ancient burlesque theme. A vulgar female parvenu exaggerates the uncouth antics of the standardized wives and daughters of rich American meat-packers and street-car magnates of 40 years ago but comes off triumphant over a passel of busted European aristocracy. They are aghast at her raucous yulgarity, but, being American, she is a warm-hearted babe who, in the end, wins them over with her generosity and homely goodness.

This terrible commercial, stretched into a full-length musical, is nevertheless a triumph. It ranks with "Oklahoma!" and "South Pacific," because Ethel Merman picks up the stupid business off the dusty floor, boots it, knees it, muscles it all over the stage and makes it hilarious by mocking its tawdry plot and japes. I think it must have croaked in rehearsal but for Ethel Merman's incomparable art, which makes comedy out of material worse than nothing.

Art? Merman? Yes, Merman's art. This girl takes charge of an audience. She is boss all the time. One day, at one in the afternoon, she walked out on a bare stage at the Waldorf in some random ruckus of the banshees and stood about 500 old stags right on their heads just singing songs in broad daylight. An old-time ticket-agency man, who had seen them all from Anna Held and Lillian Russell, sat there beaming like a sunburst and, when she finally had done, exclaimed that there was the greatest of the lot.

"Did you see what she did? She shook us up. You can't hold back. She takes you right over. She is the champion of them all."

Last summer, in a tent in the suburbs, a rash speculator took a long chance on a season of revivals including "Anything Goes." The girl who played Ethel Merman's old part was prettier than Ethel, young, artful and a dancer, yet you could have wanted to send the poor young woman a spray of flowers and fern and a note of condolence. She really did it very well, but the contrast between the original and this earnest, correct young actress doing all the right things, according to her teachers, was nevertheless depressing.

The lyrics of "You're The Top," by Cole Porter, were awkward figures of speech. "You're Mahatma Gandhi. You're Napolean Brandy!" Gandhi certainly was not "top" even by poetic license. Porter made a rhyme, but he would have laid an egg except for Merman. A girl had to be good to make good for that sort of trash.

This tattered old burleyque sketch called "Madam" is, by common but unwritten consent, a fling at Mrs. Perle Mesta, the lady who gave great parties in Washington and became our minister to Luxembourg. Ethel was denied great satirical strokes that could have occurred to better writers. Lindsay and Crouse were at their best in doing over old material in "Life With Father" so they should have been happy in

STATE INCOME TAX

Now that you have made out your federal income tax, the deadline for which return is tonight, you can proceed with your state income tax, which is due on or before April 16.

The Legislature and the governor have done a good job again this year by continuing the ten per cent reduction. State personal income tax and unincorporated business taxpayers will save more than thirty-six million dollars because of these tax reductions. The state income taxpayers will save more than thirty million dollars and the unincorporated business taxpayers will save an estimated six million dollars.

The state income tax is again payable at ninety per cent of the normal rates, which range from two per cent on the first $1,000 of taxable income to seven per cent on all over $9,000 of taxable income.

The net capital gain tax, reported with the income tax, also is payable at ninety per cent of the normal rates, which range from one per cent on the first $1,000 to three and one-half per cent on all over. $9,000.

The unincorporated business tax again is payable at three per cent. The normal rate is four per cent.

State income tax returns for 1950 must be filed by single persons who had net income and net capital gain of $1,000 or more last year and by married couples who together had net income and net capital gain of $2,500 or more.

We get a lot of aid from our state tax money because our state government is ably conducted.

DULLES DESERVES THANKS

John Foster Dulles has just given his country and the world a superb demonstration of capable diplomacy at work.

With very little fanfare, he went out to the Far East to talk about a Japanese peace treaty, not only affecting Japan and the U. S. but Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

When he came back, he brought the draft of a peace document, acceptable in its basic terms to the United States, Japan and our principal Pacific Allies. In other words, he has achieved the biggest single forward step toward a treaty since World War II ended.

This job was accomplished by Dulles and whatever staff he may have used. There were no widely heralded peace conferences in gilded government halls. There was no protracted wrangling over terms.

If the draft now on the table can be put into final form without losing any of the excellent harmony which exists among the prospective signatory nations, then before too many months have passed we should be formally at peace with Japan.

It is notable that this country and the others involved propose to move toward a final settlement in the same way they have proceeded thus far: using normal diplomatic channels. Once again, therefore, the too often fruitless big conference will be avoided.

Russia, of course, has no part in these negotiations. The Kremlin has blocked every attempt to attain a Japanese settlement. If it were now invited to participate, it would simply sabotage the discussions by raising impossible demands.

East-West relations in Asia have deteriorated too much for the Soviet Union even to be considered. The only issue in the Orient is how to resist marauding communism, not how to negotiate with it.

That fact is reflected in the terms we and the Japanese are agreed to in the treaty draft brought back by Dulles. Of their own will, the Japs wish to accord us bases for our armed forces in the Japanese islands. This means that Japan is definitely aligned on the side of the West, indeed, considers itself virtually within the American orbit of defense.

It is heartening to find this positive, hopeful element in an area so confused and generally discouraging as the Far East. Japan's industrial might is a key factor there; wisely employed it can do much to lift up the whole of Southeast Asia. But in Communist hands it would be a strong lever pushing the region toward Red oblivion.

A formal treaty with Japan crystallizing this hopeful relationship is earnestly to be desired. For his crucial part in bringing such a treaty nearer reality, Dulles deserves the warm thanks of every American and every free man throughout the globe.

Hunting may be invigorating sport. But finding is important, too.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE DOWN-BEAT

Departing for a moment from the broad canvas which has become my daily chore, my mind turns to Miss Barbara Hutton, who also goes by the name of Princess Troubetzkoy.

I do not know the lady but I have for many years seen her picture in the newspapers, usually in relation to a marriage or a divorce or attendant circumstances. In fact, I have so often seen her face in the newspapers that I could conjure its lines from my memory. It must be grand and glorious to be a subject of news all one's life, although I am sure that no one in his senses, or hers, would invite so much attention.

I do not recall all the names that this lady has borne through several marriages nor why they should be interesting. I have been told that news about Miss Hutton's lawyers bargaining, in the newspapers, with the prince as to whether he is to have $3,000,000 or $500,000 for the lady to be relieved of him, is very important information and that many readers prefer it to my pontifications on world affairs.

Well, there you are. There is no accounting for tastes. After all, this lady's greatest contribution to current history has been her ability to marry a variety of men at different times, but in a sort of juxtaposition, and to get rid of them with facility.

It was so much easier in the time of the Borgias; they just poisoned those whom they no longer loved. Catherine the Great killed her outmoded or outworn lovers. But ours is a legalistic and journalistic age. Each collapse of a marriage needs to be legalized and publicized with plenty of photography. It is a mark of progress and civilization!

I have never quite been able to understand how all these stories come out unless they are given out. I have been in this business of reporting for 34 years, more or less, and I have yet to find that these intimate relations between a man and a woman make their way into the press unless the parties most concerned provide them. Of course, when they reach the police blotter or the law court, they are news. But when they are in the talking stage, someone must give the press a tip. It is usually a hired press agent. And I still wonder why anyone wants to have family disputes so advertised that they become front-page news.

Enormous amounts of newsprint were consumed telling of the fiery romance of the Troubetzkoys, with all sorts of photographs. I could not help thinking, as I noted these stories, that the principals were a little overage for the sort of playing around that was being described. It looked to me as though this red-hot business was for the 20's, when it all seems cute, rather than for middle-aged folks, when it seems bizarre.

Perhaps I am old-fashioned, and someone did say of me that I am to the right of Louis XVI, whose head was chopped off. But there used to be a dignity about middle-age that seemed gracious and it had nothing to do with red-hot press agent stories.

And now that very exciting romance has broken up and these pigeons are fighting over money. He wants $3,000,000 to quit and she will only give him $500,000. Also, it used to be the other way about. It was the man who paid off the gal, but in these days of equal rights and fair deals and such, it is the dame who pays off her lord and master. That makes a man a gigolo.

Really, why don't these people retire and get out of our lives? We had the Bergman woman and that fantastic Ali Khan person, but the perennial is this Barbara Hutton. All the time, for some reason or another, we see her face in the news in relation to a scandal.

There must be some place to which these narcissus-inclined persons may retire where they can look at their own pictures and read of their own romances, marriages and divorces to their heart's content.

And as I read this line, I wonder how it comes that I read so much about them and look at their pictures. There's a catch in all this, like everybody laughing when a fat man slips on a banana peel. The other fellow's troubles seem so funny, but that can become tiresome, too.

That Body of Yours

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

One of the advertisements that comes in the mail to all physicians is an illustration of a man just past middle-age, shoveling snow, and under the illustration is the word "DON'T." The man has high blood pressure. The illustration is advertising the merits of a certain drug which dilates or opens up the bloodvessels by releasing the tension on the elastic walls of the bloodvessels. By opening up or relaxing the walls, less pressure by the heart is needed to pump the blood through these relaxed vessels than when they are tensed.

Naturally I cannot mention the drug, not because it is not helpful but because there are other drugs available that will act similarly. However, some of the other advice in the advertising literature may be applied to all cases of high blood pressure and should prove valuable to high blood pressure patients, without interfering with the advice given by their physicians. In fact this same advice is given by all physicians in the treatment of this condition.

Cultivate sensible living habits, avoiding 'unnecessary' physical and emotional stress. We must all face some physical and emotional stress but we can avoid that which is unnecessary.

Don't worry about your blood pressure and ask your doctor to take it every time you consult him because the blood pressure varies hourly even in normal individuals and even more in those with high blood pressure.

Real relaxation—mental as well as physical—may decrease the systolic pressure (with cuff tightly inflated) as much as 40 mm. and the diastolic pressure (with cuff loosened) by 20 mm.

While many physicians advise strict dieting or reduction of food, all that is usually needed in high blood pressure is to cut down on table salt in and on foods. To many the trying to follow faithfully a reducing diet would so upset them that it would really increase their blood pressure if they failed to follow a very strict diet.

Another sensible suggestion is in the matter of exercise. Unless there are heart or blood pressure complications such as enlargement of the heart or very high diastolic pressure, light exercise is really advisable. In doubtful cases, exercise such as regular walks or light home or office duties, is advisable, if short rests during the day can be taken.

With the physician prescribing a drug or drugs to control blood pressure and the patient following sensible living habits, high blood pressure need not be dangerous.

New Orleans Mayor Perturbed Because Federal Government Snarls Industrial Situation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 15—If you were the mayor of a city and had the Chamber of Commerce and everybody else working together to bring new industries to your area and then the United States government came in and undercut you with what is plainly "cut-throat competition," you would be plenty mad.

Well, Mayor De Lesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans is mad and has carried the case to the Louisiana delegation in Congress and the delegations from other southern states. He declares that Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, government ownership champion, has broken the spirit as well as the letter of business practices in America by a decision to give the Aluminum Company of America electric power from the Bonneville power project in the Columbia river valley in the northwest at half price.

Although the Bonneville administrator announced in his annual report last year that there was no surplus power available and would not be until 1957, Mr. Chapman now has overruled his own executive and offered power to the aluminum company at about two mills per kilowatt, which is just about half what the New Orleans area could offer. The New Orleans mayor says, however, that this would not be possible except by a subsidy paid by all the taxpayers of the country.

In addition, the New Orleans mayor points out that, because bauxite and other ingredients are available only in the Caribbean area, the aluminum product will have to be sent 6,000 miles back and forth across the continent for processing. With the uncertainty of future freight rates, he says the end result will be that the final product will not be manufactured as inexpensively as it soon will be by a competitor of the aluminum company — the Kaiser Company, which is building a $79,000,000 plant in New Orleans and plans to use natural gas for power purposes.

If New Orleans loses out, it means that a $45,000,000 plant which the Aluminum Company of America would have built there will not be constructed. It's pretty tough for any mayor to lose a $45,000,000 plant for his city but it's worse when it happens because someone in the government introduces a subsidy for another region and actually cuts the price through that advantage.

Nobody in private business could give a below-cost rate to one customer to take business from a competitor. The federal antitrust laws forbid it.

What causes indignation among the southerners is the fact that, with billions of dollars in taxes to be raised from everybody in America, the defense emergency is being used to advance the cause of the advocates of a nationalization formula which ultimately could bring the same program of hostility to private industry as the Labor government in Great Britain has introduced there.

It is a contradiction to find the Truman administration, which professes to be friendly to "free enterprise" and to small business, too, lending itself to a conspiracy to prevent the south from getting a plant that would eventually bring a lower cost end-product than can be obtained by favoring a government project in the northwest on a single phase — electric power. The Kaiser interests insist that they will be producing aluminum cheaper in the New Orleans area than the aluminum company can produce in any new plant now being projected for the northwest. The aluminum company, on the other hand, is believed to be required to "play ball" with the Interior Department, which controls the allocation of power under the defense setup. Also southern members of Congress argue that too many aluminum plants should not be concentrated in one area because it might make that locality vulnerable to atomic attack. They point out that the northwest, which already has big aluminum plants, is nearer to Russia than the south is.

What is puzzling disinterested observers is how the Bonneville power administrator can be expected to supply surplus power when he really hasn't any at present. Reports are current that private users in the northwest will suffer and that drastic curtailment of power and rationing in the northwest will be inevitable. That may be the penalty which private users in the northwest will have to pay in order that the Interior Department may continue its feud against private electric power companies and their investors as more and more tax money is used from the treasury of the United States to carry on the fight.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

"Call Me Madam," by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, is a cheap, wilted treatment of an ancient burlesque theme. A vulgar female parvenu exaggerates the uncouth antics of the standardized wives and daughters of rich American meat-packers and street-car magnates of 40 years ago but comes off triumphant over a passel of busted European aristocracy. They are aghast at her raucous vulgarity, but, being American, she is a warm-hearted babe who, in the end, wins them over with her generosity and homely goodness.

This terrible commercial, stretched into a full-length musical, is nevertheless a triumph. It ranks with "Oklahoma!" and "South Pacific," because Ethel Merman picks up the stupid business off the dusty floor, boots it, knees it, muscles it all over the stage and makes it hilarious by mocking its tawdry plot and japes. I think it must have croaked in rehearsal but for Ethel Merman's incomparable art, which makes comedy out of material worse than nothing.

Art? Merman? Yes, Merman's art. This girl takes charge of an audience. She is boss all the time. One day, at one in the afternoon, she walked out on a bare stage at the Waldorf in some random ruckus of the banshees and stood about 500 old stags right on their heads just singing songs in broad daylight. An old-time ticket-agency man, who had seen them all from Anna Held and Lillian Russell, sat there beaming like a sunburst and, when she finally had done, exclaimed that there was the greatest of the lot.

"Did you see what she did? She shook us up. You can't hold back. She takes you right over. She is the champion of them all."

Last summer, in a tent in the suburbs, a rash speculator took a long chance on a season of revivals including "Anything Goes." The girl who played Ethel Merman's old part was prettier than Ethel, young, artful and a dancer, yet you could have wanted to send the poor young woman a spray of flowers and fern and a note of condolence. She really did it very well, but the contrast between the original and this earnest, correct young actress doing all the right things, according to her teachers, was nevertheless depressing.

The lyrics of "You're The Top," by Cole Porter, were awkward figures of speech. "You're Mahatma Gandhi. You're Napolean Brandy!" Gandhi certainly was not "top" even by poetic license. Porter made a rhyme, but he would have laid an egg except for Merman. A girl had to be good to make good for that sort of trash.

This tattered old burleyque sketch called "Madam" is, by common but unwritten consent, a fling at Mrs. Perle Mesta, the lady who gave great parties in Washington and became our minister to Luxembourg. Ethel was denied great satirical strokes that could have occurred to better writers. Lindsay and Crouse were at their best in doing over old material in "Life With Father" so they should have been happy in

Now that you have made out your federal income tax, the deadline for which return is tonight, you can proceed with your state income tax, which is due on or before April 16.

The Legislature and the governor have done a good job again this year by continuing the ten per cent reduction. State personal income tax and unincorporated business taxpayers will save more than thirty-six million dollars because of these tax reductions. The state income taxpayers will save more than thirty million dollars and the unincorporated business taxpayers will save an estimated six million dollars.

The state income tax is again payable at ninety per cent of the normal rates, which range from two per cent on the first $1,000 of taxable income to seven per cent on all over $9,000 of taxable income.

The net capital gain tax, reported with the income tax, also is payable at ninety per cent of the normal rates, which range from one per cent on the first $1,000 to three and one-half per cent on all over $9,000.

The unincorporated business tax again is payable at three per cent. The normal rate is four per cent.

State income tax returns for 1950 must be filed by single persons who had net income and net capital gain of $1,000 or more last year and by married couples who together had net income and net capital gain of $2,500 or more.

We get a lot of aid from our state tax money because our state government is ably conducted.

DULLES DESERVES THANKS

John Foster Dulles has just given his country and the world a superb demonstration of capable diplomacy at work.

With very little fanfare, he went out to the Far East to talk about a Japanese peace treaty, not only affecting Japan and the U. S. but Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines.

When he came back, he brought the draft of a peace document, acceptable in its basic terms to the United States, Japan and our principal Pacific Allies. In other words, he has achieved the biggest single forward step toward a treaty since World War II ended.

This job was accomplished by Dulles and whatever staff he may have used. There were no widely heralded peace conferences in gilded government halls. There was no protracted wrangling over terms.

If the draft now on the table can be put into final form without losing any of the excellent harmony which exists among the prospective signatory nations, then before too many months have passed we should be formally at peace with Japan.

It is notable that this country and the others involved propose to move toward a final settlement in the same way they have proceeded thus far: using normal diplomatic channels. Once again, therefore, the too often fruitless big conference will be avoided.

Russia, of course, has no part in these negotiations. The Kremlin has blocked every attempt to attain a Japanese settlement. If it were now invited to participate, it would simply sabotage the discussions by raising impossible demands.

East-West relations in Asia have deteriorated too much for the Soviet Union even to be considered. The only issue in the Orient is how to resist marauding communism, not how to negotiate with it.

That fact is reflected in the terms we and the Japanese are agreed to in the treaty draft brought back by Dulles. Of their own will, the Japs wish to accord us bases for our armed forces in the Japanese islands. This means that Japan is definitely aligned on the side of the West, indeed, considers itself virtually within the American orbit of defense.

It is heartening to find this positive, hopeful element in an area so confused and generally discouraging as the Far East. Japan's industrial might is a key factor there; wisely employed it can do much to lift up the whole of Southeast Asia. But in Communist hands it would be a strong lever pushing the region toward Red oblivion.

A formal treaty with Japan crystallizing this hopeful relationship is earnestly to be desired. For his crucial part in bringing such a treaty nearer reality, Dulles deserves the warm thanks of every American and every free man throughout the globe.

Hunting may be invigorating sport. But finding is important, too.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE DOWN-BEAT

Departing for a moment from the broad canvas which has become my daily chore, my mind turns to Miss Barbara Hutton, who also goes by the name of Princess Troubetzkoy.

I do not know the lady but I have for many years seen her picture in the newspapers, usually in relation to a marriage or a divorce or attendant circumstances. In fact, I have so often seen her face in the newspapers that I could conjure its lines from my memory. It must be grand and glorious to be a subject of news all one's life, although I am sure that no one in his senses, or hers, would invite so much attention.

I do not recall all the names that this lady has borne through several marriages nor why they should be interesting. I have been told that news about Miss Hutton's lawyers bargaining, in the newspapers, with the prince as to whether he is to have $3,000,000 or $500,000 for the lady to be relieved of him, is very important information and that many readers prefer it to my pontifications on world affairs.

Well, there you are. There is no accounting for tastes. After all, this lady's greatest contribution to current history has been her ability to marry a variety of men at different times, but in a sort of juxtaposition, and to get rid of them with facility.

It was so much easier in the time of the Borgias; they just poisoned those whom they no longer loved. Catherine the Great killed her outmoded or outworn lovers. But ours is a legalistic and journalistic age. Each collapse of a marriage needs to be legalized and publicized with plenty of photography. It is a mark of progress and civilization!

I have never quite been able to understand how all these stories come out unless they are given out. I have been in this business of reporting for 34 years, more or less, and I have yet to find that these intimate relations between a man and a woman make their way into the press unless the parties most concerned provide them. Of course, when they reach the police blotter or the law court, they are news. But when they are in the talking stage, someone must give the press a tip. It is usually a hired press agent. And I still wonder why anyone wants to have family disputes so advertised that they become front-page news.

Enormous amounts of newsprint were consumed telling of the fiery romance of the Troubetzkoys, with all sorts of photographs. I could not help thinking, as I noted these stories, that the principals were a little overage for the sort of playing around that was being described. It looked to me as though this red-hot business was for the 20's, when it all seems cute, rather than for middle-aged folks, when it seems bizarre.

Perhaps I am old-fashioned, and someone did say of me that I am to the right of Louis XVI, whose head was chopped off. But there used to be a dignity about middle-age that seemed gracious and it had nothing to do with red-hot press agent stories.

And now that very exciting romance has broken up and these pigeons are fighting over money. He wants $3,000,000 to quit and she will only give him $500,000. Also, it used to be the other way about. It was the man who paid off the gal, but in these days of equal rights and fair deals and such, it is the dame who pays off her lord and master. That makes a man a gigolo.

Really, why don't these people retire and get out of our lives? We had the Bergman woman and that fantastic Ali Khan person, but the perennial is this Barbara Hutton. All the time, for some reason or another, we see her face in the news in relation to a scandal.

There must be some place to which these narcissus-inclined persons may retire where they can look at their own pictures and read of their own romances, marriages and divorces to their heart's content.

And as I read this line, I wonder how it comes that I read so much about them and look at their pictures. There's a catch in all this, like everybody laughing when a fat man slips on a banana peel. The other fellow's troubles seem so funny, but that can become tiresome, too.

That Body of Yours

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

One of the advertisements that comes in the mail to all physicians is an illustration of a man just past middle-age, shoveling snow, and under the illustration is the word "DON'T." The man has high blood pressure. The illustration is advertising the merits of a certain drug which dilates or opens up the bloodvessels by releasing the tension on the elastic walls of the bloodvessels. By opening up or relaxing the walls, less pressure by the heart is needed to pump the blood through these relaxed vessels than when they are tensed.

Naturally I cannot mention the drug, not because it is not helpful but because there are other drugs available that will act similarly. However, some of the other advice in the advertising literature may be applied to all cases of high blood pressure and should prove valuable to high blood pressure patients, without interfering with the advice given by their physicians. In fact this same advice is given by all physicians in the treatment of this condition.

Cultivate sensible living habits, avoiding 'unnecessary' physical and emotional stress. We must all face some physical and emotional stress but we can avoid that which is unnecessary.

Don't worry about your blood pressure and ask your doctor to take it every time you consult him because the blood pressure varies hourly even in normal individuals and even more in those with high blood pressure.

Real relaxation—mental as well as physical—may decrease the systolic pressure (with cuff tightly inflated) as much as 40 mm. and the diastolic pressure (with cuff loosened) by 20 mm.

While many physicians advise strict dieting or reduction of food, all that is usually needed in high blood pressure is to cut down on table salt in and on foods. To many the trying to follow faithfully a reducing diet would so upset them that it would really increase their blood pressure if they failed to follow a very strict diet.

Another sensible suggestion is in the matter of exercise. Unless there are heart or blood pressure complications such as enlargement of the heart or very high diastolic pressure, light exercise is really advisable. In doubtful cases, exercise such as regular walks or light home or office duties, is advisable, if short rests during the day can be taken.

With the physician prescribing a drug or drugs to control blood pressure and the patient following sensible living habits, high blood pressure need not be dangerous.

D-Days for Uncle Joe

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—It's news when a Dixiecrat gets invited to the White House, particularly a dyed-in-the-cotton Dixiecrat like Rep. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, who figured prominently in the revolt against President Truman in the 1948 election.

However, Truman rolled out the welcome mat for the silver-maned South Carolinian the other day as though he were a long-separated fraternity brother. The story behind the unusual meeting is that the President wanted Rivers' support for the 18-year-old draft bill.

However, after a brief reference to the legislation, the two antagonists spent the rest of their meeting assuring each other that there were no "hard feelings" between them.

"If you are a big enough man to invite me down here, I'm big enough to accept the invitation, Mr. President," grinned Rivers. "In fact, it's a pleasure to accept."

"Some people have been saying that I don't like you and would never invite you down here, Mendel," responded Truman. "Well, it isn't so. I've never closed the door to you. I want you to know that it will be open any time you want to see me."

The President cleverly dropped only the merest hint that he was concerned about the fate of the draft bill in the armed services committee, of which Rivers is a member. However, there were no commitments on either side and the two men parted after a friendly handshake.

Dig at Truman

A sly dig at President Truman's letter writing was taken by Nebraska's rambunctious Ken Wherry during a heated argument with Senator Tom Connally.

At the Atlantic Pact aid hearings, Senator Wherry demanded exact figures on allied troop commitments to defend western Europe.

"Do you think we ought to call Mr. Stalin up every morning and tell him what we're doing?" Connally asked scornfully.

"If you're going to communicate with Stalin," Wherry whipped back, "I suggest you send a letter. That's the Truman way."

G.I. Gripes

Here is another batch of letters from servicemen, complaining about injustices in the armed forces. Periodically this column tries to answer the most serious G.I. gripes. Names are withheld upon request.

A Private, Camp Carson, Colo.—"We have received mass punishment, because some 'unknown person' fired several shots behind the barracks. For this, our company is restricted for an indefinite time. Men with their wives in the guest houses not more than ten minutes away, cannot even call them. We think this is unfair, as we expect to be shipped overseas soon."

Answer — A Camp Carson spokesman told this column over the phone that the incident "is purely a military matter and no concern to civilians." This is a dangerous attitude. As long as civilians rule this country, they have a right to know how their servicemen are treated and to correct any abuses. Meanwhile, under army regulations, a camp commander has the power to restrict a full unit for the offense of one member. In this case, the troublemakers were caught, the restriction was lifted temporarily, then clamped down again for another offense.

Mrs. C. H. Orum, Salem, Ore.—"My husband has been in Korea over six months. Do you have any idea when he will be allowed to come home?"

Answer—The marines are now sending combat veterans home on rotation. The air force has been sending some combat crews home and will adopt a formal rotation policy in May. Some navy men also have returned to Japan and the west coast with their ships, but no formal program has been adopted. The army claims it is still too short of replacements to start a rotation program. Meanwhile, scarcely a week goes by that General MacArthur doesn't cable for more men.

A Corporal, Somewhere in Korea—"My wife says she writes me every day, but I have been getting only about one letter a week. Where's the bottleneck?"

Answer—Under battle conditions, the mail can't always get through to the front lines. However, you'll probably find a big backlog of letters waiting for you when the army postal service catches up with your outfit.

The aluminum company, on the other hand, is believed to be required to "play ball" with the Interior Department, which controls the allocation of power under the defense setup. Also southern members of Congress argue that too many aluminum plants should not be concentrated in one area because it might make that locality vulnerable to atomic attack. They point out that the northwest, which already has big aluminum plants, is nearer to Russia than the south is.

What is puzzling disinterested observers is how the Bonneville power administrator can be expected to supply surplus power when he really hasn't any at present. Reports are current that private users in the northwest will suffer and that drastic curtailment of power and rationing in the northwest will be inevitable. That may be the penalty which private users in the northwest will have to pay in order that the Interior Department may continue its feud against private electric power companies and their investors as more and more tax money is used from the treasury of the United States to carry on the fight.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

"Call Me Madam," by Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse, is a cheap, wilted treatment of an ancient burlesque theme. A vulgar female parvenu exaggerates the uncouth antics of the standardized wives and daughters of rich American meat-packers and street-car magnates of 40 years ago but comes off triumphant over a passel of busted European aristocracy. They are aghast at her raucous vulgarity, but, being American, she is a warm-hearted babe who, in the end, wins them over with her generosity and homely goodness.

This terrible commercial, stretched into a full-length musical, is nevertheless a triumph. It ranks with "Oklahoma!" and "South Pacific," because Ethel Merman picks up the stupid business off the dusty floor, boots it, knees it, muscles it all over the stage and makes it hilarious by mocking its tawdry plot and japes. I think it must have croaked in rehearsal but for Ethel Merman's incomparable art, which makes comedy out of material worse than nothing.

Art? Merman? Yes, Merman's art. This girl takes charge of an audience. She is boss all the time. One day, at one in the afternoon, she walked out on a bare stage at the Waldorf in some random ruckus of the banshees and stood about 500 old stags right on their heads just singing songs in broad daylight. An old-time ticket-agency man, who had seen them all from Anna Held and Lillian Russell, sat there beaming like a sunburst and, when she finally had done, exclaimed that there was the greatest of the lot.

"Did you see what she did? She shook us up. You can't hold back. She takes you right over. She is the champion of them all."

Last summer, in a tent in the suburbs, a rash speculator took a long chance on a season of revivals including "Anything Goes." The girl who played Ethel Merman's old part was prettier than Ethel, young, artful and a dancer, yet you could have wanted to send the poor young woman a spray of flowers and fern and a note of condolence. She really did it very well, but the contrast between the original and this earnest, correct young actress doing all the right things, according to her teachers, was nevertheless depressing.

The lyrics of "You're The Top," by Cole Porter, were awkward figures of speech. "You're Mahatma Gandhi. You're Napolean Brandy!" Gandhi certainly was not "top" even by poetic license. Porter made a rhyme, but he would have laid an egg except for Merman. A girl had to be good to make good for that sort of trash.

This tattered old burleyque sketch called "Madam" is, by common but unwritten consent, a fling at Mrs. Perle Mesta, the lady who gave great parties in Washington and became our minister to Luxembourg. Ethel was denied great satirical strokes that could have occurred to better writers. Lindsay and Crouse were at their best in doing over old material in "Life With Father" so they should have been happy in

175 Dairymen Give Support Pledge

A total of 175 Ulster county dairymen who ship milk to three plants for distribution in New York city have pledged support to the Milk for Health program, it was revealed today in a report made by Ralph A. Eastwood, executive secretary of Milk for Health, Inc.

Kingston milk producers and dealers are already participating in the promotional program through the Dairy Council of the Mid-Hudson Area.

The program, designed to increase milk sales by promotion stressing the health-giving qualities of the product, claims 36,000 supporters in the New York milkshed, which includes 41 New York state counties and sections of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont.

A report on what the organization is doing to increase per capita milk consumption will be given at Cornell University during Farm and Home Week, March 19 to 23.

Po'keepsie Says Pomeroy Threw Big Albany Scare

Despite a convincing Assembly vote of 93-50 favoring the proposed Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, Poughkeepsie still looks upon the move as one virtually imposing a purely local problem.

The Poughkeepsie New Yorker in its account yesterday of action on the bridge bill, carried the headline: "Bridge Bill Edged Through Over Objections of Pomeroy."

Dutchess County Assemblyman Robert W. Pomeroy, of Wassaic, The New Yorker stressed, "threw a man-sized scare into the Republican legislative leaders by lining up enough support, according to The Associated Press, to make it appear that the bill 'apparently was headed for defeat.'"

Pomeroy argued, the paper said, that enactment of the bridge measure, "would be a repudiation of the long-standing promise of toll-free bridges."

The New Yorker said that "W. Wendell Heilman, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce bridge committee, today congratulated Mr. Pomeroy on his stand against the bill. He said Mr. Pomeroy had placed the dangers of the legislation squarely before the Assembly."

Pomeroy, the article reported, "said he was not against any of the bridges. He emphasized that he would like to see Kingston and Newburgh get bridges. He told the Assembly he was against the method of financing proposed in the Mahoney-Stephens bill. He said he was against using Mid-Hudson bridge tolls to pay for either the Kingston or Newburgh bridges."

The New Yorker said Assemblyman John Wadlin, of Highland, voted for the bill, and said he supported the measure "because it was a state administration bill and the present legislation merely implemented the 1947 bridge legislation which authorized construction of the Kingston bridge."

Red Tide Reported Again

Fort Myers, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The "red tide" which killed millions of fish along the lower Florida west coast four years ago has been reported again. This time the site is near the lower gulf coast of Mexico several hundred miles from Florida. Early Wiggins, veteran Fort Myers commercial fisherman, said he saw a 35-mile wide stretch of the reddish water about 70 miles northwest of Yucatan. Scientists said the "tide" was a host of tiny organisms which choked fish to death by using up all the oxygen in the water. They are still trying to find why these organisms, always present in small numbers, suddenly appeared in such multitudes.

Really Went Haywire

Long Beach, Calif., March 15 (AP)—A check for $990,012.56 came to Mrs. Mary X. Mason yesterday. It was from an insurance company and represented a refund on a policy covering furniture which had been sold. "The amount seemed rather high," Mrs. Mason said in a very conservative statement explaining the circumstances. She said she called the insurance company and learned the amount should have been $12.56. The company explained that its check writing machine went haywire.

A speaker was lecturing on forest preservation. "I don't suppose," said he, "that there is a person in the house who has done a single thing to conserve our timber resources." A speaker was lecturing on forest preservation. "I don't suppose," said he, "that there is a person in the house who has done a single thing to conserve our timber resources." PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, March 15—Boy Scouts, Troop 26, will conduct a paper drive Saturday starting at 10 a. m. All residents of the village desiring to donate newspapers are requested to tie them in bundles and leave on front porches. The Scouts will canvass the village in a truck to make collections. Only newspapers will be collected at this time.

Tillson Volunteers Nominate Officers

At the monthly meeting of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company Tuesday evening, the following candidates for office were nominated: Edward Clark, president; William Braun, vice president; James J. Burke, Sr., recording secretary; Hollis E. Harvey, financial secretary; Joseph Engert, treasurer; Russell Douglas, chief engineer; Raymond DuBois, deputy chief engineer; Irving DuBois and Walter Born, captain; Ronald Lord, lieutenant; Roy Van Keuren and James J. Burke, Sr., delegates to county convention; Walter Born and William Menzel, trustees.

Election of officers by ballot will take place at the April meeting, at which time new officers will be installed.

The second reading of the proposed changes in the by-laws was given. It was announced that following the third reading next month, a vote will be taken to either adopt or reject such changes.

Frank Minnikine, chief engineer, reported only one fire in the district during the past month. A car traveling south on Route 32 caught fire and the company responded, extinguishing the blaze.

Over 30 members of the company were present at the meeting.

Tax Hopes Killed

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—New York city's hopes for an employer-paid pay roll tax apparently have been killed by Republican leaders in the state Senate. Authoritative sources said last night that GOP leaders would approve a permissive bill allowing the city to boost its present two per cent sales tax to three per cent for one year—if most Democrats vote for it. New York city Democrats have sought to ditch the proposal for a sales tax boost by getting legislative approval for a pay roll levy. GOP Leader Arthur H. Wicks and Chairman Walter H. Mahoney of the Senate Finance Committee reportedly agreed that the Senate would not consider any pay roll tax authority for the city, regardless of what the assembly does.

License Bills to Dewey

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Two bills giving the motor vehicle commissioner wide discretion over future automobile license plates were sent to Governor Dewey today by the Legislature. They would give the commissioner: Permission to issue permanent license plates, beginning in 1953. Authority to decide whether New Yorkers will get one or two license plates in 1952—or only a tab to be attached to the 1951 plate. The permanent plate, proposed by Senator Seymour Halper, Queens Republican, would have removable date tabs which would be changed each year. Halpern estimated that the permanent plate system would save the state $300,000 annually.

Will Preach Sunday

The Rev. Howard D. McGrath of Poughkeepsie, secretary of the boards of education and missions of the New York Conference, will be the guest preacher Sunday at the regular 11 a. m. worship service at the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The Rev. Mr. McGrath is a former pastor of the local church.

Mahoney of the Senate Finance Committee reportedly agreed that the Senate would not consider any pay roll tax authority for the city, regardless of what the assembly does.

License Bills to Dewey

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Two bills giving the motor vehicle commissioner wide discretion over future automobile license plates were sent to Governor Dewey today by the Legislature. They would give the commissioner: Permission to issue permanent license plates, beginning in 1953. Authority to decide whether New Yorkers will get one or two license plates in 1952—or only a tab to be attached to the 1951 plate. The permanent plate, proposed by Senator Seymour Halper, Queens Republican, would have removable date tabs which would be changed each year. Halpern estimated that the permanent plate system would save the state $300,000 annually.

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—New York city's fading hope for state permission to levy an employer-paid payroll tax was killed today at a conference of Senate Republicans.

GOP leader Arthur H. Wicks said no final decision was reached but that the Republicans undoubtedly would vote for a pending bill authorizing the city to increase its sales tax from two to three per cent.

GOP approval, however, would be contingent on "at least two-thirds" of the Senate's 23 Democrats voting for the bill, Wicks told newsmen.

The increased sales tax authority would be for one year only, until July 1, 1952, as another Republican condition, he said.

Midnight Is Deadline

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Midnight tonight is the deadline for filing 1950 income tax returns, but it's pretty much a cinch that most of the 52,000,000 Americans who have to file them already have done so. The withholding tax system instituted back in 1943 has put a terrific dent in the old American custom of waiting until the last minute to file a return which had to be accompanied by a cash payment. Nowadays, in about six out of 10 cases, it pays to file a return. Some 29,000,000 of those who do so can look forward to a refund because they've been nicked for more withholding taxes than the total amount they owe.

Two Die in Fire

Benton Harbor, Mich., March 15 (AP)—David Ross, industrialist here, and his seven-year-old daughter, Ruthe Anne, were killed in a fire early today at the family's palatial lake shore home. Evidently Ross, 54, lost his life in a vain effort to rescue the child. Two other daughters and a son, along with the family's housekeeper, escaped the flames. The fire destroyed the home. Ross, president of Progressive Industries Inc., was a Zionist leader in Michigan. Several years ago he had visited Israel and returned to lead a relief drive in the state.

County Has Ample Food for Evacuees Reports Reveal

More than a million pounds of meat and poultry would be available to Civil Defense officials in Ulster county—right now—if it were needed to feed evacuees from a bombed-out area.

This and other encouraging figures on the county's food supplies were revealed today by Howard C. Shurter, county defense director, after receiving a report from Philip Schantz, deputy commissioner of welfare.

Under the present theory of civil defense, one of this county's biggest problems is expected to be the care and feeding of evacuees from a populous bombed area, such as New York city.

Acting under the direction of Edward Murray, welfare commissioner, Schantz is compiling a list of the total available food supplies which could be tapped in an emergency. Major storage plants, processors, and other sources were asked to inform Civil Defense officials voluntarily of their normal inventory, to give an idea of just how much food is usually available in the county.

Storage Plant Figures

With only one-third of the storage plants in the county so far contacted, these are the figures which Schantz received, each figure representing the number of pounds of the food available:

Pork, fresh and frozen, 256,040; beef, lamb, veal, fresh and frozen, 189,995; pork, smoked or cured, 126,560; processed meats (such as frankfurters), 26,000; poultry, 430,774.

Other foods include lard, 85,000; cheese, 1,170,252; frozen fish, 41,316; frozen fruits and vegetables, 273,193; raisins and prunes, 6,680; eggs, 2,400; dried milk, 2,700, and frozen juices, 17,099.

As a part of the plan to feed evacuees, Civil Defense officials are proceeding with plans to establish stockpiles of staples at two centers, the county home at New Paltz and the city home in Kingston. Here would be stored staples such as sugar, milk, rice, flour, dried beans, to be sent to the various towns for distribution.

Food Within Hour

With the northern half of the county drawing from Kingston and the southern half from New Paltz, supplies would be available to any town within an hour. This, Schantz points out, would tend to give a tighter control of supplies than if they were scattered all over the county.

To meet an unexpected emergency, however, sufficient soup, stews, canned or dried milk, coffee and sugar for the first three meals will be stored at four centers — New Paltz, Ellenville, Kingston and Saugerties. Evacuees would be fed either at school cafeterias or from mobile kitchens, if such are available.

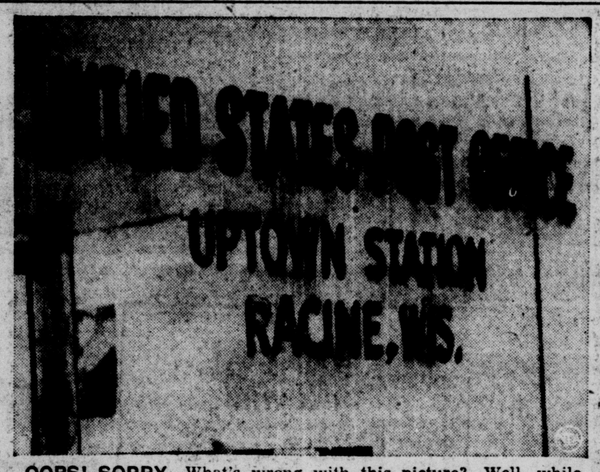
A similar survey is being conducted by the welfare department to learn how much clothing is available in the county for emergency use.

Petram Arrested

Lawrence Petram, 43, of 714 Broadway, was arrested in Poughkeepsie Wednesday afternoon by County Investigator Leonard Belmore of the Ulster county sheriff's office and Detective James Murphy of the Poughkeepsie police department on a non-support charge. The warrant was signed by Judge John M. Cashin of the Ulster County Children's Court.

Tobey Sheds Tears

New York, March 15 (AP)—Senator Tobey (R-N.H.), weeping openly, interrupted the Senate crime probe hearing yesterday to declare that religion is just as important as a resolve for honest law enforcement. Some of the spectators applauded the 70-year-old senator's plea for religion.



OOPS! SORRY—What's wrong with this picture? Well, while lettering this sign on a Racine, Wis., Post Office window, the painter jumbled his letters and it came out "Untied States Post Office." While passers-by chuckled, postal officials hastened to correct the lettering.

Three Die in Wreck

Detroit, March 15 (AP) — Two women and the infant child of one were killed in a train wreck west of here last midnight and more than 30 persons were injured. Five cars of a Cincinnati-bound New York Central passenger train left the rails in suburban Trenton as the train traveled through fog and snow. The victims included a Michigan State College student's wife and child. Early today the body of the second woman was still unidentified at the Wayne county morgue.

Fees Bill Approved

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Legislation to increase the license fees for trucks was approved by the Senate, 51-1 today and sent to the Assembly. The measure would change the method of computing the license fees for the trucks. Vehicles weighing 1,800 pounds or more now are registered at the rate of 80 cents per 100 pounds of empty weight. The new measure would figure the rates at 50 cents per 100 pounds of maximum gross, or loaded weight.

County Has Ample Food for Evacuees Reports Reveal

More than a million pounds of meat and poultry would be available to Civil Defense officials in Ulster county—right now—if it were needed to feed evacuees from a bombed-out area.

This and other encouraging figures on the county's food supplies were revealed today by Howard C. Shurter, county defense director, after receiving a report from Philip Schantz, deputy commissioner of welfare.

Under the present theory of civil defense, one of this county's biggest problems is expected to be the care and feeding of evacuees from a populous bombed area, such as New York city.

Acting under the direction of Edward Murray, welfare commissioner, Schantz is compiling a list of the total available food supplies which could be tapped in an emergency. Major storage plants, processors, and other sources were asked to inform Civil Defense officials voluntarily of their normal inventory, to give an idea of just how much food is usually available in the county.

Storage Plant Figures

With only one-third of the storage plants in the county so far contacted, these are the figures which Schantz received, each figure representing the number of pounds of the food available:

Pork, fresh and frozen, 256,040; beef, lamb, veal, fresh and frozen, 189,995; pork, smoked or cured, 126,560; processed meats (such as frankfurters), 26,000; poultry, 430,774.

Other foods include lard, 85,000; cheese, 1,170,252; frozen fish, 41,316; frozen fruits and vegetables, 273,193; raisins and prunes, 6,680; eggs, 2,400; dried milk, 2,700, and frozen juices, 17,099.

As a part of the plan to feed evacuees, Civil Defense officials are proceeding with plans to establish stockpiles of staples at two centers, the county home at New Paltz and the city home in Kingston. Here would be stored staples such as sugar, milk, rice, flour, dried beans, to be sent to the various towns for distribution.

Food Within Hour

With the northern half of the county drawing from Kingston and the southern half from New Paltz, supplies would be available to any town within an hour. This, Schantz points out, would tend to give a tighter control of supplies than if they were scattered all over the county.

To meet an unexpected emergency, however, sufficient soup, stews, canned or dried milk, coffee and sugar for the first three meals will be stored at four centers — New Paltz, Ellenville, Kingston and Saugerties. Evacuees would be fed either at school cafeterias or from mobile kitchens, if such are available.

A similar survey is being conducted by the welfare department to learn how much clothing is available in the county for emergency use.

Petram Arrested

Lawrence Petram, 43, of 714 Broadway, was arrested in Poughkeepsie Wednesday afternoon by County Investigator Leonard Belmore of the Ulster county sheriff's office and Detective James Murphy of the Poughkeepsie police department on a non-support charge. The warrant was signed by Judge John M. Cashin of the Ulster County Children's Court.

New York, March 15 (AP)—Senator Tobey (R-N.H.), weeping openly, interrupted the Senate crime probe hearing yesterday to declare that religion is just as important as a resolve for honest law enforcement. Some of the spectators applauded the 70-year-old senator's plea for religion.

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Legislation to increase the license fees for trucks was approved by the Senate, 51-1 today and sent to the Assembly. The new measure would figure the rates at 50 cents per 100 pounds of maximum gross, or loaded weight.

Late Bulletin

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—New York city's fading hope for state permission to levy an employer-paid payroll tax was killed today at a conference of Senate Republicans.

GOP leader Arthur H. Wicks said no final decision was reached but that the Republicans undoubtedly would vote for a pending bill authorizing the city to increase its sales tax from two to three per cent.

GOP approval, however, would be contingent on "at least two-thirds" of the Senate's 23 Democrats voting for the bill, Wicks told newsmen.

The increased sales tax authority would be for one year only, until July 1, 1952, as another Republican condition, he said.

Midnight Is Deadline

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Midnight tonight is the deadline for filing 1950 income tax returns, but it's pretty much a cinch that most of the 52,000,000 Americans who have to file them already have done so. The withholding tax system instituted back in 1943 has put a terrific dent in the old American custom of waiting until the last minute to file a return which had to be accompanied by a cash payment. Nowadays, in about six out of 10 cases, it pays to file a return. Some 29,000,000 of those who do so can look forward to a refund because they've been nicked for more withholding taxes than the total amount they owe.

Two Die in Fire

Benton Harbor, Mich., March 15 (AP)—David Ross, industrialist here, and his seven-year-old daughter, Ruthe Anne, were killed in a fire early today at the family's palatial lake shore home. Evidently Ross, 54, lost his life in a vain effort to rescue the child. Two other daughters and a son, along with the family's housekeeper, escaped the flames. The fire destroyed the home. Ross, president of Progressive Industries Inc., was a Zionist leader in Michigan. Several years ago he had visited Israel and returned to lead a relief drive in the state.

Fees Bill Approved

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Legislation to increase the license fees for trucks was approved by the Senate, 51-1 today and sent to the Assembly. The measure would change the method of computing the license fees for the trucks. Vehicles weighing 1,800 pounds or more now are registered at the rate of 80 cents per 100 pounds of empty weight. The new measure would figure the rates at 50 cents per 100 pounds of maximum gross, or loaded weight.

THE MODERN BRIDE

Today's bride is asking: "Is there any way to broadcast the fact that we don't want the usual array of wedding gifts? We're not able to go to housekeeping because the army backons, and my family hasn't the space to store boxes and barrels of presents. But we could put the money away and use it later and that's what we wish people would give us instead of gifts. They may hesitate without some approval."

You could make this request of your families but not of others. You most intimate friends hearing that your families are giving money might volunteer to do likewise, but even they could not possibly be asked to do so!

Lady's Traveling Expenses

Dear Mrs. Post: When a young man invites a girl from another city to visit at his home, should he pay her transportation? He believes the young woman thinks he will reimburse her and he's a little worried about it.

Answer: She should neither expect nor permit her host or his family to pay her traveling expenses. Nor should he offer to reimburse her.

Spending Gift Check

Dear Mrs. Post: When someone gives a money gift is it considered more polite to tell him later what was bought with the money? My employer always gives a check instead of an item and occasionally will inquire afterward what I've bought. Very often I pay back bills with the money or buy underthings which I'd rather not talk about to him.

Answer: It's always nice to say what you bought if the person shows any interest in knowing. If he asks again you could explain that you're using the money for a lot of personal things you really needed and hadn't been able to buy. That is enough for him to know.

Replacing Lost Wedding Ring

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother lost her original wedding ring and the family would like to buy her one now. She's a widow. How do we have it marked?

Answer: Its marks should duplicate that of the ring it replaces.

Is your question about introductions, or would you like to know when a lady should offer her hand in greeting friends? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-17, "Introductions," answers these questions fully. To obtain a copy send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail egg prices rose one to four cents a dozen in many stores this week, while several fresh vegetables were a little lower as shipments from southern and southwestern growing areas increased.

But otherwise the general food price level appeared to be holding about unchanged from last weekend. Most meat, poultry and dairy products were steady.

Spokesmen for large egg distributors attributed the slowly rising egg prices to lively consumer demand.

"People must be buying more eggs because of high meat prices, for there certainly are plenty of eggs around," one market authority said.

Heavy buying of poultry, particularly broiling and frying chickens, also was said to reflect the competitive price situation. The Poultry and Egg National Board reported that lightweight chicken supplies are running 15 to 20 per cent larger than a year ago and being readily absorbed in the market, with prices only a few cents a pound higher than in mid-March last year.

In Seven Areas

In the past two or three years, broiler production has been centered mostly in seven major areas: The Delaware-Maryland-Virginia region, northern Georgia, northwest Arkansas, Texas, Virginia's Shenandoah valley, North Carolina and eastern Connecticut. But in recent months four more large broiler areas have been added to market reports as production in the nation increased: Indiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Florida.

The board said chicks placed in these areas to be grown and fattened for market numbered 8,554,000 in the week of Jan. 6—and the placements total had climbed to 11,309,000 by the week of Feb. 24. At this rate, chicken supplies should be even more abundant this spring. It takes about 10 weeks to get those chicks ready for the food shopper.

Lower-priced in most produce bins this week are grapefruit, lima beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, onions, squash, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Grapes, pears and celery were generally a little higher.

Under New Order

The Office of Price Stabilization announced this week that restaurant prices will go under a new control order at the beginning of April. Eating places must then base their menu prices on food costs per dollar of sales during one of two base periods—either the calendar year 1949 or the 12 months ending last June 30 (the restaurant may choose which one). Restaurants which raised their cost-price margins after the Kofean war began will have to roll-back prices somewhat. If food costs go down, their prices must be reduced to restore the correct ratio. On the other hand, if food costs rise, then restaurant prices may also be increased.

Officials of the OPS say the restaurant order is part of a general food control pattern which is expected to emerge before the end of the month. As food prices are stabilized, these sources said, restaurant prices will be steadied as a result.

Consumer Spending

The Agriculture Department reported that consumers spent an average of 5.6 per cent of their disposable incomes (after charges like taxes) for meats in 1950. If consumers follow that same general spending pattern this year, and don't try to buy a lot more meat because other goods are scarcer, then meat prices may drop below ceiling levels during periods of heavy seasonal supply, the report indicated.

Coffee imports into this country dropped 14 per cent in 1950 because of consumer price resistance and unusually large carryover stocks at the end of 1949, the department announced. But the National Coffee Association said coffee arrivals in January and February this year were greater than in the same two months of 1949—which turned out to be a record year. "The outlook for easier prices is still not too good," the NCA added, "because demand and supply factors are too nearly in balance."

On the other hand, if food costs rise, then restaurant prices may also be increased.

Officials of the OPS say the restaurant order is part of a general food control pattern which is expected to emerge before the end of the month. As food prices are stabilized, these sources said, restaurant prices will be steadied as a result.

Consumer Spending

The Agriculture Department reported that consumers spent an average of 5.6 per cent of their disposable incomes (after charges like taxes) for meats in 1950. If consumers follow that same general spending pattern this year, and don't try to buy a lot more meat because other goods are scarcer, then meat prices may drop below ceiling levels during periods of heavy seasonal supply, the report indicated.

Coffee imports into this country dropped 14 per cent in 1950 because of consumer price resistance and unusually large carryover stocks at the end of 1949, the department announced. But the National Coffee Association said coffee arrivals in January and February this year were greater than in the same two months of 1949—which turned out to be a record year. "The outlook for easier prices is still not too good," the NCA added, "because demand and supply factors are too nearly in balance."

Chamber Lauds Baseball, Teetsel; Talks Industry

At its regular meeting this week, the Kingston Chamber of Commerce devoted its agenda to:

Organized baseball for Kingston.

Industrial expansion.

Recognition of the public service rendered by Robert E. Teetsel to the city during his two terms as president.

During the session at the Governor Clinton Hotel, the new tax committee of the Chamber reported it favored passage of the Hughes-Brees Bill opposed by organized labor as contrary to A.F.L. and C.I.O. views on unemployment insurance.

Baseball Helps City

Relative to the baseball situation, President Lawrence J. MacAvery said the majority of the directors of the chamber expressed the hope that the citizens would support the Can-Am League here during the summer.

MacAvery said baseball is important to the community in three ways: As a form of outdoor recreation, as an attraction drawing many to Kingston and also in the line of publicizing the city.

Along with lauding the present program, the directors of the Chamber complimented the relatively small group of public spirited citizens that cleared the Kingston territory of all baseball liens last year and made it possible to continue the consideration of professional baseball.

MacAvery pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce believes the present baseball project should be supported as a community promotion project.

On Industrial Expansion

The industrial expansion discussion centered around an article appearing in the March issue of the Kiwanis magazine. It pointed out that substantial industries do not desire concessions, but look for strong communities having businesslike government, a community with aggressive spirit with wholesome recreational facilities, strong churches, adequate housing, good shopping centers and strong character-building organizations.

His Guidance Helped

A resolution honoring Past President Teetsel for the public service he gave during his term in 1949-50 stressed that his "leadership helped restore the Chamber of Commerce as a vital force in community progress during trying times for our organization."

It was presented by James P. Byrne, chairman of a special committee that composed the citation. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Printed in the form of a scroll, and signed by all the officers and directors, it cited that:

President Teetsel accepted the chairmanship of the membership committee early in 1948, increased the roster of the organization; made sound decisions for progress and served with such outstanding distinction that he was chosen to serve two terms in 1949 and 1950.

Seeking 525 Members

Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt reported 443 active members at present, 45 of whom are new. The latest application came from George G. McCarthy, local district manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Company. His application was approved.

The membership quota for the coming fiscal year has been set at 525. The majority of memberships are payable on May 1.

Treasurer Chester A. Baltz, Jr., reported that the current budget year would end on April 30 with a small balance.

The budget committee for 1951-52 is made up of Treasurer Baltz, Joseph Deegan, Victor H. Roth, and Robert E. Teetsel. They will report at the April 10th meeting.

As a result of two recent meetings, the new tax committee, reported favoring passage of the Hughes-Brees bill relating to unemployment insurance. It also favored the extension of the moratorium on the provision of the permissive tax law relating to the gross business receipts tax.

The committee's report stressed it would continue its study of local taxes needed to operate Kingston city government.

President MacAvery read a letter from Don Marcellus, director of the Northeastern Institute for Commercial Organization Secretaries at Yale University, complimenting Executive Secretary Kurdt for having been awarded a certificate upon his completion of the course of study offered there. Directors of the Chamber present at the Tuesday meeting included B. C. Anderson, Chester A. Baltz, Jr., L. V. Bogert, J. Ellis Briggs, James P. Byrne, Joseph Deegan, Raymond W. Garraghan, Lawrence J. MacAvery, Maynard Mizel, Lawrence A. Quilty, Henry Singer and Robert E Teetsel.

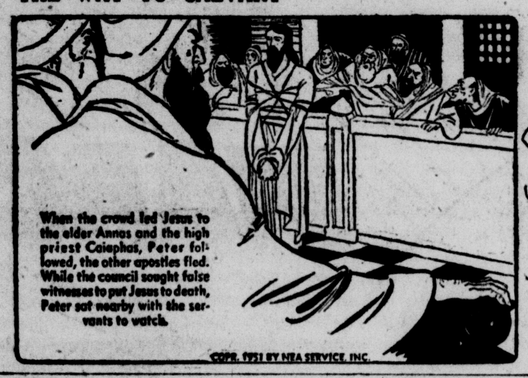
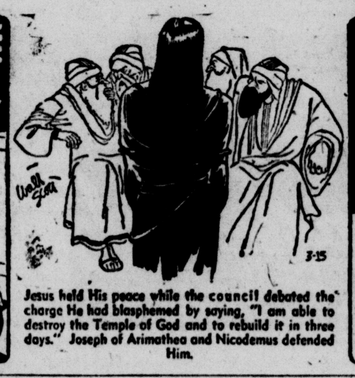
THE WAY TO CALVARY



When the crowd led Jesus to the elder Annas and the high priest Caiaphas, Peter followed, the other apostles fled. While the council sought false witnesses to put Jesus to death, Peter sat nearby with the servants to watch.

COPR. 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.



Jesus held His peace while the council debated the charge He had blasphemed by saying, "I am able to destroy the Temple of God and to rebuild it in three days." Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus defended Him.

Peter's Denial

Outside, Peter was accused of having been associated with "the Galilean." The apostle denied with an oath: "I do not know the man." Three times Peter was accused and uttered his denial, fulfilling Jesus' prophecy. The cock crew, and the apostle "went out and wept bitterly."

As Pegler Sees It

the old surroundings of the oft-told tale of Anna Gould, Consuelo Vanderbilt and the poor little American teenling who became Lady Decies. This was formulated stuff when Lindsay and Crouse were young. In some versions, the grand dame was put down in Newport, then a garish goal of many ridiculous aspirations. An old devotee of Sid Euson's, the Folly and the Trocadero, in low quarters of Chicago, watching Ethel Merman bounce within the limitations of a sorry book, I could almost hear those high-busted queens of an olden time squawk, "why the very audacity!" as some Leon Errol squirted seltzer in the grand duke's eye.

Lindsay and Crouse are political partisans, but far be it from me to intimate that they ignored inviting openings for intelligent, political satire for ignoble reasons. I believe they were as true to their art as their feeble originality let them. The pity is that Mrs. Mesta's legation to Luxembourg as a serio-comic political theme did not occur to some writer who was up to it in satire, knowledge and imagination. As it is, their humorous maximum is reached when Miss Merman gets in bad for crossing her knees in the presence of the duke and duchess and explains this gaucherie with a blur of dull smut which, nevertheless, done by Merman, comes out comic.

Her voice is less melodious than some, including, even, for all I know, Margaret Truman's. It is even a coarse, rowdy voice, but what is that sound in the duet with young Russell Nype that brings them back and back until the show falls behind schedule? If that isn't singing, it is something that a lot of girls who sing should do instead.

Haver Continues Work as Counsel To Manning Group

N. LeVan Haver, attorney of 41 Pearl street, this city, said today his work as counsel for the Manning committee is continuing at Albany. He began his work in June, 1949.

The Manning committee is the joint legislative body which prepared reports relative to the passage of the weight-distance truck tax legislation, which was signed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey March 13.

Haver, former county district attorney, said legislation is in the hopper at Albany for continuing work of the group.

Haver was a member of the official body which visited Oregon in February to review that state's system of operating a similar law.

Peak year of Alaskan gold production was 1940, with $26,458,951 worth.

1,996 Die in Accidents

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Traffic accidents in New York state last year killed 1,996 persons—2.5 per cent more than the 1949 toll. However, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher said yesterday that the 1950 death rate per 100,000,000 miles of vehicle travel was 6.1, lowest on record. The previous low was 6.4 in 1949. The 1950 national average was 7.5. Drivers in New York drove a record of 32,760,000,000 miles in 1950, compared to the previous mark of 30,400,000,000, Fletcher reported.

28 Bases Activated

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The air force has announced the temporary activation of 28 additional bases to provide training for air national guard units recently ordered into active service. The deactivation of some of the fields had previously become known publicly, the air force said yesterday.

Chamber Lauds Baseball, Teetsel; Talks Industry

At its regular meeting this week, the Kingston Chamber of Commerce devoted its agenda to:

Organized baseball for Kingston.

Industrial expansion.

Recognition of the public service rendered by Robert E. Teetsel to the city during his two terms as president.

During the session at the Governor Clinton Hotel, the new tax committee of the Chamber reported it favored passage of the Hughes-Brees Bill opposed by organized labor as contrary to A.F.L. and C.I.O. views on unemployment insurance.

Baseball Helps City

Relative to the baseball situation, President Lawrence J. MacAvery said the majority of the directors of the chamber expressed the hope that the citizens would support the Can-Am League here during the summer.

MacAvery said baseball is important to the community in three ways: As a form of outdoor recreation, as an attraction drawing many to Kingston and also in the line of publicizing the city.

Along with lauding the present program, the directors of the Chamber complimented the relatively small group of public spirited citizens that cleared the Kingston territory of all baseball liens last year and made it possible to continue the consideration of professional baseball.

MacAvery pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce believes the present baseball project should be supported as a community promotion project.

On Industrial Expansion

The industrial expansion discussion centered around an article appearing in the March issue of the Kiwanis magazine. It pointed out that substantial industries do not desire concessions, but look for strong communities having businesslike government, a community with aggressive spirit with wholesome recreational facilities, strong churches, adequate housing, good shopping centers and strong character-building organizations.

His Guidance Helped

A resolution honoring Past President Teetsel for the public service he gave during his term in 1949-50 stressed that his "leadership helped restore the Chamber of Commerce as a vital force in community progress during trying times for our organization."

It was presented by James P. Byrne, chairman of a special committee that composed the citation. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Printed in the form of a scroll, and signed by all the officers and directors, it cited that:

President Teetsel accepted the chairmanship of the membership committee early in 1948, increased the roster of the organization; made sound decisions for progress and served with such outstanding distinction that he was chosen to serve two terms in 1949 and 1950.

Seeking 525 Members

Executive Secretary Albert Kurdt reported 443 active members at present, 45 of whom are new. The latest application came from George G. McCarthy, local district manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Company. His application was approved.

The membership quota for the coming fiscal year has been set at 525. The majority of memberships are payable on May 1.

Treasurer Chester A. Baltz, Jr., reported that the current budget year would end on April 30 with a small balance.

The budget committee for 1951-52 is made up of Treasurer Baltz, Joseph Deegan, Victor H. Roth, and Robert E. Teetsel. They will report at the April 10th meeting.

As a result of two recent meetings, the new tax committee, reported favoring passage of the Hughes-Brees bill relating to unemployment insurance. It also favored the extension of the moratorium on the provision of the permissive tax law relating to the gross business receipts tax.

The committee's report stressed it would continue its study of local taxes needed to operate Kingston city government.

President MacAvery read a letter from Don Marcellus, director of the Northeastern Institute for Commercial Organization Secretaries at Yale University, complimenting Executive Secretary Kurdt for having been awarded a certificate upon his completion of the course of study offered there. Directors of the Chamber present at the Tuesday meeting included B. C. Anderson, Chester A. Baltz, Jr., L. V. Bogert, J. Ellis Briggs, James P. Byrne, Joseph Deegan, Raymond W. Garraghan, Lawrence J. MacAvery, Maynard Mizel, Lawrence A. Quilty, Henry Singer and Robert E Teetsel.

THE WAY TO CALVARY

Peter's Denial

As Pegler Sees It

the old surroundings of the oft-told tale of Anna Gould, Consuelo Vanderbilt and the poor little American teenling who became Lady Decies. This was formulated stuff when Lindsay and Crouse were young. In some versions, the grand dame was put down in Newport, then a garish goal of many ridiculous aspirations. An old devotee of Sid Euson's, the Folly and the Trocadero, in low quarters of Chicago, watching Ethel Merman bounce within the limitations of a sorry book, I could almost hear those high-busted queens of an olden time squawk, "why the very audacity!" as some Leon Errol squirted seltzer in the grand duke's eye.

Lindsay and Crouse are political partisans, but far be it from me to intimate that they ignored inviting openings for intelligent, political satire for ignoble reasons. I believe they were as true to their art as their feeble originality let them. The pity is that Mrs. Mesta's legation to Luxembourg as a serio-comic political theme did not occur to some writer who was up to it in satire, knowledge and imagination. As it is, their humorous maximum is reached when Miss Merman gets in bad for crossing her knees in the presence of the duke and duchess and explains this gaucherie with a blur of dull smut which, nevertheless, done by Merman, comes out comic.

Her voice is less melodious than some, including, even, for all I know, Margaret Truman's. It is even a coarse, rowdy voice, but what is that sound in the duet with young Russell Nype that brings them back and back until the show falls behind schedule? If that isn't singing, it is something that a lot of girls who sing should do instead.

Haver Continues Work as Counsel To Manning Group

N. LeVan Haver, attorney of 41 Pearl street, this city, said today his work as counsel for the Manning committee is continuing at Albany. He began his work in June, 1949.

The Manning committee is the joint legislative body which prepared reports relative to the passage of the weight-distance truck tax legislation, which was signed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey March 13.

Haver, former county district attorney, said legislation is in the hopper at Albany for continuing work of the group.

Haver was a member of the official body which visited Oregon in February to review that state's system of operating a similar law.

1,996 Die in Accidents

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Traffic accidents in New York state last year killed 1,996 persons—2.5 per cent more than the 1949 toll. However, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher said yesterday that the 1950 death rate per 100,000,000 miles of vehicle travel was 6.1, lowest on record. The previous low was 6.4 in 1949. The 1950 national average was 7.5. Drivers in New York drove a record of 32,760,000,000 miles in 1950, compared to the previous mark of 30,400,000,000, Fletcher reported.

The U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting station announces the enlistment of two local men for the air force. They are John G. Bujak of 75 Third avenue and Richard J. Little of 32 Hurley avenue. Both have been assigned to the 3650th Indoctrination Wing, Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva. Private Bujak attended Kingston High School and more recently was employed at Hercules. Private Little graduated from Kingston High School with the 1948 class.

With U. S. 1st Cavalry Division on Korean battlefront — Private Rosario J. Bellio, son of Mrs. Rose Bellio, Rosendale road, R. 1, Kingston, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman's Badge in Korea while serving as an infantryman with the 7th Cavalry regiment. This badge, which is only awarded frontline combat infantrymen, distinguishes the actual fighting man from the rear area and service troops in a combat zone. A soldier must be a member of an infantry regiment to be eligible to receive it.

Woman, Husband Awarded $7,000

Mary Poulakis of New York was awarded $5,000 for injuries which she suffered on July 24, 1949, when the car of Nicholas Paleologos in which she was a guest and a car of Samuel Safronoff, New York attorney, collided near Veteran. Her husband, James Poulakis, was awarded $2,000 damages for medical expenses and loss of services. Mrs. Poulakis was injured about the face and head and also sustained a cut on the knee.

The verdict was returned in Supreme Court late Wednesday afternoon and was against both Paleologos and Safronoff. N. LeVan Haver, trial counsel for Rosenblum and Lamb of Saugerties, attorneys for plaintiffs, and Cashin & Ewig, attorneys for defendant Safronoff reserved making motions in relation to the verdict until later. Joseph S. McCann, attorney for Paleologos, moved to set aside the verdict and his motion was denied by Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth.

After the foreman of the jury had reported the verdict, McCann asked that the jury be polled and when Clerk Ward Tongue asked each juror whether the verdict recorded was a true verdict, 11 of the jurors reported the verdict as recorded was their verdict. Ada Mary Stauble of Hurley replied in the negative and the verdict was recorded as an 11 to 1 finding. Only one man was on the jury.

Justice Elsworth gave McCann 30 days to file an appeal and an additional 60 days in the event an appeal is taken from the verdict.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL
A Column of Contrary Opinion

Economic programs that are stimulated by government money and prodding move forward by fits and starts. The trend of activity follows a zig-zag pattern.

At the moment we seem to be in one of the halting stages: Production of armament goods awaits the conversion of plants and building of new ones, while civilian goods pour off production lines in much larger supply than was expected.

It would not be surprising, therefore, if there were a brief let-down this spring, but everything approaching a full-fledged "recession" appears highly improbable.

War production will gradually pick up momentum. Orders are now going out to industries in huge amounts—totalling billions of dollars—and as the conversion problems are whipped war production will rapidly increase. It may appear on the surface, over the next few weeks, that we are not making much headway in producing war material, but once over this hurdle you will hear of production miracles that will open your eyes.

During this spring "hiatus" civilian goods may be slowed down somewhat in manufacturing industries because there is a mountain of goods on hand right now. Inventories have backed up. That seems clear from reports of warehouses that are full of merchandise and household equipment.

However, there is not much danger today in overstocked inventories, because purchasing power of the public will remain high. In other booms, when inventories have piled up on dealers' shelves and in manufacturers' warehouses, the necessity for liquidating the overstocked inventories was a forerunner of a depression. In order to catch up, manufacturers cut production and employment, thus bringing about a let-down all along the line—in particular a let-down in purchasing power. Today, to the contrary, defense orders will come along to fill the breach. Therefore, except for temporary dislocations and spotty "conversion stoppages" there is no foreseeable reason for a recession. The overstocked inventories can be worked off, so long as people have money to spend.

It looks to this observer as if conditions might get very healthy, in fact. Booms are always dangerous, even in times like the present. If, therefore, through the defense program we can collapse the boom, as seems probable, without having a "bust" it will be a most encouraging development.

At the same time, the fire is being damped in the inflation.

At long last, the monetary authorities are throttling "the engines of inflation." While only a start has been made, nevertheless it is an auspicious start.

The sharp slump in bond prices last week is an indication that bonds may soon find their true level "of supply and demand." And that interest rates may be allowed also to seek their own levels, without the artificial support of the Federal Reserve System and the Treasury Department.

It is too early to predict to what levels interest rates will climb. Some observers think that last week's declines in bond prices already mark the levels where demands will hold prices steady. It would seem to the Ruminator that this is a bit previous. One week is not sufficient time to adjust a market to "free prices" following nearly 10 years of supported and manipulated prices. Ever since the start of World War 2—and even before that—the money markets and interest rates have been under the control of the government and the Federal Reserve banks. Certainly, a 10-year "habit" will not be erased and adjusted in one week. It seems far more likely that prices of bonds and interest rates in general will fluctuate raggedly for sometime.

The fluctuations in bond prices and in money rates will also have some influence in the stock market. If interest rates rise to any marked degree—thus far there have been only fractional increases—it would be normal for this development to adversely affect stock prices, that have enjoyed a long upward trend. Doubtless the reason for the stock market's hesitation over the last month is traceable to this money-market situation. Investors are pondering what lies ahead, and are taking new bearings. The Ruminator rather imagines that this "waiting period" may be prolonged sometime, before a new trend takes form.

Air Force Men Rescued

Anchorage, Alaska, March 15 (AP)—Six air force men were snatched to safety from their floating camp site 130 miles north of the tip of Alaska in the Arctic Ocean Monday, the Alaskan Air Command disclosed today. A big grinding iceberg which looked like its nickname — Cathedral — was blamed. The camp—an experimental air rescue station — had been established Feb. 20 on a huge ice floe. Sunday the icepack and an iceberg began to overlap, with huge chunks being broken off. When forced to depart, the men left behind all but a very few items.

Red Cross, Topic At Rotary Meeting

Mrs. Dorothy S. Fasanella, general field representative of the American Red Cross in this area, gave a first-hand account of various phases of Red Cross assistance at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting at the Hotel Stuyvesant on Wednesday.

Disaster relief, home service, aid to veterans and blood donor service were included in the work of the Red Cross as outlined by the field representative.

The speaker brought out that although granted a charter by Congress, the Red Cross receives no money from the government, being supported entirely by popular subscription.

American Red Cross national headquarters is in Washington, D. C. Area offices are in New York city, Alexandria, Va., St. Louis, Mo. and San Francisco, Calif.

Through wartime experience and necessity, the Red Cross has expanded many of the familiar welfare and educational programs and has added new activities to meet present-day needs. One of the latest is participation in civilian blood donor programs. The aim of this Red Cross service is to help meet a vital need in supplying sufficient blood and blood derivatives for civilian use.

Services to veterans provided by local chapters include assistance in applying for government benefits, guidance in personal and family problems, information and referrals when the special resources of other agencies are needed.

During her talk, Mrs. Fasanella illustrated the extent of Red Cross aid by reciting relief work in Ulster county and surrounding territory.

The annual Kingston Rotary Ladies' Night will be held on Wednesday, April 4, at Williams Lake. The announcement was made by Chairman Dr. John A. Cooke.

John Henry Martin announced that the Rotary sponsored trip for the Kingston High School graduation class to Lake Success will take place Friday, April 13.

Congress is now considering a postal economy bill that may do away with one of the nation's few remaining one-cent bargains—the penny postcard. But of some consolation is the knowledge that a penny will still buy, in most places, the items pictured above. In areas where none of these purchases can be made, the man with a penny is advised to win appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy, where coppers are tossed at Tecumseh's statue for good luck by Middier marching to their final exams.

Shay Gets Sentenced

Lansing, Mich., March 15 (AP)—Richard C. Shay, the 10-year-old state worker who admitted setting Michigan's $4,000,000 state office building fire, was sentenced to four to 10 years in prison today. Shay said he set the fire because he thought a criminal record might bar him from army service.

They Stand in Line

Long Beach, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Pete, the personality polecat, has his admirers standing in line. No movie star, besieged at a premiere by authograph hunters, was ever so popular as Pete. The City Animal Shelter says it received 750 calls yesterday from persons who want to adopt this three-year-old civet. He's odorless, and of course that helps, but he's an unusually friendly creature, and the animal shelter says the 750 calls constitute a new record. The old record was 250 calls. It was established by a skunk, too. The shelter once received 100 calls for an alligator. Dogs? The telephone seldom rings for a dog.

Reunion Reports Heard

Hollywood, March 15 (AP)—Reports of a reunion between actress Elizabeth Taylor and Conrad (Nick) Hilton, heir to a hotel fortune, buzzed through the movie colony today. Frank Bogert, manager of the Thunderbird Hotel at Palm Springs, Calif., said the couple dined and danced there last Monday night, held hands and kissed. Miss Taylor divorced Hilton last Jan. 30, testifying he abused and neglected her. They were married last May 6 and separated seven months later. The couple could not be reached for comment.

Red Cross, Topic At Rotary Meeting

Mrs. Dorothy S. Fasanella, general field representative of the American Red Cross in this area, gave a first-hand account of various phases of Red Cross assistance at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting at the Hotel Stuyvesant on Wednesday.

Disaster relief, home service, aid to veterans and blood donor service were included in the work of the Red Cross as outlined by the field representative.

The speaker brought out that although granted a charter by Congress, the Red Cross receives no money from the government, being supported entirely by popular subscription.

American Red Cross national headquarters is in Washington, D. C. Area offices are in New York city, Alexandria, Va., St. Louis, Mo. and San Francisco, Calif.

Through wartime experience and necessity, the Red Cross has expanded many of the familiar welfare and educational programs and has added new activities to meet present-day needs. One of the latest is participation in civilian blood donor programs. The aim of this Red Cross service is to help meet a vital need in supplying sufficient blood and blood derivatives for civilian use.

Services to veterans provided by local chapters include assistance in applying for government benefits, guidance in personal and family problems, information and referrals when the special resources of other agencies are needed.

During her talk, Mrs. Fasanella illustrated the extent of Red Cross aid by reciting relief work in Ulster county and surrounding territory.

The annual Kingston Rotary Ladies' Night will be held on Wednesday, April 4, at Williams Lake. The announcement was made by Chairman Dr. John A. Cooke.

John Henry Martin announced that the Rotary sponsored trip for the Kingston High School graduation class to Lake Success will take place Friday, April 13.

Congress is now considering a postal economy bill that may do away with one of the nation's few remaining one-cent bargains—the penny postcard. But of some consolation is the knowledge that a penny will still buy, in most places, the items pictured above. In areas where none of these purchases can be made, the man with a penny is advised to win appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy, where coppers are tossed at Tecumseh's statue for good luck by Middier marching to their final exams.

Shay Gets Sentenced

Lansing, Mich., March 15 (AP)—Richard C. Shay, the 10-year-old state worker who admitted setting Michigan's $4,000,000 state office building fire, was sentenced to four to 10 years in prison today. Shay said he set the fire because he thought a criminal record might bar him from army service.

They Stand in Line

Long Beach, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Pete, the personality polecat, has his admirers standing in line. No movie star, besieged at a premiere by authograph hunters, was ever so popular as Pete. The City Animal Shelter says it received 750 calls yesterday from persons who want to adopt this three-year-old civet. He's odorless, and of course that helps, but he's an unusually friendly creature, and the animal shelter says the 750 calls constitute a new record. The old record was 250 calls. It was established by a skunk, too. The shelter once received 100 calls for an alligator. Dogs? The telephone seldom rings for a dog.

Reunion Reports Heard

Hollywood, March 15 (AP)—Reports of a reunion between actress Elizabeth Taylor and Conrad (Nick) Hilton, heir to a hotel fortune, buzzed through the movie colony today. Frank Bogert, manager of the Thunderbird Hotel at Palm Springs, Calif., said the couple dined and danced there last Monday night, held hands and kissed. Miss Taylor divorced Hilton last Jan. 30, testifying he abused and neglected her. They were married last May 6 and separated seven months later. The couple could not be reached for comment.

Red Cross Part In Civilian Defense

The protection of the civil population in the event of a national emergency involving enemy action is a function of governmental authority. The appropriate civil officials are responsible for planning to meet such an emergency and for the operation of facilities which are developed. As an important member of the national and local community, the American Red Cross has a significant contribution to make both to the preparation for emergency action and to the action itself.

The role of the Red Cross in civil defense, therefore, involves the furnishing of supplementary assistance and support in the following specific ways:

(a) Training civil defense workers and the general public in first aid;

(b) Training in home care of the sick and injured, and nurses aide activities;

(c) Provision of food, clothing, and temporary shelter on a mass care basis during an immediate emergency period;

(d) Participation in a wartime nation-wide blood program; and

(e) Making available its existing organized chapter volunteers and resources for participation in civil defense.

These activities are in addition to the regular responsibilities of the Red Cross in the fields of service to the armed forces, disaster relief, and health and safety. To the fullest extent of its ability, the Red Cross will expand its facilities in order to meet the new needs in civil defense.

Women Move to Sampson

Sampson Air Force Base, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—This new air force recruit training base soon will have a bit of the feminine look. But it won't be chintz at the windows, for the women's air force will be here on business—to train its own rookies. Col. Geraldine May, WAF director, looked Sampson over yesterday. She said the total WAF complement here will be about 1,600 at a time, including a permanent staff. WAF recruits will be trained for jobs at other air forces bases.

The state flower of Montana is the bitter root.

EGGS ARE THE SYMBOL OF EASTER

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Fresh, life-giving eggs have always been a symbol of Easter. Now is the time, therefore, to brush up on egg cookery. Eggs are plentiful and an important budget food.

Poached Eggs

Bring water in shallow pan to the boiling point—enough to have about two inches of water. Reduce heat to hold temperature at simmering. Break each egg into a sauce dish and slip egg into water quickly at the surface. Cook 3 to 5 minutes depending on the firmness desired. Remove eggs with slotted pancake turner or spoon, and drain.

Salt and vinegar are unnecessary to poaching. Milk or broth may be used instead of water.

Broiled Eggs

Heat just enough fat to grease a shallow skillet or flame-proof baking dish. When fat is just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water, break eggs and slip into skillet—from a sauce dish if preferred. Cook on top the range just until eggs turn white, about 1 minute. Place skillet in heated broiler and broil eggs at moderate temperature to desired doneness, 2 to 4 minutes.

Variations: Pour 1 tablespoon of cream per egg into skillet when edges are white and before placing in broiler.

Sprinkle over eggs 1 teaspoon grated cheese or buttered crumbs before placing in broiler.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, ready-to-eat cereal, hot cross buns, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Puffy omelet, hot buttered toast, tart jelly, ginger pears, tea, milk.

Baked (Shirred) Eggs

Break and slip 1 or 2 eggs into greased individual shallow baking dishes. Bake in slow over (325 degrees F.) 12 to 18 minutes, depending upon firmness desired. Serve from baking dishes.

Variations: Circle a strip of partially cooked bacon around edge of dish.

Line bottom of dishes with buttered crumbs. Place a slice of cheese atop crumbs, then break eggs into dish. Top with grated cheese or crumbs. Proceed as above.

Pour 1 to 2 tablespoons cream into each dish. Break eggs into dish and proceed as above.

French Omelet
(Serves 2)

Three eggs, 3 tablespoons milk or water, ⅜ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, scant, 1 tablespoon fat.

Mix eggs, milk, salt and pepper thoroughly. Avoid foaminess. Heat fat in skillet (aprox. 8-in) just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Reduce heat. As the mixture at the edges begins to thicken, draw the cooked portions with the fork toward the center so that the uncooked portions flow to the bottom. Tilt skillet as it is necessary to hasten flow of uncooked eggs. Do not stir and keep mixture as level as possible. When eggs no longer flow and surface is still moist, increase heat to brown bottom quickly. Carefully loosen edge. Fold in half or roll. Total cooking time—5 to 8 minutes.

EGGS ARE THE SYMBOL OF EASTER

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Fresh, life-giving eggs have always been a symbol of Easter. Now is the time, therefore, to brush up on egg cookery. Eggs are plentiful and an important budget food.

Poached Eggs

Bring water in shallow pan to the boiling point—enough to have about two inches of water. Reduce heat to hold temperature at simmering. Break each egg into a sauce dish and slip egg into water quickly at the surface. Cook 3 to 5 minutes depending on the firmness desired. Remove eggs with slotted pancake turner or spoon, and drain.

Salt and vinegar are unnecessary to poaching. Milk or broth may be used instead of water.

Broiled Eggs

Heat just enough fat to grease a shallow skillet or flame-proof baking dish. When fat is just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water, break eggs and slip into skillet—from a sauce dish if preferred. Cook on top the range just until eggs turn white, about 1 minute. Place skillet in heated broiler and broil eggs at moderate temperature to desired doneness, 2 to 4 minutes.

Variations: Pour 1 tablespoon of cream per egg into skillet when edges are white and before placing in broiler.

Sprinkle over eggs 1 teaspoon grated cheese or buttered crumbs before placing in broiler.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, ready-to-eat cereal, hot cross buns, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Puffy omelet, hot buttered toast, tart jelly, ginger pears, tea, milk.

Baked (Shirred) Eggs

Break and slip 1 or 2 eggs into greased individual shallow baking dishes. Bake in slow over (325 degrees F.) 12 to 18 minutes, depending upon firmness desired. Serve from baking dishes.

Variations: Circle a strip of partially cooked bacon around edge of dish.

Line bottom of dishes with buttered crumbs. Place a slice of cheese atop crumbs, then break eggs into dish. Top with grated cheese or crumbs. Proceed as above.

Pour 1 to 2 tablespoons cream into each dish. Break eggs into dish and proceed as above.

Three eggs, 3 tablespoons milk or water, ⅜ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, scant, 1 tablespoon fat.

Mix eggs, milk, salt and pepper thoroughly. Avoid foaminess. Heat fat in skillet (aprox. 8-in) just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Reduce heat. As the mixture at the edges begins to thicken, draw the cooked portions with the fork toward the center so that the uncooked portions flow to the bottom. Tilt skillet as it is necessary to hasten flow of uncooked eggs. Do not stir and keep mixture as level as possible. When eggs no longer flow and surface is still moist, increase heat to brown bottom quickly. Carefully loosen edge. Fold in half or roll. Total cooking time—5 to 8 minutes.

The National Capital Parks of Washington, D. C., and adjacent areas is the largest metropolitan park system in the world.

Memorizing Testament

Folsom State Prison, Calif. (AP)—Prisoner James Watt isn't idling away the time he's serving for attempted burglary. He's memorizing the New Testament. He says he can now recite two-thirds of it and that he hopes to have finished the task by the time he becomes eligible for parole in the fall.

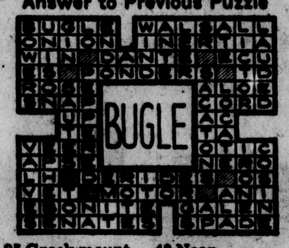
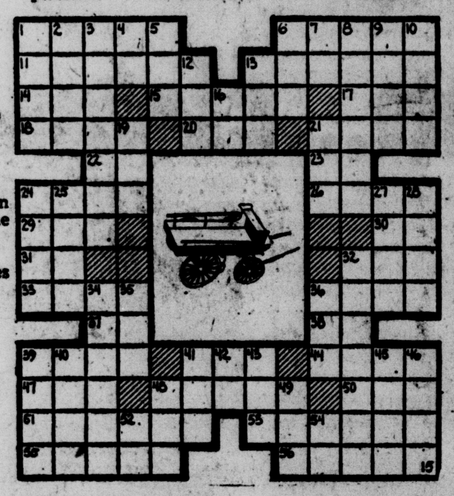
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Thirty-one species and one subspecies of birds were counted on one winter day in Shenandoah National Park, Virginia.

Several of the geysers, hot springs and pools in Yellowstone Park have to be cleaned annually of objects thrown in by tourists.

UN Troops Return

while over the northwest coast, but there was no word on the fate of the pilot.

Communist anti-aircraft guns also hit an F-51 Mustang. The pilot crashed in the U. S. Third Division area near Seoul. He was rescued by helicopter.

Two Planes Return

Two other American planes met heavy anti-aircraft fire but returned safely.

On the east-central front, U. S. Seventh Division troops won a day-long battle with Reds after ambushing the Communists in their own trap set up to wipe out the doughboys.

"We found a dead Gook in every foxhole," said one G.I. after the clash. The body of a North Korean colonel was reported among the 42 Communist dead counted after the seven-hour fight.

The U. S. Second Division, fighting on the left of the Seventh, gained against the stiffest Red resistance it had met since the Communists began their front line pull-back last week.

A preliminary count showed the Second Division troops killed 350 Communists, wounded 250 and captured eight in a single skirmish north of Yudong.

A spokesman for the U. S. 10th Corps said that despite the stiff Red resistance "all signs—existence of mines, roadblocks and delaying tactics—point to a continuing enemy withdrawal toward the 38th Parallel."

B-29s Slug Railways

U. S. B-29s from Okinawa bases slugged railyards and bridges on the main Communist supply line in western Korea with 190 tons of bombs. Twenty Superforts took part in the attack.

U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters and light bombers flew 732 sorties up to 6 p. m. Thursday in continued hammering at Red military targets throughout North Korea.

Pilots reported they killed or wounded 180 troops and destroyed 68 vehicles carrying men and supplies, a locomotive, an ammunition dump, three field pieces and four gun emplacements.

Reoccupation by the Allies marked the fourth time the Republican capital of Seoul has changed hands since the war began June 25.

Patrols of the South Korean First Division and the U. S. Third Division entered Seoul Wednesday night. The South Koreans ran up their flag over the fireblackened capitol building.

Of the normal 1,500,000 civilian population, only about 200,000 were left in the war-wracked city.

The Allies entered in strength Thursday.

At first all was quiet. Then the timid, frightened people came out of their wrecked houses by ones, by twos, by groups.

Word spread quickly that the United Nations soldiers were back.

The recapture of the capital was a magnificent morale booster to Republican Koreans. But the Allied command had its eye on a target of far more military importance.

That target was vital Chunchon.

The Reds must hold that key supply base if they intend to remain in South Korea.

Agent Says Dope

derworld figure Joe Adonis had a "reputation of being connected" with rackets.

"Did you make an investigation of this?" he was asked.

"No, I did not," he answered.

Q. Did you cause an investigation to be made of well-known racketeers?

A. No.

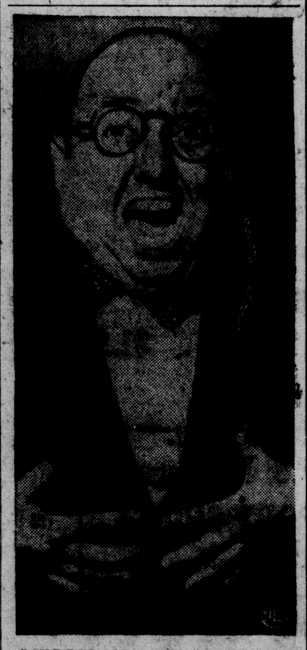
He also conceded he never probed into the affairs of Costello, who has been named as Adonis' boss in a crime combine.

He said he and O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico, worked out the plan for the anti-rackets squad, which Bals described as "more of an information squad." He said the special plainclothes force sought "information on crime to analyze crime from day to day" and "information on gambling together with rackets."

Bals denied he contributed to O'Dwyer's 1945 campaign, or that he solicited funds for it.

Bals now lives at (1945 Karen Drive) Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Between 1598 and 1633, Spanish padres built 90 churches in New Mexico.



MERRY HA! HA!—Unique in this sourpuss world is 200-pound Dick Collier, of New York, who laughs for a living. Here "Mr. Giggles" demonstrates the rib-straining guffaw that is the secret of his success.

Regents Endorse

cost-of-living payments for the current school year.

The over-all program has been denounced by the teachers union of New York city, which claims to represent about 5,000 grade and high school teachers. The group termed it "a sop and an insult to the teaching staff."

The board of directors of the State Teachers Association, which represents 47,000 upstate teachers, has endorsed the Dewey proposal.

The major bill would increase from five to 10 the automatic, annual salary increments in the 16-year minimum pay scheduled spread. It would reduce from six to two the merit or "promotional" increments, based on local evaluation of teaching service, and eliminate the percentage requirement of teachers to whom such raises must be given.

Would Increase Range

Under terms of the bill, the minimum salary range for classroom teachers would increase:

From $2,000-$4,100 to $2,500-$4,600 in all districts having eight or more teachers, in rural areas outside of cities of 100,000 or more population, and in cities of less than 100,000 population.

From $2,200-$4,150 to $2,700-$5,010 in cities of 100,000 or more, but less than 1,000,000 population, and in Nassau and Westchester counties.

From $2,500-$5,125 to $3,000-$5,625 in New York city.

Teachers with masters' degrees would continue to receive an additional $200. High school teachers must have such a degree, and some grade school teachers have it.

The so-called single standard minimum pay schedules for high and elementary school teachers, set up by the Feinberg law, would not be changed.

Marine Flyer Rescued

Fifth Air Force Headquarters, Korea, March 15 (AP)—An air force helicopter piloted by Capt. Daniel Miller of Stony Point, N. Y., rescued a downed marine flyer from behind enemy lines today while fighter planes zoomed overhead, strafing and dropping fire bombs on Communist positions nearby. One protecting American fighter plane, a P-51 Mustang, was shot down by Communist small arms fire and crashed into a hill. The pilot was presumed dead. The helicopter succeeded in rescuing Maj. F. H. Presley, marine Corsair pilot from San Diego, Calif., who ran into small arms fire during a strafing run near Munsan, 30 miles northwest of Seoul, and crash landed.

while over the northwest coast, but there was no word on the fate of the pilot.

Communist anti-aircraft guns also hit an F-51 Mustang. The pilot crashed in the U. S. Third Division area near Seoul. He was rescued by helicopter.

Two Planes Return

Two other American planes met heavy anti-aircraft fire but returned safely.

On the east-central front, U. S. Seventh Division troops won a day-long battle with Reds after ambushing the Communists in their own trap set up to wipe out the doughboys.

"We found a dead Gook in every foxhole," said one G.I. after the clash. The body of a North Korean colonel was reported among the 42 Communist dead counted after the seven-hour fight.

The U. S. Second Division, fighting on the left of the Seventh, gained against the stiffest Red resistance it had met since the Communists began their front line pull-back last week.

A preliminary count showed the Second Division troops killed 350 Communists, wounded 250 and captured eight in a single skirmish north of Yudong.

A spokesman for the U. S. 10th Corps said that despite the stiff Red resistance "all signs—existence of mines, roadblocks and delaying tactics—point to a continuing enemy withdrawal toward the 38th Parallel."

B-29s Slug Railways

U. S. B-29s from Okinawa bases slugged railyards and bridges on the main Communist supply line in western Korea with 190 tons of bombs. Twenty Superforts took part in the attack.

U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters and light bombers flew 732 sorties up to 6 p. m. Thursday in continued hammering at Red military targets throughout North Korea.

Pilots reported they killed or wounded 180 troops and destroyed 68 vehicles carrying men and supplies, a locomotive, an ammunition dump, three field pieces and four gun emplacements.

Reoccupation by the Allies marked the fourth time the Republican capital of Seoul has changed hands since the war began June 25.

Patrols of the South Korean First Division and the U. S. Third Division entered Seoul Wednesday night. The South Koreans ran up their flag over the fireblackened capitol building.

Of the normal 1,500,000 civilian population, only about 200,000 were left in the war-wracked city.

The Allies entered in strength Thursday.

At first all was quiet. Then the timid, frightened people came out of their wrecked houses by ones, by twos, by groups.

Word spread quickly that the United Nations soldiers were back.

The recapture of the capital was a magnificent morale booster to Republican Koreans. But the Allied command had its eye on a target of far more military importance.

That target was vital Chunchon.

The Reds must hold that key supply base if they intend to remain in South Korea.

Agent Says Dope

derworld figure Joe Adonis had a "reputation of being connected" with rackets.

"Did you make an investigation of this?" he was asked.

"No, I did not," he answered.

Q. Did you cause an investigation to be made of well-known racketeers?

A. No.

He also conceded he never probed into the affairs of Costello, who has been named as Adonis' boss in a crime combine.

He said he and O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico, worked out the plan for the anti-rackets squad, which Bals described as "more of an information squad." He said the special plainclothes force sought "information on crime to analyze crime from day to day" and "information on gambling together with rackets."

Bals denied he contributed to O'Dwyer's 1945 campaign, or that he solicited funds for it.

Bals now lives at (1945 Karen Drive) Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Between 1598 and 1633, Spanish padres built 90 churches in New Mexico.

MERRY HA! HA!—Unique in this sourpuss world is 200-pound Dick Collier, of New York, who laughs for a living. Here "Mr. Giggles" demonstrates the rib-straining guffaw that is the secret of his success.

Regents Endorse

cost-of-living payments for the current school year.

The over-all program has been denounced by the teachers union of New York city, which claims to represent about 5,000 grade and high school teachers. The group termed it "a sop and an insult to the teaching staff."

The board of directors of the State Teachers Association, which represents 47,000 upstate teachers, has endorsed the Dewey proposal.

The major bill would increase from five to 10 the automatic, annual salary increments in the 16-year minimum pay scheduled spread. It would reduce from six to two the merit or "promotional" increments, based on local evaluation of teaching service, and eliminate the percentage requirement of teachers to whom such raises must be given.

Would Increase Range

Under terms of the bill, the minimum salary range for classroom teachers would increase:

From $2,000-$4,100 to $2,500-$4,600 in all districts having eight or more teachers, in rural areas outside of cities of 100,000 or more population, and in cities of less than 100,000 population.

From $2,200-$4,150 to $2,700-$5,010 in cities of 100,000 or more, but less than 1,000,000 population, and in Nassau and Westchester counties.

From $2,500-$5,125 to $3,000-$5,625 in New York city.

Teachers with masters' degrees would continue to receive an additional $200. High school teachers must have such a degree, and some grade school teachers have it.

The so-called single standard minimum pay schedules for high and elementary school teachers, set up by the Feinberg law, would not be changed.

Marine Flyer Rescued

Fifth Air Force Headquarters, Korea, March 15 (AP)—An air force helicopter piloted by Capt. Daniel Miller of Stony Point, N. Y., rescued a downed marine flyer from behind enemy lines today while fighter planes zoomed overhead, strafing and dropping fire bombs on Communist positions nearby. One protecting American fighter plane, a P-51 Mustang, was shot down by Communist small arms fire and crashed into a hill. The pilot was presumed dead. The helicopter succeeded in rescuing Maj. F. H. Presley, marine Corsair pilot from San Diego, Calif., who ran into small arms fire during a strafing run near Munsan, 30 miles northwest of Seoul, and crash landed.

Davis sap-house and new-hung buckets buried deep; farmers couldn't water stock the first day; passenger train buried in cut below Brown's three days and took three engines and 75 shovelers from Kingston to get it out. One Shokan family lived on beans for three days."

Careful Planning Sets Contracts

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand first saw the light of day in a team-of-four match. As often happens in team matches, the game was made in one room, but defeated in the other.

In the first room, West cashed the top clubs and then shifted to hearts. Dummy won with the king of hearts and led a trump. East played the six, and South played the king. West won with the ace of spades and led another heart. Dummy won with the ace of hearts and declarer immediately laid down dummy's queen of spades.

Declarer's reasoning was very simple. He decided that the six of spades was not a false card. Hence East either had no more spades or only the jack. If East had no more spades, the contract was unmakable. If East had only the jack left, it was vital to trap it under the queen at once. Hence in this room declarer made his contract.

In the second room the play went the same way at the start. West cashed the clubs and led a heart. Declarer then led a spade from dummy, East followed with the six, and South played the king. In this room, however, West dropped the deuce of spades without any apparent thought.

The declarer in the second room naturally assumed that the ace of spades was in East's hand. Hence he returned the ten of spades from his own hand, and let it ride as a finesse against the jack. Of course, this was taken by East's jack of trumps, after which West's ace of trumps furnished the setting trick.

In this room it was West's reasoning that was very simple. He knew that four tricks were needed to defeat the contract. He had already taken two clubs and could count on the ace of trumps as a third sure trick. His partner could not have a heart trick and it was most unlikely he had a diamond trick. It was therefore essential to try for a second trump trick, and the method West chose was more likely to succeed than any other.

Two Children Die

New York, March 15 (AP)—Two Negro children died and a third was burned critically in a fire that swept an East Harlem apartment this morning. The dead were Francine Elizabeth Austin, three, who jumped from a top-floor window of the five-story tenement, and her one-year-old sister, Wanda Joy Austin, who was found dead in the apartment.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Careful Planning Sets Contracts

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand first saw the light of day in a team-of-four match. As often happens in team matches, the game was made in one room, but defeated in the other.

In the first room, West cashed the top clubs and then shifted to hearts. Dummy won with the king of hearts and led a trump. East played the six, and South played the king. West won with the ace of spades and led another heart. Dummy won with the ace of hearts and declarer immediately laid down dummy's queen of spades.

Declarer's reasoning was very simple. He decided that the six of spades was not a false card. Hence East either had no more spades or only the jack. If East had no more spades, the contract was unmakable. If East had only the jack left, it was vital to trap it under the queen at once. Hence in this room declarer made his contract.

In the second room the play went the same way at the start. West cashed the clubs and led a heart. Declarer then led a spade from dummy, East followed with the six, and South played the king. In this room, however, West dropped the deuce of spades without any apparent thought.

The declarer in the second room naturally assumed that the ace of spades was in East's hand. Hence he returned the ten of spades from his own hand, and let it ride as a finesse against the jack. Of course, this was taken by East's jack of trumps, after which West's ace of trumps furnished the setting trick.

In this room it was West's reasoning that was very simple. He knew that four tricks were needed to defeat the contract. He had already taken two clubs and could count on the ace of trumps as a third sure trick. His partner could not have a heart trick and it was most unlikely he had a diamond trick. It was therefore essential to try for a second trump trick, and the method West chose was more likely to succeed than any other.

SPRING'S AN ENSEMBLE

Here are three Easter costumes for different parts of the country. For a chilly or uncertain Easter Sunday, there's chiffon-like wool flannel (left) fashioned into a silver-and-gray two-piece dress by Coppola. For a cool to warm Easter, cloud-light wool milateen is used (center) by Monte-Sano for a slim dress with modified peplum. A black-and-gold print silk surrah dress by Eisenberg (right) might go to church in a warm climate. It could be accessorized with shining black patent leather.

New York — (NEA) — What you wear on Easter Sunday is largely determined by the climate in which you live. But there's something for everyone in fashion this Easter.

Since it's an ensemble spring, the dress ensemble provides the perfect answer to the problem posed by an uncertain spring climate. In sections of the country where Easter Sunday is likely to be cool, if not downright chilly, the ensemble looks fashion-right while it wards off spring breezes.

Chiffon-like wool flannel in silver and steel gray has been cut by Coppola into a dress ensemble composed of a short-sleeved dress topped by a capelet The neckline buttons high or low to reveal contrasting facings. A glimpse of under-panel shows at the center hemline. The cape, which is reversible, has turned-back cuffs. The two tones are used to make the belt.

Monte-Sano likes a cloud-light wool milateen for a dress to be worn on Easter Sunday in a climate that's mild. A low Regency neckline is edged in cloud-burst pleating that is also used for a deep hemline on the narrow skirt. A modified peplum is just slightly flared.

In a really warm climate, a dress in silk surrah is ideal. Eisenberg has designed just such a dress in a black-and-gold print. There's a small, rolled collar, a trim, fitted bodice and straight dirt with a slight side drape. Sleeves are short and cuffed. Shiny black patent is used to cinch in a neat waistline.

accident, and was reported in good condition at his home.

Since Saturday, about 400 gypsy men, women and children, had filled the hospital reception room and overflowed into the corridors and grounds.

Some followers came from Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington. Police were called out several times to assist in handling the crowds, many in gypsy costumes.

But last night Mrs. Sally Miller, of (125 Liberty avenue) Brooklyn, queen of the Gypsy Association of New York, arrived at the Westchester Square Hospital and instructed her followers to leave the hospital.

They did.

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The Assembly today passed the Dewey administration's $20,500,000 state aid program to help boost the minimum pay schedules for public school teachers by $500.

The measure was sent to the Senate for final legislative approval, probably late today. The Assembly vote was unanimous.

The Assembly also gave final legislative approval to a corollary measure to provide $8,000,000 for $100 cost-of-living increases for the current school year.

The Assembly action came shortly after the minimum salary schedule increase was endorsed by the State Board of Regents. The new minimums would become effective July 1.

This provision at present excludes local banks, none of which are capitalized for that sum. However there are banks in the Fourth District which have that capitalization including those of Albany and other larger cities in the capital district.

Under the proposed bill the counties of Westchester, Rockland, Putnam, Dutchess, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster, except the town of Woodstock would remain in the Third Banking District. SPRING'S AN ENSEMBLE

Here are three Easter costumes for different parts of the country. For a chilly or uncertain Easter Sunday, there's chiffon-like wool flannel (left) fashioned into a silver-and-gray two-piece dress by Coppola. For a cool to warm Easter, cloud-light wool milateen is used (center) by Monte-Sano for a slim dress with modified peplum. A black-and-gold print silk surrah dress by Eisenberg (right) might go to church in a warm climate. It could be accessorized with shining black patent leather.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

New York — (NEA) — What you wear on Easter Sunday is largely determined by the climate in which you live. But there's something for everyone in fashion this Easter.

Since it's an ensemble spring, the dress ensemble provides the perfect answer to the problem posed by an uncertain spring climate. In sections of the country where Easter Sunday is likely to be cool, if not downright chilly, the ensemble looks fashion-right while it wards off spring breezes.

Chiffon-like wool flannel in silver and steel gray has been cut by Coppola into a dress ensemble composed of a short-sleeved dress topped by a capelet The neckline buttons high or low to reveal contrasting facings. A glimpse of under-panel shows at the center hemline. The cape, which is reversible, has turned-back cuffs. The two tones are used to make the belt.

Monte-Sano likes a cloud-light wool milateen for a dress to be worn on Easter Sunday in a climate that's mild. A low Regency neckline is edged in cloud-burst pleating that is also used for a deep hemline on the narrow skirt. A modified peplum is just slightly flared.

In a really warm climate, a dress in silk surrah is ideal. Eisenberg has designed just such a dress in a black-and-gold print. There's a small, rolled collar, a trim, fitted bodice and straight cut with a slight side drape. Sleeves are short and cuffed. Shiny black patent is used to cinch in a neat waistline.

accident, and was reported in good condition at his home.

Since Saturday, about 400 gypsy men, women and children, had filled the hospital reception room and overflowed into the corridors and grounds.

Some followers came from Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington. Police were called out several times to assist in handling the crowds, many in gypsy costumes.

But last night Mrs. Sally Miller, of (125 Liberty avenue) Brooklyn, queen of the Gypsy Association of New York, arrived at the Westchester Square Hospital and instructed her followers to leave the hospital.

They did.

Kings and queens of Gypsy Association are not necessarily husband and wife.

Late Bulletin

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The Assembly today passed the Dewey administration's $20,500,000 state aid program to help boost the minimum pay schedules for public school teachers by $500.

The measure was sent to the Senate for final legislative approval, probably late today. The Assembly vote was unanimous.

The Assembly also gave final legislative approval to a corollary measure to provide $8,000,000 for $100 cost-of-living increases for the current school year.

The Assembly action came shortly after the minimum salary schedule increase was endorsed by the State Board of Regents. The new minimums would become effective July 1.

Miss Nan Merriman, Young Mezzo-Soprano, To Close Current Community Concert Series

Miss Nan Merriman, a young American mezzo-soprano, who has been hailed by Paris critics for "a voice of gold and velvet, moving without effort," will bring to a close the '50-'51 Community Concert Association series Monday evening. Miss Merriman will appear at 8:30 p. m. in the Kingston High School auditorium.

Miss Merriman, who is American born and trained, has, for a young concert artist, reached many enviable milestones in her music career. During the past season she has sung six times with Arturo Toscanini. On a recent tour she achieved somewhat of a record one month, when she sung with four separate symphony orchestras: the Boston "Pops" Symphony, and the Philadelphia, Oklahoma, and Wichita orchestras. In fact, Miss Merriman is said to be in constant demand for solo appearances with the nation's leading symphonies.

NAN MERRIMAN

Four Hectic Weeks

Probably one of the most hectic interludes in Miss Merriman's career came during the '47-'48 season, when, during a four week period, her schedule called for seven Carnegie hall appearances: three with Stokowski and the New York Philharmonic in de Falla's El Amor Brujo; three with Bruno Walter conducting the same orchestra in Beethoven's Missa Solemnis; and one with Toscanini and the NBC Symphony in Verdi's Requiem.

Miss Merriman, who has appeared with more than 40 orchestras throughout the country, was also chosen by Leonard Bernstein to create the leading role in his Jeremiah Symphony.

Pittsburgh Born

Miss Merriman, a native of Pittsburgh, moved to Los Angeles when she had reached the adolescent age of 15. It wasn't until after she had graduated from high school that she began serious voice study. She worked hard. Daytime found her working as a secretary, while her evenings were spent studying voice and vocalizing. She first won recognition through concert competitions which led to a solo part in the Hollywood Bowl Easter sunrise service.

Two years later the young mezzo-soprano was selected for a role in the Cincinnati Summer Opera opening night performance of La Gioconda. The next year she won the nation-wide competition of the National Federation of Music Clubs, receiving a five year contract with NBC. It was while singing on her broadcasts that she was discovered by Toscanini.

Plans Underway

Although Miss Merriman's concert, which will include selections from the works of Debussy, Bizet, and de Falla, officially closes the local association's current series, plans are already underway for next season.

The Community Concert Association has announced the re-engagement of the Indianapolis Symphony for one concert next year, with Fabien Sevitzsky conducting. Two other concerts are also planned.

Memberships for the concert series, it was announced, may be obtained during the campaign week, May 6 through 13. Mrs. Benjamin W. Johnston, 274 Clinton avenue, has been named membership campaign chairman.

Kingston A.A.U.W. Hears Pianist Give Lecture Recital

A talented young Kingston pianist, Miss Amelia Altamari, who earned her bachelor's degree in piano, and her master's degree in musical research at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, presented a lecture recital Tuesday before the Kingston Chapter of the American Association of University Women. In addition to her studies at the New England Conservatory, Miss Altamari also did graduate work at the Julliard School of Music, New York.

For her program Tuesday night, Miss Altamari used an illustrative technique, playing several works to bring out various technical music points.

First on the program was a Bach chorale, I Call Thee Lord, an excellent example of counterpoint which she described as "note against note." Next came Scarlatti's Sonatina. His music, she pointed out, is faster than Bach's, and is characterized by swiftness and speed. Meanwhile the melody is carried out entirely by the right hand, with the left hand used merely for accompaniment.

The modern Italian composer, Resphigi's Nocturne was played next. Resphigi, she told the group is known for his strong melody, sometimes called program music, frequently for the audience to achieve the proper mental picture, interpretive notes are printed on the program.

Miss Altamari also played three Debussy selections: Engulfed Cathedral, typical of atmospheric music which creates a mood for its audience, achieved here through the chanting of the monks within the cathedral, and the pounding of the sea outside; De Mer, an haberna based on a Spanish theme, meant to create the influence of Spanish music; and The Fireworks, which she classified as a colorful type of music, demonstrating one specific thing, in this case a musical picture of fireworks.

In conclusion, Miss Altamari played a composition of her own, Suite for Piano, with John Ireland's Study in Bells and Sea as an encore.

Her own composition, members of the A.A.U.W. felt, "was quite brilliant, and played with great feeling, while the entire recital showed a great deal of technical facility coupled with complete technical mastery of the piano."

Miss Nan Merriman, Young Mezzo-Soprano, To Close Current Community Concert Series

Miss Nan Merriman, a young American mezzo-soprano, who has been hailed by Paris critics for "a voice of gold and velvet, moving without effort," will bring to a close the '50-'51 Community Concert Association series Monday evening Miss Merriman will appear at 8:30 p. m. in the Kingston High School auditorium.

Miss Merriman, who is American born and trained, has, for a young concert artist, reached many enviable milestones in her music career. During the past season she has sung six times with Arturo Toscanini. On a recent tour she achieved somewhat of a record one month, when she sung with four separate symphony orchestras: the Boston "Pops" Symphony, and the Philadelphia, Oklahoma, and Wichita orchestras. In fact, Miss Merriman is said to be in constant demand for solo appearances with the nation's leading symphonies.

NAN MERRIMAN

Four Hectic Weeks

Probably one of the most hectic interludes in Miss Merriman's career came during the '47-'48 season, when, during a four week period, her schedule called for seven Carnegie hall appearances: three with Stokowski and the New York Philharmonic in de Falla's El Amor Brujo; three with Bruno Walter conducting the same orchestra in Beethoven's Missa Solemnis; and one with Toscanini and the NBC Symphony in Verdi's Requiem.

Miss Merriman, who has appeared with more than 40 orchestras throughout the country, was also chosen by Leonard Bernstein to create the leading role in his Jeremiah Symphony.

Pittsburgh Born

Miss Merriman, a native of Pittsburgh, moved to Los Angeles when she had reached the adolescent age of 15. It wasn't until after she had graduated from high school that she began serious voice study. She worked hard. Daytime found her working as a secretary, while her evenings were spent studying voice and vocalizing. She first won recognition through concert competitions which led to a solo part in the Hollywood Bowl Easter sunrise service.

Two years later the young mezzo-soprano was selected for a role in the Cincinnati Summer Opera opening night performance of La Gioconda. The next year she won the nation-wide competition of the National Federation of Music Clubs, receiving a five year contract with NBC. It was while singing on her broadcasts that she was discovered by Toscanini.

Plans Underway

Although Miss Merriman's concert, which will include selections from the works of Debussy, Bizet, and de Falla, officially closes the local association's current series, plans are already underway for next season.

The Community Concert Association has announced the re-engagement of the Indianapolis Symphony for one concert next year, with Fabien Sevitzsky conducting. Two other concerts are also planned.

Memberships for the concert series, it was announced, may be obtained during the campaign week, May 6 through 13. Mrs. Benjamin W. Johnston, 274 Clinton avenue, has been named membership campaign chairman.

Kingston A.A.U.W. Hears Pianist Give Lecture Recital

A talented young Kingston pianist, Miss Amelia Altamari, who earned her bachelor's degree in piano, and her master's degree in musical research at the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, presented a lecture recital Tuesday before the Kingston Chapter of the American Association of University Women. In addition to her studies at the New England Conservatory, Miss Altamari also did graduate work at the Julliard School of Music, New York.

For her program Tuesday night, Miss Altamari used an illustrative technique, playing several works to bring out various technical music points.

First on the program was a Bach chorale, I Call Thee Lord, an excellent example of counterpoint which she described as "note against note." Next came Scarlatti's Sonatina. His music, she pointed out, is faster than Bach's, and is characterized by swiftness and speed. Meanwhile the melody is carried out entirely by the right hand, with the left hand used merely for accompaniment.

The modern Italian composer, Resphigi's Nocturne was played next. Resphigi, she told the group is known for his strong melody, sometimes called program music, frequently for the audience to achieve the proper mental picture, interpretive notes are printed on the program.

Miss Altamari also played three Debussy selections: Engulfed Cathedral, typical of atmospheric music which creates a mood for its audience, achieved here through the chanting of the monks within the cathedral, and the pounding of the sea outside; De Mer, an haberna based on a Spanish theme, meant to create the influence of Spanish music; and The Fireworks, which she classified as a colorful type of music, demonstrating one specific thing, in this case a musical picture of fireworks.

In conclusion, Miss Altamari played a composition of her own, Suite for Piano, with John Ireland's Study in Bells and Sea as an encore.

Her own composition, members of the A.A.U.W. felt, "was quit brilliant, and played with grea feeling, while the entire recita showed a great deal of technica facility coupled with complet technical mastery of the piano."

Windingstad Leads Dutchess County Symphonic Concert

Memorable was the third concert of the Dutchess County Symphonic Orchestra on March 14 in the Poughkeepsie High School. Ole Windingstad, famous Kingston conductor, conducted Prokofieff's Classic Symphony, Sibelius' The Swan of Tuonela and Finlandia, Wagner's Overture to Lohengrin; two works for soli, female chorus, and orchestra—Debussy's La Demoiselle elue and Grieg's At The Cloister Gate; and the aria "A fors e lui" from Verdi's La Traviata with Shirley Denhardt as the soloist.

As Shirley Denhardt is the winner of last years contest for young virtuosos, the audience was unusually open-eared. Charming and straight-forward, she is a serious and talented musician. If you wanted to be severe, you might object to several things in her performance—her ungraceful posture, her indistinct and incorrect articulation, and the lack of rapture in her singing; but then you remember that, as she is young, she will through study and suffering improve. Indeed in her singing of the Verdi aria she disclosed a fine understanding, a delicacy and a warmth; absorbed in it, she entered into its spirit. Her tone formation was quiet, her breathing economical, and her portamento in her crescendos and diminuendos refined. In this work her execution showed a noble grandeur.

She, and Lucille Talleur, the well-known Kingston singer, and a chorus from the Singers Club, though they sang Debussy's La Demoiselle elue with hesitation, on the whole sang it and the orchestra played it well. They suggested Debussy's charming land of reverie, his mystic-visionary world in which you hear magical tone phantasies. They cast a spell on the audience; a spell that was only snapped by the applause that greeted them.

Shirley Denhardt, Dorothy Watson, and the chorus sang Grieg's At The Cloister Gate with great beauty. They divulged Grieg's deep cordiality and homely truths, his childlike piety, and strangely-moving emotions.

Windingstad and the orchestra specially distinguished themselves in their playing of Sibelius' The Swan of Tuonela and of Finlandia. They made the audience realize that, though Sibelius is sombre, he is never dreary, but exhilarating. Sibelius has both virile strength and womanly tenderness. As he said, he above all loves life, and tries to stamp that feeling on all he writes. The Swan of Tuonela, wistful and of fomenting energy, is a work of haunting loveliness. The audience conjured up Tuonela, the Kingdom of Death of Finnish mythology; it imagined the dismal sheen on the sultry black river, and saw the land of mist and snow; and, as the swan rises from the water, it saw white flakes fall and an elfish light. The orchestra played with feeling and brilliance; specially the English horn player, Martin Leskow.

Sibelius told a German publisher that other composers made cocktails of every description, but that he offered the public pure cold water. But in Finlandia, one suspects, with his pure cold water he mixed a stronger drink.

Prokofieff's Classical Symphony is delightful, and the orchestra played it with excellence. If in this symphony Prokofieff tried to write a work as Haydn (not Mozart, as some people say) might have written it, he did not succeed; nobody could. Prokofieff is sophisticated; he lacks Haydn's charm. But he has two qualities in common with him: manliness and fecundity. The audience, listening to this work, felt its appetite whetted for more; and the same is true of the works of Debussy and Sibelius. Sibelius is 86, Prokofieff 60, and Debussy, if he were alive, would be 89. They are worth knowing.

Windingstad conducted Wagner's Overture to Lohengrin with his usual heartfelt mastery. He is the perfect Wagnerite, and the perfect conductor.—H. S. Leake.

Holland Dutch Are Described Monday For 20th Century

The thrifty, peace-loving, and horticulturally minded Holland Dutch were described for the 20th Century Club Monday afternoon by Mrs. Harry B. Walker, when the group met at the home of Mrs. Herman C. Schwenk, 43 Shufeldt street.

Mrs. Walker emphasized the background and character of the Dutch, and told of their constant struggle to reclaim their often inundated land. Meanwhile, she explained that Dutch means "people," or "folks," and is the vernacular name for the entire Teutonic race.

Turning time back 2000 years, Mrs. Walker explained that the first glimpse we have of the low country comes with Caesar's Gallic Wars, when in 57 B.C. he met their brave, and rather disconcerting resistance.

Erasmus, one of the greatest of the humanists, and an accomplished Renaissance scholar by translating the scriptures made the Netherlands a center of Bible scholarship, the speaker continued.

Meanwhile, Hendrik Hudson, who was sent by the Dutch East India Company to search out a "north-west passage" to India, she continued, unexpectedly discovered the river which bears his name. In consequence, trade vessels from Holland sailed into the port of New York to barter with the Indians.

Dutch Colonists

Later, in 1623, 30 Dutch families landed in New Amsterdam to form the nucleus of the Dutch colony there. Six years later the East India Company granted a charter of privileges for settlers, who were given a liberal land grant to hold as patroons, or "lords of the manor." With this expansion, the entire territory from Canada to Virginia became known as "New Netherlands."

Mrs. Walker then gave many interesting glimpses into the life of the early Dutch settlers.

Mrs. Walker also read a graphic description of the third governor, Van Twiller, written by Washington Irving, and a description of Peter Stuyvesant's farm, the Bouwerie, written by John Fiske.

Maiden Lane Mentioned

Reference was also made, Mrs. Walker continued, to this city's Maiden lane, which is thought to have derived its name from the Dutch damsels' practice of washing their clothes in a rill that ran through the street.

This year, due to Holland's over population, Mrs. Walker explained, reports from the Netherlands indicate over 10,000 persons will migrate to Canada alone. The Dutch government is now giving these immigrants financial assistance, she concluded, and the Canadian government has voted to give them additional aid.

Following Mrs. Walker's report, club members joined in a discussion of world events, conducted by Mrs. Herbert Rhodes, program chairman.

The 20th Century Club will meet again March 26 at the home of Mrs. Robert P. Baylor.

Windingstad Leads Dutchess County Symphonic Concert

Memorable was the third concert of the Dutchess County Symphonic Orchestra on March 14 in the Poughkeepsie High School. Ole Windingstad, famous Kingston conductor, conducted Prokofieff's Classic Symphony, Sibelius' The Swan of Tuonela and Finlandia, Wagner's Overture to Lohengrin; two works for soli, female chorus, and orchestra—Debussy's La Demoiselle elue and Grieg's At The Cloister Gate; and the aria "A fors e lui" from Verdi's La Traviata with Shirley Denhardt as the soloist.

As Shirley Denhardt is the winner of last years contest for young virtuosos, the audience was unusually open-eared. Charming and straight-forward, she is a serious and talented musician. If you wanted to be severe, you might object to several things in her performance—her ungraceful posture, her indistinct and incorrect articulation, and the lack of rapture in her singing; but then you remember that, as she is young, she will through study and suffering improve. Indeed in her singing of the Verdi aria she disclosed a fine understanding, a delicacy and a warmth; absorbed in it, she entered into its spirit. Her tone formation was quiet, her breathing economical, and her portamento in her crescendos and diminuendos refined. In this work her execution showed a noble grandeur.

She, and Lucille Talleur, the well-known Kingston singer, and a chorus from the Singers Club, though they sang Debussy's La Demoiselle elue with hesitation, on the whole sang it and the orchestra played it well. They suggested Debussy's charming land of reverie, his mystic-visionary world in which you hear magical tone phantasies. They cast a spell on the audience; a spell that was only snapped by the applause that greeted them.

Shirley Denhardt, Dorothy Watson, and the chorus sang Grieg's At The Cloister Gate with great beauty. They divulged Grieg's deep cordiality and homely truths, his childlike piety, and strangely-moving emotions.

Windingstad and the orchestra specially distinguished themselves in their playing of Sibelius' The Swan of Tuonela and of Finlandia. They made the audience realize that, though Sibelius is sombre, he is never dreary, but exhilarating. Sibelius has both virile strength and womanly tenderness. As he said, he above all loves life, and tries to stamp that feeling on all he writes. The Swan of Tuonela, wistful and of fomenting energy, is a work of haunting loveliness. The audience conjured up Tuonela, the Kingdom of Death of Finnish mythology; it imagined the dismal sheen on the sultry black river, and saw the land of mist and snow; and, as the swan rises from the water, it saw white flakes fall and an elfish light. The orchestra played with feeling and brilliance; specially the English horn player, Martin Leskow.

Sibelius told a German publisher that other composers made cocktails of every description, but that he offered the public pure cold water. But in Finlandia, one suspects, with his pure cold water he mixed a stronger drink.

Prokofieff's Classical Symphony is delightful, and the orchestra played it with excellence. If in this symphony Prokofieff tried to write a work as Haydn (not Mozart, as some people say) might have written it, he did not succeed; nobody could. Prokofieff is sophisticated; he lacks Haydn's charm. But he has two qualities in common with him: manliness and fecundity. The audience, listening to this work, felt its appetite whetted for more; and the same is true of the works of Debussy and Sibelius. Sibelius is 86, Prokofieff 60, and Debussy, if he were alive, would be 89. They are worth knowing.

Windingstad conducted Wagner's Overture to Lohengrin with his usual heartfelt mastery. He is the perfect Wagnerite, and the perfect conductor.—H. S. Leake.

Holland Dutch Are Described Monday For 20th Century

The thrifty, peace-loving, and horticulturally minded Holland Dutch were described for the 20th Century Club Monday afternoon by Mrs. Harry B. Walker, when the group met at the home of Mrs. Herman C. Schwenk, 43 Shufeldt street.

Mrs. Walker emphasized the background and character of the Dutch, and told of their constant struggle to reclaim their often inundated land. Meanwhile, she explained that Dutch means "people," or "folks," and is the vernacular name for the entire Teutonic race.

Turning time back 2000 years, Mrs. Walker explained that the first glimpse we have of the low country comes with Caesar's Gallic Wars, when in 57 B.C. he met their brave, and rather disconcerting resistance.

Erasmus, one of the greatest of the humanists, and an accomplished Renaissance scholar by translating the scriptures made the Netherlands a center of Bible scholarship, the speaker continued.

Meanwhile, Hendrik Hudson, who was sent by the Dutch East India Company to search out a "north-west passage" to India, she continued, unexpectedly discovered the river which bears his name. In consequence, trade vessels from Holland sailed into the port of New York to barter with the Indians.

Dutch Colonists

Later, in 1623, 30 Dutch families landed in New Amsterdam to form the nucleus of the Dutch colony there. Six years later the East India Company granted a charter of privileges for settlers, who were given a liberal land grant to hold as patroons, or "lords of the manor." With this expansion, the entire territory from Canada to Virginia became known as "New Netherlands."

Mrs. Walker then gave many interesting glimpses into the life of the early Dutch settlers.

Mrs. Walker also read a graphic description of the third governor, Van Twiller, written by Washington Irving, and a description of Peter Stuyvesant's farm, the Bouwerie, written by John Fiske.

Maiden Lane Mentioned

Reference was also made, Mrs. Walker continued, to this city's Maiden lane, which is thought to have derived its name from the Dutch damsels' practice of washing their clothes in a rill that ran through the street.

This year, due to Holland's over population, Mrs. Walker explained, reports from the Netherlands indicate over 10,000 persons will migrate to Canada alone. The Dutch government is now giving these immigrants financial assistance, she concluded, and the Canadian government has voted to give them additional aid.

Following Mrs. Walker's report, club members joined in a discussion of world events, conducted by Mrs. Herbert Rhodes, program chairman.

Pledges Exceed $7,500 Needed to Keep Title

Organized baseball got the green light at the Stuyvesant Hotel last night and a Kingston franchise in the Canadian-American League is today a reality.

Cash on hand and pledges exceeding the required $7,500 was reported at a momentous meeting and Kingston Baseball Club Inc. officials said the citizens of Kingston have given definite indications that they will support the cooperative effort to keep baseball alive here.

Thus the city stays in organized baseball with its fifth franchise since 1947, when the Brooklyn Dodgers installed the first minor league club at municipal stadium.

As soon as the financial success of the recent campaign was assured, Addison Jones, temporary chairman of the new organization, was on the long distance telephone with Hank Camelli, former major league catcher, who will manage the Colonials.

"Camelli has accepted our terms and has already started assembling a ball club," Jones reported near midnight last night. "We will proceed with organizational details as quickly as possible."

Add New Workers

The Stuyvesant meeting was heavily attended and several workers were added to Dave Popick's Committee of Ten.

Popick said public reaction had mounted in the past couple of days and expressed confidence that, now that a franchise is assured, public sale of stock would mushroom.

(A meeting was scheduled at 10 o'clock this morning at Mayor Newkirk's office in the city to map a more intensive financial drive among the city's industry and business circles.)

Last night's meeting was in sharp contrast to the recent weekly gatherings. Chairman Popick's optimistic report quickly set the tempo for a lively, enthusiastic discussion of the city's baseball problem.

"Pledges have started to pour in," Popick told the group, "and we have no doubt that the public is starting to rally behind our drive." He mentioned several stock purchases ranging for the basic $10 share to a couple of $500.

James Rowe, of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting for the first time and pledged the enthusiastic cooperation of his group. George Schneider and Rowe were delegated a committee of two to intensify the subscription campaign among the merchants.

Addison Jones said that Manager Hank Camelli would work from his home in Massachusetts for the next few days but expected to set up his office in Kingston by April 1.

Le Moyne Five Looms As C.I.T. Darkhorse

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Darkhorse Le Moyne loomed today as the team to beat in the National Catholic Invitation basketball tournament.

The Syracuse club, led by Don Savage, knocked off defending champion Siena last night, 57-53.

The victory advanced Le Moyne to the semifinals tomorrow night along with Seattle University.

Seattle moved up by nosing out Iona (N. Y.) 69-67.

Record Saratoga Purse

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The 42 feature harness-horse races on the Saratoga Raceway's fall program will carry a record $74,600 in purses. The 30-night fall meeting will open Sept. 10. Among the top events will be races for two and three-yar-olds, the Raceway announced yesterday.

Juhl Paces C.Y.O. With 22 Markers In Tourney Contest

St. Joseph's Juniors, St. Mary's and St. Joseph's of the Metropolitan Division registered victories in Wednesday night's bracket of games in the Ulster county basketball tournament at the municipal auditorium.

The top scoring exhibition of the night was turned in by young Andy Juhl of the St. Joseph's entry in the Met Division. Juhl, playing center for the Saints, fired in 22 points to lead his club to a 54 to 33 victory over St. Peter's.

With Dempsey and Secreto showing the way with 14 and 12 points respectively, St. Joseph's Juniors toppled St. Colman's of East Kingston by 41 to 20 in a Junior Division engagement.

In the other game, St. Mary's scored a 41 to 26 triumph over St. Joseph's in the Junior Division.

Trailing, 18-15 at halftime, St. Mary's came from behind and held the upper hand in the final two periods of play. Losing Roy McSpirit on fouls, took the starch out of the St. Joseph's club in the last half.

Tonight's schedule includes the junior division semi-final game at 7 p. m. followed at 8 p. m. with St. Mary's (A) playing St. Mary's (B) in the senior division.

Dick Mains and Joe Ferraro sparked the losers with 12 apiece. Berger followed with 11.

After leading by 17-13 at the first period, the Aces increased their lead to 37-30 a halftime and to an even 10 points at the third quarter by 56 to 46.

The winners committed 29 personal fouls and their opponents nearly put them to good use by scoring 18 points via the foul shooting line. The Aces tossed in only six out of 19 attempts.

Individual Duel May Decide NIT; Semis on Tonight

New York, March 15 (AP)—The National Invitation basketball title, in the final reckoning, may hinge on the individual duel tonight between Dayton's brilliant Don Meineke and big Bob Zawoluk of St. John's.

"We certainly look upon Meineke as our main obstacle, the No. 1 problem," said Frank McGuire, young coach of the Redmen from across the East river in New York.

"This game will be decided by Meineke or Zawoluk, whoever controls the foul situation," McGuire said. His biggest fear is that Zawoluk may foul out.

St. John's, top-seeded, will make dark-horse Dayton at 7:45 p. m. (EST) in the first semifinal game of the 14th annual tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Red-hot Seton Hall and Brigham Young, champion of the Skyline Conference, tangle in the other game at 9:30 p. m. The winners clash Saturday for the championship.

Seton Hall, impressive conqueror of high-scoring Beloit and North Carolina State, is rated by rival coaches as the hottest team in the tournament at the moment.

However, St. John's, playing in the friendly confines of the Garden, remains the tournament favorite.

Dayton will provide the test for the No. 1 seeded entry. The Ohioans showed plenty of class and drive in eliminating Lawrence Tech, 77-71, and four-seeded Arizona, 74-68.

Meineke, a six-foot-seven 170-pounder who is also a tremendous rebounder and floor man, scored 30 points in the first game and 37 in the other. His 67-point total makes him high man of the meet.

At the same time, although zealously guarded, he committed only four personal fouls, two in each game.

The tournament is taking a licking at the gate, as the result of the recent gambling scandal that knocked out strong local teams. The first four doubleheaders have attracted 43,120 patrons compared with 71,000 for the same period last year.

St. James Quintet Grabs Fourth Place

St. James won the fourth place playoff from A.Z.A. in the Junior Church League, 35 to 24, in a game in which they led all the way. They were in front 19-14 at halftime.

Schrader was high scorer for St. James with 11 points while Levy's 10 paced the losers.

The score:

A.Z.A. (24)—R. Greenberg f 2, Bahl f 2, Levy f 10, Mandel c 4, Adler g 4, Perlowin g 2.

Bratton Outpoints Fusari in Chicago For Welter Crown

Chicago, March 15 (AP)—The NBA's brand new welterweight champion, Cinderella Kid Johnny Bratton, has a tentative May 4 date to defend his title against Cuba's Kid Gavilan at New York's Madison Square Garden.

But it will be a long time before clout-and-cruise Bratton forgets the bloody 15-round battle with game-to-the-core Charlie Fusari which gave him Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated crown at Chicago Stadium last night.

The fight appeared finished when Bratton, a cute clipper who fights in spurts, whistled a right that knocked Fusari flat on his back in the 10th round. But Fusari rolled over, clutched onto the referee's shirt and hauled himself to his feet at the count of nine.

The gross gate was $42,021.90. The crowd was held down by rain and snow—as well as television. Of the net take of $32,325.52, Bratton and Fusari each collected 27½ per cent, or $8,899, plus $1,500 television fee.

Local Can-Am Loop Franchise Gets Green Light for 1951 Campaign

Pledges Exceed $7,500 Needed to Keep Title

Organized baseball got the green light at the Stuyvesant Hotel last night and a Kingston franchise in the Canadian-American League is today a reality.

Cash on hand and pledges exceeding the required $7,500 was reported at a momentous meeting and Kingston Baseball Club Inc. officials said the citizens of Kingston have given definite indications that they will support the cooperative effort to keep baseball alive here.

Thus the city stays in organized baseball with its fifth franchise since 1947, when the Brooklyn Dodgers installed the first minor league club at municipal stadium.

As soon as the financial success of the recent campaign was assured, Addison Jones, temporary chairman of the new organization, was on the long distance telephone with Hank Camelli, former major league catcher, who will manage the Colonials.

"Camelli has accepted our terms and has already started assembling a ball club," Jones reported near midnight last night. "We will proceed with organizational details as quickly as possible."

Add New Workers

The Stuyvesant meeting was heavily attended and several workers were added to Dave Popick's Committee of Ten.

Popick said public reaction had mounted in the past couple of days and expressed confidence that, now that a franchise is assured, public sale of stock would mushroom.

(A meeting was scheduled at 10 o'clock this morning at Mayor Newkirk's office in the city to map a more intensive financial drive among the city's industry and business circles.)

Last night's meeting was in sharp contrast to the recent weekly gatherings. Chairman Popick's optimistic report quickly set the tempo for a lively, enthusiastic discussion of the city's baseball problem.

"Pledges have started to pour in," Popick told the group, "and we have no doubt that the public is starting to rally behind our drive." He mentioned several stock purchases ranging for the basic $10 share to a couple of $500.

James Rowe, of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting for the first time and pledged the enthusiastic cooperation of his group. George Schneider and Rowe were delegated a committee of two to intensify the subscription campaign among the merchants.

Addison Jones said that Manager Hank Camelli would work from his home in Massachusetts for the next few days but expected to set up his office in Kingston by April 1.

Le Moyne Five Looms As C.I.T. Darkhorse

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Darkhorse Le Moyne loomed today as the team to beat in the National Catholic Invitation basketball tournament.

The Syracuse club, led by Don Savage, knocked off defending champion Siena last night, 57-53.

The victory advanced Le Moyne to the semifinals tomorrow night along with Seattle University.

Seattle moved up by nosing out Iona (N. Y.) 69-67.

Le Moyne and Seattle will meet the winners of tonight's two quarterfinal games.

Record Saratoga Purse

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The 42 feature harness-horse races on the Saratoga Raceway's fall program will carry a record $74,600 in purses. The 30-night fall meeting will open Sept. 10. Among the top events will be races for two and three-yar-olds, the Raceway announced yesterday.

St. Joseph's Juniors, St. Mary's and St. Joseph's of the Metropolitan Division registered victories in Wednesday night's bracket of games in the Ulster county basketball tournament at the municipal auditorium.

The top scoring exhibition of the night was turned in by young Andy Juhl of the St. Joseph's entry in the Met Division. Juhl, playing center for the Saints, fired in 22 points to lead his club to a 54 to 33 victory over St. Peter's.

With Dempsey and Secreto showing the way with 14 and 12 points respectively, St. Joseph's Juniors toppled St. Colman's of East Kingston by 41 to 20 in a Junior Division engagement.

In the other game, St. Mary's scored a 41 to 26 triumph over St. Joseph's in the Junior Division.

Trailing, 18-15 at halftime, St. Mary's came from behind and held the upper hand in the final two periods of play. Losing Roy McSpirit on fouls, took the starch out of the St. Joseph's club in the last half.

Erena and Graney were high for the winners with 13 apiece while Hornbeck tossed in 10 for the losing quintet.

Pledges Exceed $7,500 Needed to Keep Title

Organized baseball got the green light at the Stuyvesant Hotel last night and a Kingston franchise in the Canadian-American League is today a reality.

Cash on hand and pledges exceeding the required $7,500 was reported at a momentous meeting and Kingston Baseball Club Inc. officials said the citizens of Kingston have given definite indications that they will support the cooperative effort to keep baseball alive here.

Thus the city stays in organized baseball with its fifth franchise since 1947, when the Brooklyn Dodgers installed the first minor league club at municipal stadium.

As soon as the financial success of the recent campaign was assured, Addison Jones, temporary chairman of the new organization, was on the long distance telephone with Hank Camelli, former major league catcher, who will manage the Colonials.

"Camelli has accepted our terms and has already started assembling a ball club," Jones reported near midnight last night. "We will proceed with organizational details as quickly as possible."

Add New Workers

The Stuyvesant meeting was heavily attended and several workers were added to Dave Popick's Committee of Ten.

Popick said public reaction had mounted in the past couple of days and expressed confidence that, now that a franchise is assured, public sale of stock would mushroom.

(A meeting was scheduled at 10 o'clock this morning at Mayor Newkirk's office in the city to map a more intensive financial drive among the city's industry and business circles.)

Last night's meeting was in sharp contrast to the recent weekly gatherings. Chairman Popick's optimistic report quickly set the tempo for a lively, enthusiastic discussion of the city's baseball problem.

"Pledges have started to pour in," Popick told the group, "and we have no doubt that the public is starting to rally behind our drive." He mentioned several stock purchases ranging for the basic $10 share to a couple of $500.

James Rowe, of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting for the first time and pledged the enthusiastic cooperation of his group. George Schneider and Rowe were delegated a committee of two to intensify the subscription campaign among the merchants.

Addison Jones said that Manager Hank Camelli would work from his home in Massachusetts for the next few days but expected to set up his office in Kingston by April 1.

Le Moyne and Seattle will meet the winners of tonight's two quarterfinal games.

Juhl Paces C.Y.O. With 22 Markers In Tourney Contest

St. Joseph's Juniors, St. Mary's and St. Joseph's of the Metropolitan Division registered victories in Wednesday night's bracket of games in the Ulster county basketball tournament at the municipal auditorium.

The top scoring exhibition of the night was turned in by young Andy Juhl of the St. Joseph's entry in the Met Division. Juhl, playing center for the Saints, fired in 22 points to lead his club to a 54 to 33 victory over St. Peter's.

With Dempsey and Secreto showing the way with 14 and 12 points respectively, St. Joseph's Juniors toppled St. Colman's of East Kingston by 41 to 20 in a Junior Division engagement.

Gardecki was the big gun for the losers with a dozen markers.

In the other game, St. Mary's scored a 41 to 26 triumph over St. Joseph's in the Junior Division.

Trailing, 18-15 at halftime, St. Mary's came from behind and held the upper hand in the final two periods of play. Losing Roy McSpirit on fouls, took the starch out of the St. Joseph's club in the last half.

Erena and Graney were high for the winners with 13 apiece while Hornbeck tossed in 10 for the losing quintet.

Newkirks Trip Esopus in First 'B' League Playoff Game, 74-62

Individual Duel May Decide NIT; Semis on Tonight

New York, March 15 (AP)—The National Invitation basketball title, in the final reckoning, may hinge on the individual duel tonight between Dayton's brilliant Don Meineke and big Bob Zawoluk of St. John's.

"We certainly look upon Meineke as our main obstacle, the No. 1 problem," said Frank McGuire, young coach of the Redmen from across the East river in New York.

"This game will be decided by Meineke or Zawoluk, whoever controls the foul situation," McGuire said. His biggest fear is that Zawoluk may foul out.

St. John's, top-seeded, will make dark-horse Dayton at 7:45 p. m. (EST) in the first semifinal game of the 14th annual tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Red-hot Seton Hall and Brigham Young, champion of the Skyline Conference, tangle in the other game at 9:30 p. m. The winners clash Saturday for the championship.

Seton Hall, impressive conqueror of high-scoring Beloit and North Carolina State, is rated by rival coaches as the hottest team in the tournament at the moment.

However, St. John's, playing in the friendly confines of the Garden, remains the tournament favorite.

Dayton will provide the test for the No. 1 seeded entry. The Ohioans showed plenty of class and drive in eliminating Lawrence Tech, 77-71, and four-seeded Arizona, 74-68.

Meineke, a six-foot-seven 170-pounder who is also a tremendous rebounder and floor man, scored 30 points in the first game and 37 in the other. His 67-point total makes him high man of the meet.

At the same time, although zealously guarded, he committed only four personal fouls, two in each game.

The tournament is taking a licking at the gate, as the result of the recent gambling scandal that knocked out strong local teams. The first four doubleheaders have attracted 43,120 patrons compared with 71,000 for the same period last year.

St. James Quintet Grabs Fourth Place

St. James won the fourth place playoff from A.Z.A. in the Junior Church League, 35 to 24, in a game in which they led all the way. They were in front 19-14 at halftime.

Schrader was high scorer for St. James with 11 points while Levy's 10 paced the losers.

The score:

A.Z.A. (24)—R. Greenberg f 2, Bahl f 2, Levy f 10, Mandel c 4, Adler g 4, Perlowin g 2.

St. James (35)—Schrader f 11, Chase f 6, Houston c 5, Engle g 7, Davis g 4, Smith g 2.

Smith Leads Scorers With 17 Markers

Capitalizing on the breaks of the ball game, the Newkirk Aces drew first blood in their first best out of three games with the Esopus Firemen for the "B" championship of the Y Basketball League by scoring a 74 to 62 victory Wednesday night.

The two clubs will go at it again in the second and pivotal clash Saturday night at the Y with game time at 8:30. Saturday's prelim will feature the Sixth Ward G.O.P. five and Elston Sports.

Smith Gleans 17

Led by Paul Smith who found the range for 17 points, the Aces jumped off to a 17-13 edge in the first period and continued to hold the upperhand in all the following three quarters of play.

Smith pumped in eight field shots and a foul conversion for his 17 markers.

One point behind was Charlie Farley with 16. Mike McClusky followed with 14.

Dick Mains and Joe Ferraro sparked the losers with 12 apiece. Berger followed with 11.

After leading by 17-13 at the first period, the Aces increased their lead to 37-30 a halftime and to an even 10 points at the third quarter by 56 to 46.

The winners committed 29 personal fouls and their opponents nearly put them to good use by scoring 18 points via the foul shooting line. The Aces tossed in only six out of 19 attempts.

Jackets Dump Chevies

In a postponed game serving as a prelim last night, the Yellow Jackets hammered the Accord Chevies to the tune of 60 to 48.

Bratton Outpoints Fusari in Chicago For Welter Crown

Chicago, March 15 (AP)—The NBA's brand new welterweight champion, Cinderella Kid Johnny Bratton, has a tentative May 4 date to defend his title against Cuba's Kid Gavilan at New York's Madison Square Garden.

But it will be a long time before clout-and-cruise Bratton forgets game-to-the-core Charlie Fusari which gave him Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated crown at Chicago Stadium last night.

A sparse Stadium crowd of 6,954 and millions who viewed it on television saw Bratton gain a split decision over Fusari.

The fight appeared finished when Bratton, a cute clipper who fights in spurts, whistled a right that knocked Fusari flat on his back in the 10th round. But Fusari rolled over, clutched onto the referee's shirt and hauled himself to his feet at the count of nine.

The gross gate was $42,021.90. The crowd was held down by rain and snow—as well as television. Of the net take of $32,325.52, Bratton and Fusari each collected 27½ per cent, or $8,899, plus $1,500 television fee.

1946 Record Year in Can-Am League With P.A.'s Over Half Million Mark

(Third of a Series)

Albert E. Houghton was elected president of the Canadian-American League, succeeding the Rev. Harold J. Martin, at the annual meeting held in Buffalo in 1944. On August 26, 1945, it was decided to resume operations in 1946, and active status was granted on Sept. 1, 1945.

Utica territory was released at the annual meeting held at Quebec, November 11, 1945, and Schenectady was admitted in its place.

The Can-Am resumed active operations in 1946 with the campaign dedicated to the memory of 10 former players who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

The 1946 pennant and playoffs were won by Trois Rivieres (Three Rivers) led by Stanley "Frenchy" Bordagaray, the colorful ex-Gashouse Gang St. Louis Cardinals. Bordagaray, incidentally, was the minor league Leo Durocher, one of the stormiest petrels ever to lace a baseball shoe.

1946 Record Year

For the first time league attendance for a regular season went over the half million mark in 1946. However, Schenectady swept all records in 1947 when their team (backed by the Philadelphia Phillies) also won the pennant and playoffs. Their 146,132 paid attendance for the season and 29,057 for the playoffs helped to swell the league attendance to new high records of 635,569 and 56,739 for a grand total of 692,308.

A ding dong race right down to the last couple of days was the highlight of the 1948 season and again attendance records were broken. Schenectady topped its own record of 1947 by 289; Quebec was only 2,000 behind and Amsterdam attracted over 90,000 fans with a seventh place club.

The 1948 season also resulted in the retirement of the Shuttleworth Trophy. Oneonta with two legs on it by virtue of having won the playoffs in 1941 and 1942, grabbed permanent possession when the club defeated Pittsfield in the finals, four games to one.

A new trophy, similar to the Shuttleworth Cup, was donated by the late Harold Ford in memory of his father and will now be competed for until one team wins the playoffs three times.

The following table furnishes an interesting sidelight on aggregate attendances for the nine-year history of the Can-Am. Amsterdam, the Yankee-owned farm, leads with 490,456 for eight seasons. The figures:

Amsterdam Tops P.A.

Amsterdam (8) 490,456; Gloversville-Johnstown (9) 427,763; Oneonta (6) 321,564; Oswego (4) 82,124; Ottawa (4) 74,769; Pittsfield (5) 803,375; Quebec (5) 389,033; Rome (9) 448,044; Schenectady (8) 374,849; Three Rivers (5) 295,698; Utica (4) 340,468.

The league champions since 1936 in the Can-Am have been:

Kiner Impressive In Infield Role

San Bernardino, March 15 (AP)—It would be a fairly safe bet today that Ralph Kiner has seen the last of the outfield.

The Pittsburgh Pirate slugger looked really good in his debut as a first-baseman against Cleveland here yesterday.

"He's just a natural born glove man, that's all," beamed Manager Billy Meyer after watching the big star scoop a low throw out of the dirt.

"I've said all along that if Zeke Bonura could lead the National League in fielding at first base, Ralph can play it good enough to suit me," Meyer added.

"We need badly to move him over there so we can get some more power into the outfield, and Ralph is willing to do anything that will help. He's a team man."

Kiner is going to try it for at least two weeks in exhibition games, and then a decision will be made. He had no especially hard fielding chances yesterday, but he handled everything thrown at him with ease and grace.

Sandwiching a 234 single around scores of 146 and 183, J. Zeeh led this week's scoring session of the C.Y.O. wheel at the Bowlodrome with a 563 triple.

J. Mitchell finished in the runnerup slot with 204-536; Joe Mahar 203-527; D. Clausi 225-521; Jim Noble 237-519; J. Sweeney 517; G. Smith 200-514; P. Nagy 213-511 and George Kearney 507.

Apparently that trip to the Journal-American tournament in New York didn't take the edge off Rose Schatzel's pin-busting.

She was back at grabbing headlines again in the Colonial Women's loop at the Bowlatorium Wednesday night with a nifty 234 opener and a 558 three-timer. Her other counts were 166 and 158.

Tied for second place were Dot Flemings with 201-547 and Tess Moss with a pair of 190s and 547.

Betty Schoonmaker rolled 521; Charlotte Lapine 519; Doris Wolff 510; Beverly Port 507 and Betty Bruck 500.

Just missing the coveted 500 circle were Evelyn Gross with 499; Bessie Lynn 498; Mary Wyant 492; Miriam Posner 207-488; Marge Jansen 485; B. Shipman 201-477; Mary Bonacci 474; Dot Rawding 474; Sue Heins 472; Chrissie Wilson 471; Grace Wojciechowski 470.

Tossing games of 167-136-165, Angeline Brocco led the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's circuit with a 468 triple.

Sally Kuehn hit 456; Betty Cadden 448; Shirley Collins 441; Rosemary Murphy 441.

Front-running the Y Federation American League Wednesday night was LeRoy Brown who carved himself scores of 179-198-154 for a 531 triple.

Harold Pine clicked for 204-522; H. Schussler 520; Chet Weeks 511; Herm Osmers 510; Don Weeks 509.

Craig "Commodore" Plough and Ferd Short topped the near-misses with 495 and 494 respectively.

Besides showing the way in the top triple department, Brown converted the tricky 4-7-10 split to add to his laurels for the night.

Stacking consistent games of 155-146-147, Val Janeczek led the pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League at the Bowlodrome on Wednesday night with a 448 series.

Kay Roosa finished second with 435; T. Hasbrouck 429; S. Corrado 426 and D. LaRocca 402.

To Enforce Balk Rule

Tampa, Fla., March 15 (AP)—From now on, says the Baseball Rules Committee, umpires will keep eyes absolutely sharp for violations of the controversial balk rule. The committee decided as a seven-hour session yesterday to retain the rule that caused plenty of tangles between umpires and pitchers during the 1950 season. All members of the seven-man group decided in favor of the rule despite some agitation to toss it out. The rule caused plenty of confusion early last season but later the outcry fell off.

Mangrum Sweeps Play

Palm Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, golf's leading money winner of 1951, picked up another $2,500 yesterday when he made a clean sweep of the $10,000 Seminole golf tournament. Mangrum finished the 54-hole pro competition with a record score of 203 to win $1,500, top money and teamed with Edward B. McLean to pick up another $1,000 in the pro-member division. Mangrum played the 6,873-yard Seminole golf club course where par is 36-36—72 in rounds of 69, 67 and 67 to beat par by 13 strokes and break the record set last year by Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., who posted a 207.

ding dong-race right down to last couple of days was the hlight of the 1948 season and again attendance records were broken. Schenectady topped its own record of 1947 by 289; Quebec was only 2,000 behind and Amsterdam attracted over 90,000 fans with a seventh place club.

The 1948 season also resulted in the retirement of the Shuttleworth Trophy. Oneonta with two legs on it by virtue of having won the playoffs in 1941 and 1942, grabbed permanent possession when the club defeated Pittsfield in the finals, four games to one.

A new trophy, similar to the Shuttleworth Cup, was donated by the late Harold Ford in memory of his father and will now be competed for until one team wins the playoffs three times.

The following table furnishes an interesting sidelight on aggregate attendances for the nine-year history of the Can-Am. Amsterdam, the Yankee-owned farm, leads with 490,456 for eight seasons. The figures:

Amsterdam Tops P.A.

Amsterdam (8) 490,456; Gloversville-Johnstown (9) 427,763; Oneonta (6) 321,564; Oswego (4) 82,124; Ottawa (4) 74,769; Pittsfield (5) 303,375; Quebec (5) 389,033; Rome (9) 448,044; Schenectady (3) 374,849; Three Rivers (5) 295,698; Utica (4) 340,468.

The league champions since 1936 in the Can-Am have been:

Kiner Impressive In Infield Role

San Bernardino, March 15 (AP)—It would be a fairly safe bet today that Ralph Kiner has seen the last of the outfield.

The Pittsburgh Pirate slugger looked really good in his debut as a first-baseman against Cleveland here yesterday.

"He's just a natural born glove man, that's all," beamed Manager Billy Meyer after watching the big star scoop a low throw out of the dirt.

"I've said all along that if Zeke Bonura could lead the National League in fielding at first base, Ralph can play it good enough to suit me," Meyer added.

"We need badly to move him over there so we can get some more power into the outfield, and Ralph is willing to do anything that will help. He's a team man."

Kiner is going to try it for at least two weeks in exhibition games, and then a decision will be made. He had no especially hard fielding chances yesterday, but he handled everything thrown at him with ease and grace.

Sandwiching a 234 single around scores of 146 and 183, J. Zeeh led this week's scoring session of the C.Y.O. wheel at the Bowlodrome with a 563 triple.

J. Mitchell finished in the runnerup slot with 204-536; Joe Mahar 203-527; D. Clausi 225-521; Jim Noble 237-519; J. Sweeney 517; G. Smith 200-514; P. Nagy 213-511 and George Kearney 507.

Apparently that trip to the Journal-American tournament in New York didn't take the edge off Rose Schatzel's pin-busting.

She was back at grabbing headlines again in the Colonial Women's loop at the Bowlatorium Wednesday night with a nifty 234 opener and a 558 three-timer. Her other counts were 166 and 158.

Tied for second place were Dot Flemings with 201-547 and Tess Moss with a pair of 190s and 547.

Betty Schoonmaker rolled 521; Charlotte Lapine 519; Doris Wolff 510; Beverly Port 507 and Betty Bruck 500.

Just missing the coveted 500 circle were Evelyn Gross with 499; Bessie Lynn 498; Mary Wyant 492; Miriam Posner 207-488; Marge Jansen 485; B. Shipman 201-477; Mary Bonacci 474; Dot Rawding 474; Sue Heins 472; Chrissie Wilson 471; Grace Wojciechowski 470.

Tossing games of 167-136-165, Angeline Brocco led the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's circuit with a 468 triple.

Sally Kuehn hit 456; Betty Cadden 448; Shirley Collins 441; Rosemary Murphy 441.

Front-running the Y Federation American League Wednesday night was LeRoy Brown who carved himself scores of 179-198-154 for a 531 triple.

Harold Pine clicked for 204-522; H. Schussler 520; Chet Weeks 511; Herm Osmers 510; Don Weeks 509.

Craig "Commodore" Plough and Ferd Short topped the near-misses with 495 and 494 respectively.

Besides showing the way in the top triple department, Brown converted the tricky 4-7-10 split to add to his laurels for the night.

Stacking consistent games of 155-146-147, Val Janeczek led the pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League at the Bowlodrome on Wednesday night with a 448 series.

Kay Roosa finished second with 435; T. Hasbrouck 429; S. Corrado 426 and D. LaRocca 402.

To Enforce Balk Rule

Tampa, Fla., March 15 (AP)—From now on, says the Baseball Rules Committee, umpires will keep eyes absolutely sharp for violations of the controversial balk rule. The committee decided as a seven-hour session yesterday to retain the rule that caused plenty of tangles between umpires and pitchers during the 1950 season. All members of the seven-man group decided in favor of the rule despite some agitation to toss it out. The rule caused plenty of confusion early last season but later the outcry fell off.

Mangrum Sweeps Play

Palm Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, golf's leading money winner of 1951, picked up another $2,500 yesterday when he made a clean sweep of the $10,000 Seminole golf tournament. Mangrum finished the 54-hole pro competition with a record score of 203 to win $1,500, top money and teamed with Edward B. McLean to pick up another $1,000 in the pro-member division. Mangrum played the 6,873-yard Seminole golf club course where par is 36-36—72 in rounds of 69, 67 and 67 to beat par by 13 strokes and break the record set last year by Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., who posted a 207.

1946 Record Year in Can-Am League With P.A.'s Over Half Million Mark

(Third of a Series)

Albert E. Houghton was elected president of the Canadian-American League, succeeding the Rev. Harold J. Martin, at the annual meeting held in Buffalo in 1944. On August 26, 1945, it was decided to resume operations in 1946, and active status was granted on Sept. 1, 1945.

Utica territory was released at the annual meeting held at Quebec, November 11, 1945, and Schenectady was admitted in its place.

The Can-Am resumed active operations in 1946 with the campaign dedicated to the memory of 10 former players who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II.

The 1946 pennant and playoffs were won by Trois Rivieres (Three Rivers) led by Stanley "Frenchy" Bordagaray, the colorful ex-Gashouse Gang St. Louis Cardinals. Bordagaray, incidentally, was the minor league Leo Durocher, one of the stormiest petrels ever to lace a baseball shoe.

1946 Record Year

For the first time league attendance for a regular season went over the half million mark in 1946. However, Schenectady swept all records in 1947 when their team (backed by the Philadelphia Phillies) also won the pennant and playoffs. Their 146,132 paid attendance for the season and 29,057 for the playoffs helped to swell the league attendance to new high records of 635,569 and 56,739 for a grand total of 692,308.

A ding dong race right down to the last couple of days was the highlight of the 1948 season and again attendance records were broken. Schenectady topped its own record of 1947 by 289; Quebec was only 2,000 behind and Amsterdam attracted over 90,000 fans with a seventh place club.

The 1948 season also resulted in the retirement of the Shuttleworth Trophy. Oneonta with two legs on it by virtue of having won the playoffs in 1941 and 1942, grabbed permanent possession when the club defeated Pittsfield in the finals, four games to one.

A new trophy, similar to the Shuttleworth Cup, was donated by the late Harold Ford in memory of his father and will now be competed for until one team wins the playoffs three times.

The following table furnishes an interesting sidelight on aggregate attendances for the nine-year history of the Can-Am. Amsterdam, the Yankee-owned farm, leads with 490,456 for eight seasons. The figures:

Amsterdam Tops P.A.

Amsterdam (8) 490,456; Gloversville-Johnstown (9) 427,763; Oneonta (6) 321,564; Oswego (4) 82,124; Ottawa (4) 74,769; Pittsfield (5) 303,375; Quebec (5) 389,033; Rome (9) 448,044; Schenectady (3) 374,849; Three Rivers (5) 295,698; Utica (4) 340,468.

The league champions since 1936 in the Can-Am have been:

Kiner Impressive In Infield Role

San Bernardino, March 15 (AP)—It would be a fairly safe bet today that Ralph Kiner has seen the last of the outfield.

The Pittsburgh Pirate slugger looked really good in his debut as a first-baseman against Cleveland here yesterday.

"He's just a natural born glove man, that's all," beamed Manager Billy Meyer after watching the big star scoop a low throw out of the dirt.

"I've said all along that if Zeke Bonura could lead the National League in fielding at first base, Ralph can play it good enough to suit me," Meyer added.

"We need badly to move him over there so we can get some more power into the outfield, and Ralph is willing to do anything that will help. He's a team man."

Kiner is going to try it for at least two weeks in exhibition games, and then a decision will be made. He had no especially hard fielding chances yesterday, but he handled everything thrown at him with ease and grace.

Sandwiching a 234 single around scores of 146 and 183, J. Zeeh led this week's scoring session of the C.Y.O. wheel at the Bowlodrome with a 563 triple.

J. Mitchell finished in the runnerup slot with 204-536; Joe Mahar 203-527; D. Clausi 225-521; Jim Noble 237-519; J. Sweeney 517; G. Smith 200-514; P. Nagy 213-511 and George Kearney 507.

Apparently that trip to the Journal-American tournament in New York didn't take the edge off Rose Schatzel's pin-busting.

She was back at grabbing headlines again in the Colonial Women's loop at the Bowlatorium Wednesday night with a nifty 234 opener and a 558 three-timer. Her other counts were 166 and 158.

Tied for second place were Dot Flemings with 201-547 and Tess Moss with a pair of 190s and 547.

Betty Schoonmaker rolled 521; Charlotte Lapine 519; Doris Wolff 510; Beverly Port 507 and Betty Bruck 500.

Just missing the coveted 500 circle were Evelyn Gross with 499; Bessie Lynn 498; Mary Wyant 492; Miriam Posner 207-488; Marge Jansen 485; B. Shipman 201-477; Mary Bonacci 474; Dot Rawding 474; Sue Heins 472; Chrissie Wilson 471; Grace Wojciechowski 470.

Tossing games of 167-136-165, Angeline Brocco led the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's circuit with a 468 triple.

Sally Kuehn hit 456; Betty Cadden 448; Shirley Collins 441; Rosemary Murphy 441.

Front-running the Y Federation American League Wednesday night was LeRoy Brown who carved himself scores of 179-198-154 for a 531 triple.

Harold Pine clicked for 204-522; H. Schussler 520; Chet Weeks 511; Herm Osmers 510; Don Weeks 509.

Craig "Commodore" Plough and Ferd Short topped the near-misses with 495 and 494 respectively.

Besides showing the way in the top triple department, Brown converted the tricky 4-7-10 split to add to his laurels for the night.

Stacking consistent games of 155-146-147, Val Janeczek led the pinfall in the Pioneer Women's League at the Bowlodrome on Wednesday night with a 448 series.

Kay Roosa finished second with 435; T. Hasbrouck 429; S. Corrado 426 and D. LaRocca 402.

To Enforce Balk Rule

Tampa, Fla., March 15 (AP)—From now on, says the Baseball Rules Committee, umpires will keep eyes absolutely sharp for violations of the controversial balk rule. The committee decided as a seven-hour session yesterday to retain the rule that caused plenty of tangles between umpires and pitchers during the 1950 season. All members of the seven-man group decided in favor of the rule despite some agitation to toss it out. The rule caused plenty of confusion early last season but later the outcry fell off.

Mangrum Sweeps Play

Palm Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, golf's leading money winner of 1951, picked up another $2,500 yesterday when he made a clean sweep of the $10,000 Seminole golf tournament. Mangrum finished the 54-hole pro competition with a record score of 203 to win $1,500, top money and teamed with Edward B. McLean to pick up another $1,000 in the pro-member division. Mangrum played the 6,873-yard Seminole golf club course where par is 36-36—72 in rounds of 69, 67 and 67 to beat par by 13 strokes and break the record set last year by Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., who posted a 207.

Dental Clinics Set at New Paltz

A series of dental clinics for pre-school children will be held at the health center in New Paltz, according to Dr. Robert H. Broad, commissioner of health for Ulster county, who said that parents of children between three and five years of age should make appointments in advance.

Schedule of the clinics:

Wednesday, March 21—Appointments are being accepted for this date at New Paltz, phone 5251.

Thursday, March 22—Appointments may be made by \phoning New Paltz 8153.

Monday, March 26—Appointments may be made by phoning New Paltz 4971.

In the clinics children will have their teeth examined and arrangements made for the application of sodium fluoride to aid in prevention of tooth decay.

Supervisors Room Painted

When the board of supervisors meets Friday evening at 8 o'clock the county legislators will find the supervisors' meeting room newly painted and decorated. During the past several days County Purchasing Agent Joseph Gentile had had men working giving the supervisors' chamber a thorough cleaning. The desks, which formerly were fastened to the floor, have been made movable so that they may be removed when the board is not in session and the room used for other meetings by substitution of chairs to handle largely attended meetings.

Training Camp News in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Rookie Impresses Casey

(N.Y.) Phoenix, Ariz., March 15 (AP)—Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, is impressed with the play of rookie hird baseman Gil McDougald.

McDougald, most valuable player in the Texas League last season, has played every inning in the Yanks four exhibition games. He hit safely in every game for a .352 average, but his six hits were all singles.

Stengel, nevertheless, is looking at the youngster with much concern, since one of his regular third basemen, Bobby Brown, is enterning at a hospital and may not be available for duty this season.

Flu Hits Bankhead

(N.Y.) St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Hardest worker in the Brooklyn Dodgers training camp is the flu bug. He's bitten many of the players, including Manager Chuck Dressen.

The latest to fall victim to Mr. Bug is Dan Bankhead. The strong righthander was bedded yesterday by the virus, but his case isn't considered serious. He's expected to be out of action a week, however.

Giants Name Aces

(N.Y.) Miami, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Larry Jansen, Dave Koslo and Sal Maglie—three of Leo Durocher's better moundsmen—will pitch for the New York Giants today against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Giants will be attempting to even the count with the National League champions, who whipped them yesterday, 7-6.

Kinder on Sidelines

Sarasota, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Pitcher Ellis Kinder will be forced to take it easy for the second time as the Boston Red Sox have a day off from spring time exhibition baseball today.

Kinder who earlier suffered a flu attack, was struck on the right forearm by a Buddy Rosar line drive yesterday in batting practice. Trainer Jack Fadden thinks Kinder will be out for about four days.

Spahn's Arm Better

Brandenton, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Warren Spahn seems to be recovering from his first sore arm. The Boston Braves' lefthanded pitcher hurled 10 minutes of batting practice yesterday before the Tribe left Sarasota to play the Red Sox.

Today the Braves play a "home game" against the St. Louis Cardinals. Manager Billy Southworth lists his pitchers as Charlie Gorin, Art Fowler and Bob Chipman.

Homers Did Trick

Clearwater, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The New York Giants will send Larry Jansen against the Philadelphia Phillies today in a bid to even the spring training series with the National League champions.

Opposing Jansen will be Ken Heintzelman, the Phils lefty who has shown signs of regaining the form that made him a 17-game winner in 1949.

The Phils beat the Giants in the first meeting between the clubs yesterday, 7-6, on successive home runs by Eddie Waitkus and Richie Ashburn, Waitkus' blow coming with the bases loaded.

Feller Shows Wares

Pasadena, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Bob Feller, the No. 2 Bob in terms of money on Cleveland's roster, will try to show Manager Al Lopez today that he's worth his fancy salary, too.

The Indians' No. 1 Bob—Bob Lemon—put on a pretty good show for Lopez his first time out yesterday. Against the Pittsburgh Pirates, he hit a two-run homer to make up for the two runs he allowed in four innings.

Feller, who, like Lemon, makes around $50,000, pitches his first game of the season this afternoon against the Chicago White Sox.

Barbara to Leave Mexico

Mexico City, March 15 (AP)—Barbara Hutton, wan and disappointed, arranged to leave Mexico tonight after losing her try for a quick divorce. Whether she will keep on trying to divorce Prince Igor Troubetskoy, or will seek some other solution to her troubles was a question. Friends reported she had not decided on her next move. She appeared to have three choices — to continue the fight in Cuernavaca court, to file suit in some other country (her husband's lawyers say that is impossible while the Cuernavaca action is pending) or to arrange with the prince for an uncontested divorce.

149 Millions Spent

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Construction and improvement of highways and state institutions cost the Public Works Department $149,415,665 last year. The department reported yesterday that contracts for highway, thruway and parkway work totaled $1,999,042. Construction, rehabilitation and repair of state-owned hospitals, schools, prisons and other facilities amounted to $57,416,623. Urban arterial route construction, including work in 10 upstate cities, cost more than $30,000,000 and work on the cross-state thruway required about $17,500,000.

Hasbrouck Same

The condition of John Hasbrouck, 38, of 48 Broadway, is "about the same," it was reported this morning by authorities at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie. Hasbrouck was placed on the hospital's critical list shortly after his admission there Sunday night with injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Hyde Park, according to the Dutchess county sheriff's office.

Supervisors Room Painted

When the board of supervisors meets Friday evening at 8 o'clock the county legislators will find the supervisors' meeting room newly painted and decorated. During the past several days County Purchasing Agent Joseph Gentile had had men working giving the supervisors' chamber a thorough cleaning. The desks, which formerly were fastened to the floor, have been made movable so that they may be removed when the board is not in session and the room used for other meetings by substitution of chairs to handle largely attended meetings.

McDougald, most valuable player in the Texas League last season, has played every inning in the Yanks four exhibition games. He hit safely in every game for a .352 average, but his six hits were all singles.

Stengel, nevertheless, is looking at the youngster with much concern, since one of his regular third basemen, Bobby Brown, is enterning at a hospital and may not be available for duty this season.

Flu Hits Bankhead

(N.Y.) St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Hardest worker in the Brooklyn Dodgers training camp is the flu bug. He's bitten many of the players, including Manager Chuck Dressen.

The latest to fall victim to Mr. Bug is Dan Bankhead. The strong righthander was bedded yesterday by the virus, but his case isn't considered serious. He's expected to be out of action a week, however.

Giants Name Aces

(N.Y.) Miami, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Larry Jansen, Dave Koslo and Sal Maglie—three of Leo Durocher's better moundsmen—will pitch for the New York Giants today against the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Giants will be attempting to even the count with the National League champions, who whipped them yesterday, 7-6.

Kinder on Sidelines

Sarasota, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Pitcher Ellis Kinder will be forced to take it easy for the second time as the Boston Red Sox have a day off from spring time exhibition baseball today.

Kinder who earlier suffered a flu attack, was struck on the right forearm by a Buddy Rosar line drive yesterday in batting practice. Trainer Jack Fadden thinks Kinder will be out for about four days.

Spahn's Arm Better

Brandenton, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Warren Spahn seems to be recovering from his first sore arm. The Boston Braves' lefthanded pitcher hurled 10 minutes of batting practice yesterday before the Tribe left Sarasota to play the Red Sox.

Today the Braves play a "home game" against the St. Louis Cardinals. Manager Billy Southworth lists his pitchers as Charlie Gorin, Art Fowler and Bob Chipman.

Homers Did Trick

Clearwater, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The New York Giants will send Larry Jansen against the Philadelphia Phillies today in a bid to even the spring training series with the National League champions.

Opposing Jansen will be Ken Heintzelman, the Phils lefty who has shown signs of regaining the form that made him a 17-game winner in 1949.

The Phils beat the Giants in the first meeting between the clubs yesterday, 7-6, on successive home runs by Eddie Waitkus and Richie Ashburn, Waitkus' blow coming with the bases loaded.

Feller Shows Wares

Pasadena, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Bob Feller, the No. 2 Bob in terms of money on Cleveland's roster, will try to show Manager Al Lopez today that he's worth his fancy salary, too.

The Indians' No. 1 Bob—Bob Lemon—put on a pretty good show for Lopez his first time out yesterday. Against the Pittsburgh Pirates, he hit a two-run homer to make up for the two runs he allowed in four innings.

Feller, who, like Lemon, makes around $50,000, pitches his first game of the season this afternoon against the Chicago White Sox.

Barbara to Leave Mexico

Mexico City, March 15 (AP)—Barbara Hutton, wan and disappointed, arranged to leave Mexico tonight after losing her try for a quick divorce. Whether she will keep on trying to divorce Prince Igor Troubetskoy, or will seek some other solution to her troubles was a question. Friends reported she had not decided on her next move. She appeared to have three choices — to continue the fight in Cuernavaca court, to file suit in some other country (her husband's lawyers say that is impossible while the Cuernavaca action is pending) or to arrange with the prince for an uncontested divorce.

149 Millions Spent

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—Construction and improvement of highways and state institutions cost the Public Works Department $149,415,665 last year. The department reported yesterday that contracts for highway, thruway and parkway work totaled $1,999,042. Construction, rehabilitation and repair of state-owned hospitals, schools, prisons and other facilities amounted to $57,416,623. Urban arterial route construction, including work in 10 upstate cities, cost more than $30,000,000 and work on the cross-state thruway required about $17,500,000.

Supervisors Room Painted

When the board of supervisors meets Friday evening at 8 o'clock the county legislators will find the supervisors' meeting room newly painted and decorated. During the past several days County Purchasing Agent Joseph Gentile had had men working giving the supervisors' chamber a thorough cleaning. The desks, which formerly were fastened to the floor, have been made movable so that they may be removed when the board is not in session and the room used for other meetings by substitution of chairs to handle largely attended meetings.

Woman's Relatives Sought

Local police were requested Wednesday afternoon to locate relatives of a girl whose name was given at Pat Gallo, 28, who was reported in an Albany Hospital "in very serious condition." The message said the girl claimed to have a brother in Kingston. After considerable effort Police Sgts. James Cullum and Lemuel Howard today located an aunt in this city, who said she would notify the girl's mother at Margaretville.

Borrowers Fear RFC

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), denounced in Congress and subject of a grand jury investigation, reported today borrowers now fear to approach it for loans. "The RFC is like a morgue," said C. Edward Rowe, a member of the huge government lending agency's board of directors. He told a reporter business men are evidently afraid to apply to RFC for loans lest, somehow, they find their names in headlines.

Controls Are Voted

Albany, N. Y., March 15 (AP)—The Legislature voted today to continue business and commercial rent controls for New York city for another year, until July 1, 1952. Final action came in the Assembly and the measures were sent to Governor Dewey for expected approval.

Invited to Tea

Kuala Lumpur (AP)—Communist terrorists who lay down their arms and surrender to the British are being entertained at tea by the Selangor branch of the Malayan Chinese association. Six former terrorists, recent guests of the association, said they had found that British government authorities had given them freedom, clothing and food after surrendering.

'Croc' Chases Swimmers

Sydney (AP)—A crocodile chased swimmers out of the sea at Kemp Beach, near Rockhampton, 500 miles north of Brisbane. The crocodile, about 12 feet long, surfaced 10 feet from a woman. She ran from the water screaming "crocodile." Other swimmers followed. A police constable followed the crocodile out to sea in a boat, fired eight shots at it before it disappeared.

WOODSTOCK

By Richard Thibaut, Jr.

Collect for Organ

Woodstock, March 15 — The Woodstock Methodist Church has established an organ fund for the purpose of purchasing a Hammond organ. Donations to this fund are being received by the Rev. Charles Wharton, Mervin Doremus, or Harold Reynolds.

A helicopter can seed 2,000 acres of forest land in a day compared to one acre by a man.

PANDA-MONIUM—That's what probably will reign at the American Toy Fair in New York, where this six-foot-six-inch, 100-pound giant panda will be exhibited. Said to be the biggest stuffed toy ever made, the panda dwarfs Airline Stewardess Janice Cleary on his arrival at La-Guardia Field from California.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 15 (AP)—Acute weakness in prices developed today in the stock market and cut off all attempts at a rally.

Losses ran to nearly two dollars a share with some of the higher priced issues losing even more ground. Gains were held in a range of a few cents to around a dollar a share.

The volume of business ran at the comparatively heavy rate of around 2,000,000 shares for the entire day, but there was no concentrated selling pressure such as developed at the close yesterday.

The market started the day by stepping out with a brisk advance centered in the rails, radio-televisions, air lines and steels.

But just before noon the market weakened, selling mounted, and stocks backed down from their best points of the day and swung over to the losing side.

Stocks on the downside were Baltimore & Ohio, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil (N. J.), Lehigh Portland Cement, Kennecott Copper, American Cyanamid, Dow Chemical, American Woolen, International Paper, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, and Schenley.

So-called peace rumors, which found favor in Wall Street yesterday and became a factor in the late break of the market, again were being circulated today in the street. No confirmation of any of the rumors was offered.

Ratification Needed

Boston, March 15 (AP)—Only ratification by the workers was needed today to end the month-old strike of 70,000 C.I.O. woolen and worsted workers. The policy committee and advisory board of the Textile Workers Union of America yesterday approved a tentative agreement with the American Woolen Company. The union said the agreement calls for a pay increase of 12 cents an hour, plus an escalator clause based on the government consumer price index and other benefits.

Pennies Are Needed

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The government wants people to put their piggy-bank hoards of pennies into circulation so it won't have to use up vital copper coining new ones. Mrs. Nellie Ross, director of the mint, issued a formal appeal to that effect today, noting that "millions" of pennies are "believed to be stored in piggy-banks, sugar bowls and bureau drawers of American homes." Booming business has created a heavy demand for pennies and other coins.

Swallows, night-hawks, whip-poor-wills and some other birds have weak legs and walk with difficulty.

The wedding was completed at 10:25 a. m. (EST) at Mrs. Ross' home on fashionable Sunset Island No. 1. It was the fourth marriage for each. Roosevelt came out of the house, smiling broadly, immediately after the brief service, and invited newsmen and photographers to follow him around the house to a back lawn facing the water, where his yacht, Storm King II, was anchored.

'Croc' Chases Swimmers

Sydney (AP)—A crocodile chased swimmers out of the sea at Kemp Beach, near Rockhampton, 500 miles north of Brisbane. The crocodile, about 12 feet long, surfaced 10 feet from a woman. She ran from the water screaming "crocodile." Other swimmers followed. A police constable followed the crocodile out to sea in a boat, fired eight shots at it before it disappeared.

PANDA-MONIUM—That's what probably will reign at the American Toy Fair in New York, where this six-foot-six-inch, 100-pound giant panda will be exhibited. Said to be the biggest stuffed toy ever made, the panda dwarfs Airline Stewardess Janice Cleary on his arrival at LaGuardia Field from California.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 15 (AP)—Acute weakness in prices developed today in the stock market and cut off all attempts at a rally.

Losses ran to nearly two dollars a share with some of the higher priced issues losing even more ground. Gains were held in a range of a few cents to around a dollar a share.

The volume of business ran at the comparatively heavy rate of around 2,000,000 shares for the entire day, but there was no concentrated selling pressure such as developed at the close yesterday.

The market started the day by stepping out with a brisk advance centered in the rails, radio-televisions, air lines and steels.

But just before noon the market weakened, selling mounted, and stocks backed down from their best points of the day and swung over to the losing side.

Stocks on the downside were Baltimore & Ohio, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil (N. J.), Lehigh Portland Cement, Kennecott Copper, American Cyanamid, Dow Chemical, American Woolen, International Paper, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Studebaker, U. S. Rubber, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, and Schenley.

So-called peace rumors, which found favor in Wall Street yesterday and became a factor in the late break of the market, again were being circulated today in the street. No confirmation of any of the rumors was offered.

Ratification Needed

Boston, March 15 (AP)—Only ratification by the workers was needed today to end the month-old strike of 70,000 C.I.O. woolen and worsted workers. The policy committee and advisory board of the Textile Workers Union of America yesterday approved a tentative agreement with the American Woolen Company. The union said the agreement calls for a pay increase of 12 cents an hour, plus an escalator clause based on the government consumer price index and other benefits.

Pennies Are Needed

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The government wants people to put their piggy-bank hoards of pennies into circulation so it won't have to use up vital copper coining new ones. Mrs. Nellie Ross, director of the mint, issued a formal appeal to that effect today, noting that "millions" of pennies are "believed to be stored in piggy-banks, sugar bowls and bureau drawers of American homes." Booming business has created a heavy demand for pennies and other coins.

Swallows, night-hawks, whip-poor-wills and some other birds have weak legs and walk with difficulty.

Roosevelt came out of the house, smiling broadly, immediately after the brief service, and invited newsmen and photographers to follow him around the house to a back lawn facing the water, where his yacht, Storm King II, was anchored.
